JUDGE HADLEY Calls Attention to New Law

At this morning's session of the police court, Judge Hadley called the attention of the lawyers and newspapermen to the fact that a new law relative to the neglect of wife or minor child or children would go into effect on June 17th, whereby if in the discretion of the judge the offender was sentenced to a jail or other institution he could be put to work and a sum equal to 50 cents per day be paid over to the probation officer at the end of each week, that money to be used for the care of the wife or minor child or children in case that either or all are in destitute circumstances.

Heretofore Judge Hadley in dealing with non support cases, while having the power to send the man to jail, deemed it advisable to place the offender in the custody of the probation officer, for in the event of the man being sent to jail his wife and family would suffer. In many cases the offender after being placed on probation has left town or refused to contribute support. Now, however, if there is any doubt that the offender will not work he can be sent to jail and the wife is sure of securing $3 per week.

REAR-END CRASH

Freight Trains Were in Collision at Lockwood's Crossing

Some Members of Train Crew Missing—Four Persons Were Seriously Injured—Boiler of One of the Engines Exploded

FAIRFIELD, Conn., June 7.—Five lives are known to have been lost as a result of a peculiar train wreck involving four freight trains at Lockwood's crossing on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad a mile west of this town late last night. Several trainmen were injured, four so seriously that they were removed to hospitals and it was reported this forenoon that some of the members of the train crews were missing.

The dead:

WILLIAM LAURIE, engineer, Hartford.

ROBERT GATES, fireman, New London.

ROBERT BEACH, engineer, New London.

HOFFMAN, brakeman, Fireman—unknown.

The more seriously injured:

Charles Fox, fireman, New Haven, taken to Bridgeport hospital, broken ribs, contusions of scalp, internal injuries.

Oliver Huff, 41 years old, taken to St. Vincent's hospital, Bridgeport, contusion of North Vernon, N. Y., both legs broken, internal injuries.

Daniel Hamilton, brakeman, Meriden, Mass., St. Vincent hospital, extent of injuries not known.

Michael Walsh, 383 East 105th street, New York, probably internal injuries.

How the accident happened has not been definitely determined, but it is believed that one of the two east-bound freights stopped on account of a hotbox and that an extra, following close behind, crashed into it. The last collision was followed almost instantly by the explosion of the boiler of one of the engines.

The crash occurred about a quarter of a mile west of the town, at what is known as Lockwood's crossing. The explosion of the engine set the wreckage on fire and it was put out only on the arrival of the Fairfield fire department. Wreckage was strewn over all the four tracks and in the middle of it was a pile of cars 35 feet high, on top of which rested one of the engines.

As soon as the seriousness of the wreck was realized word was telephoned to Bridgeport, where a hurry call was sent out for physicians, six of whom came to the scene of the accident accompanied by an ambulance and a squad of policemen. On their arrival, assisted by the Fairfield physicians, the wounded who had been taken out of the debris were cared for, the most seriously injured being sent to Bridgeport hospitals and the others carried to nearby houses, where their injuries were temporarily dressed.

On account of the darkness, which was made more intense by a slight rain which was falling, it was almost impossible to distinguish men from wreckage and it was only by the cries of the injured that they could be located and dug out. The dead were found when searchers stumbled across their bodies. As soon as dawn broke a more systematic search was made, which brought to light the body of a fireman which has not yet been identified, and it is thought the wreckage covers several other bodies, as some of the train's crews have not yet been accounted for.

The cause of the accident has not been actually determined, but it is believed to have been due to the stopping of an eastbound freight, owing to a hotbox. Another freight following close behind crashed into the standing train. Several cars, derailed by the impact, fell across a passing west-bound freight and a few seconds later a second westbound freight ran into the wreckage.

THE ENGINEER SAID TO HAVE FAILED TO OBSERVE A SIGNAL

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 7.—Failure of an engineer to observe a signal is given by the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad officials as the cause of the freight smash-up at Fairfield. The following statement was issued:

"Extra 333, running east on track No. 2, the inside east-bound track, stopped to fix a hotbox, engineer of freight train from Harlem, river to Holyoke and Midway known as H. Y. 2, also running east on the inside east-bound track, failed to observe the Fairfield signal, which was against him and ran into the rear of freight train, blocking the two west-bound tracks. The two west-bound freights, running one on each west-bound track, ran into the wreckage.

"Based on the present information at hand, the man responsible for starting the wreck was killed. In addition, the fireman and brakeman on this train were also killed, and the engineer on one of the west-bound freights that ran into the wreckage was killed. The names of the men killed are: E. F. Beach, engineer; R. S. Gates, fireman; L. F. Harris, brakeman, all of H. Y. 2; W. S. Laurie, on west-bound freight that ran into the wreckage.

"The injured were Fireman Fox and Brakeman Hamilton on train S. H. 1, and Conductor Raub and Brakeman Walsh of extra 333."

Earthquake Wrecked Buildings in Mexico City—Soldiers Killed

MEXICO CITY, June 7.—An earthquake at 4 a. m. wrecked several buildings, including the artillery quarters, where 70 soldiers were buried in the ruins. The dead and wounded are estimated between 50 and 70.

Several persons were killed through the collapse of the building of the street railroad power plant. At Buena Vista the street car tracks were twisted. The quake was followed by an explosion of gas at the artillery barracks which added to the horror of the scene.

The shock was more severely felt in the western part the city, though buildings in the central part of the capital were rocked. The only foreigner killed was a Chinese. The artillery quarters rained by the earthquake was a long low building of ancient construction near the Belem prison used chiefly as a government arsenal. During the recent disturbance large forces of soldiers had been quartered in this building. The Belem prison is in the same locality and also houses a large number of people, its criminal inmates reaching at times as high as several thousand. Warehouses at the central station collapsed and an engineer was killed. A private boarding school was wrecked but none of the occupants was injured. The national palace had one of its walls cracked, the keystone of one of the arches was displaced. The ancient cathedral of Santi Domingo was damaged.

THE BULL WILL CASE FINAL SESSION

Counsel for Mrs. Vaughan Wants Letters Read in Court

ALFRED, Me., June 7.—The fourth week of the hearing of the contested will of the late Mrs. Ole Bull was begun in the probate court for York county today with Joseph Thorp, the executor and brother of Mrs. Bull, still on the stand. Mr. Whipple, counsel for Mrs. Olea Bull Vaughan, the contestant, began with an argument to secure the admission of some letters to show why Miss Margaret Noble, the most intimate friend of Mrs. Bull, left for Europe.

Judge Hobbs asked:

"Do I understand that in order for Miss Noble to escape from being here she left New York under an assumed name?"

Counsel for the contestant replied that she probably went away because she did not desire to be summoned before a special administrator. He did not know about the name she used.

Judge Hobbs inquired if the contestants desired to produce letters to show that the executors spirited Miss Noble away, to which Mr. Whipple replied that not having read these letters, he did not like to make claims. On January 31, 1911, they apprised Mr. Thorp of what they thought Miss Noble knew and that she would be a material witness in the case.

Mr. Whipple stated that Mrs. Vaughan said to Mr. Thorp:

"I believe that Miss Noble's evidence is of the greatest importance as she was my mother's most intimate friend during her last hours and should be produced." Mrs. Vaughan also said her uncle, Mr. Thorp, had told her to call on him at any time and he would help her in any way to get the evidence together. Then she asked him to find Miss Noble.

To Charles K. Cobb, counsel for the will, Mr. Whipple said:

"Mr. Cobb, when we read this will we said 'Produce Miss Noble and you haven't done it.'"

Mr. Cobb answered that it would be important to call Miss Noble, but nothing would be gained by having these letters read.

A MURDER CASE

Before Grand Jury at Lowell Session Today

The grand jury had a murder case of a most unusual nature at its Lowell session this morning.

The case is that of Michael Patauros for the alleged murder of John Germanakes in a house in Brooks street some months ago.

The witnesses were a young girl named Mary Lucas, Mrs. Melys and Simpson, Supt. Welch, Inspector Germanakes. On the night of the murder Patauros went to the girls' room, suspecting that Germanakes was there and demanded admittance.

Before opening the door the girl hid Germanakes in a closet where Patauros found him and a struggle ensued. While they were struggling Patauros entered the room and, as he claims, tried to separate the pair. Patauros, he claims, told him to hold Germanakes' arms, which he did, and while he was holding him, he stated, Patauros drew a revolver and shot Germanakes with fatal effect. Patauros made his escape but Patauros was caught and arrested on a charge of murder.

Six other Lowell cases were heard with one from Chelmsford and one from Billerica, and the grand jury finished its business here early in the afternoon.

The court will come in at Cambridge on Monday and the grand jury will report on Friday.

PRES. SOMERS SAYS WAIVERS HAVE NOT BEEN ASKED ON "CY" YOUNG

HUMANE SOCIETY

Report of Work Done by Agent

The members of the board of directors of the Lowell Humane Society met yesterday afternoon at the office of Agent Charles F. Richardson, 71 Central street, and it was the unanimous opinion of those present that some effort should be entered into by the society to make the public understand that the society has two branches of work, namely: one for dumb animals, and the other for children, and that want and suffering are the things to be lessened.

CHARLES F. RICHARDSON, Agent.

Many people are under the impression that the superintendent of the society is paid by the city and that his expenses are also taken care of by the city, but such is not the fact. He is engaged by the Lowell Humane Society and his salary as well as the expense incurred as a result of his work are also paid by the organization.

According to the report of the agent, during the month of May, he killed 62 cats in a humane manner, put three horses out of the way, relieved the sufferings of five galled horses, 13 lame horses, two horses being beaten, four being underfed, the killing of 12 dogs and the rescuing of two dogs that had been ill-treated.

Among the children Agent Richardson cared for 21 cases of neglect, two cases of stubborn children, five cases of non-support, issued three warnings to parents, dealt with five intemperate parents and sent four children to the care of the state board.

The treasurer's report showed a small balance in the treasury where-with to meet the summer's expenditures, and it is expected that the sale today at Mrs. Dunbar's house in Andover street will replenish the falling funds.

The agent, C. F. Richardson, was authorized to represent the society at the National Conference of Charities and Correction, to be held at Tremont temple in Boston, June 7 to 11, and also authorized any member of the society to register at the conference as a representative.

SOME DEPT. BILLS

Held Up by Accounts Committee

The committee on accounts held a very important meeting in the office of the city auditor yesterday afternoon with all the members present, Alderman Barrett and Councilmen Achin and Fulton. Clerk of Committees Dowling and City Auditor Daise were also present. For more than four hours the committee pored over the bills contracted during the month of May by the heads of the various departments and approved all but four or five, which were held up for further explanation.

The first bill held up was one from the F. B. Hill Carriage company for the sum of $55, for the furnishing of a new top, for the auto truck of the water department. The committee wants this bill explained as to the necessity of a new top, and as to whether the price is reasonable.

The water department had another bill held up by the committee, and this was a bill for fire insurance premiums from the Thomas C. Lee fire insurance company. The bill was for $150, for carrying a fire insurance policy on the boulevard pumping station. The committee took it that the insurance policy ran for but one year, and it was of the opinion that the minimum premium should be obtained by having the policy written for the period of 5 years. So the bill was sent back to the water department with this suggestion from the committee.

The bill for $10 from the Locks and Canal for rent of land between Varum ave. and the Merrimack river, and Colonial avenue and the Merrimack river, was held up for further explanation on the part of the park department.

Paul Vigeant's bill for $116.51 for $45 pounds of hay furnished to the fire department was also objected to. The price of hay was questioned.

And last, but not least, comes the bill of the Rev. W. H. P. Faunce, D. D., president of Brown university, for $75 for the delivery of an oration at the graduation exercises of the Lowell High school, which does not take place until June 28th. The bill was sent in by the school committee and the committee thought it was premature. It thought the goods ought to be delivered before the money is forthcoming. So the bill will go back to the school committee. It has been the custom, however, to get the money in advance in former years.

Mr. A. B. Gould, of the shoe department at the A. G. Pollard Co., is confined to a home in Chelmsford with a severe illness.

AN EARTHQUAKE

Record Shows That the Shock Lasted Ten Minutes

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Seismographs throughout the entire country were jarred at an early hour today by the most severe earthquake that has been recorded in several years. It is estimated to have occurred 4000 or 5000 miles from Washington, but in what direction could not be ascertained. Whether the disturbance was located in Alaska or in South America, scientists were unable to determine, but they declare news of its location undoubtedly would be forthcoming during the day.

Beginning shortly after six o'clock this morning the needles of the seismographs of the Georgetown university observatory began to move. The tremors steadily increased in intensity, causing the needles to record an unusual vibration. The maximum of the north and south movement was reached at 6:22:03 and lasted eight minutes, while the maximum of the east and west movement was recorded at 6:24:12 and lasted ten minutes.

Gradually the tremors subsided and died away at 7:01 o'clock. Father Tondor declared that it indicated the most severe earthquake that had been recorded since the establishment of the Georgetown observatory two years and a half ago.

RECORDED AT HARVARD
CAMBRIDGE, June 7.—An earthquake of the first order was recorded by the Harvard university seismograph today. The calculated distance from Cambridge to the point of origin of the shock is between 2500 and 2700 miles, but it is not possible for the Harvard scientists to give any clue whatever regarding the direction of the shock.

The earthquake began, according to the instruments at Cambridge, at 6:22:39 a. m. and the second preliminary motion was recorded at 6:15:48. The main wave came on at 6:26:04. A second group of main waves was recorded at 6:38:04.

The pendulums were still in motion at 8:45 a. m. when the records were changed. Although the shock recorded today was of the first order, the pendulums vibrated more severely in January at the time of the earthquake in Turkey.

TRAFFIC ORDINANCE
Submitted to Clerk of Committees by the City Solicitor

Thursday afternoon the joint special committee on waterways will meet at city hall at 1:30 o'clock, and will take automobiles and go on a tour of inspection of the principal canal and waterways in the city. It is the idea of chairman of the committee Councilman Coughlin to make a most complete investigation of the various danger spots along the banks of the canals and rivers. The committee will be accompanied by H. M. Mills, chief engineer of the Locks and Canals Co., Lawyer Frank E. Dunbar representing the Locks and Canals Co., City Solicitor Wm. W. Duncan, City Engineer Stephen Kearney, and clerk of committees Frank M. Dowling. After the view the committee will hold a conference with the Locks and Canal representatives in the reception room at city hall.

The much talked of new traffic ordinance which City Solicitor Duncan was instructed, some time ago, by the city council to draw up, was submitted by him this morning to the clerk of committees and the clerk of the common council. Its contents are founded in general upon the traffic ordinance now in force in the city of Boston. A traveling vehicle must keep to the right, and as near the curbstone as possible. One of the changes made in the old ordinance is that no vehicle is allowed to stand for more than five minutes in Merrimack square without an attendant, unless when loading or unloading and Merrimack square is defined as from the East Merrimack street bridge, to Shattuck street, in Merrimack street from Merrimack street, on Central street, to Warren, and on Bridge street to French street.

The committee on ordinance and legislation will introduce the ordinance, with their recommendations, at the meeting of the common council next Tuesday evening.

Anniversary Committee
The joint special committee on the observance of the 15th anniversary of the incorporation of Lowell as a city will meet in city hall tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

MADERO GUARDED LEGAL BATTLE

Armed Troops Accompany Him on Journey to Mexico City

Thousands of People Surrounded His Train at Ceyala and Gave Him a Great Reception—Big Banquet Was Given in His Honor

SAN JUAN DEL RIO, Mexico, June 7.—(On board Madero's special train.)—With Mexico City only 80 miles away, the special train bearing Francisco Madero and his retinue passed late last night at San Juan Del Rio so as to enter the capital at 10 o'clock today, the hour set for the event.

Senor Madero retired early somewhat fatigued and almost without voice, as a result of the speechmaking of the last few days.

Soldiers guarded the eight cars of the train. A few yards ahead stood the pilot train with 100 armed men aboard. Behind was a locomotive and three cars bearing 500 more soldiers, who began trailing the party yesterday as additional protection.

It was felt aboard the train that if any of the plots rumored within the last two weeks were to be carried out the stretch of railroad over which the train must travel today would be the one chosen. Senor Madero himself has smiled at the rumors of plots and last night sat happily with his family in his private car. At Ceyala yesterday he first tasted the kind of a reception prepared for him in the national capital.

Thousands of people surrounded the train and followed the rebel on foot and on horseback to the plaza where he was cheered and lauded. In a grove the most sumptuous banquet thus far tendered him was set.

Senor Madero made only a brief speech, declaring that the honors

Over Competency of Postoffice Inspector as a Witness

Trial of Case Against Officers of Redeemable Investment Co. Resumed—Attorney Feeney Claimed That the Books and Papers Were Taken Unlawfully

BOSTON, June 7.—A contest between counsel over the competency of Postoffice Inspector Charahan as a witness opened today's session of the trial of the Redeemable Investment Co. case in the United States district court. On Oct. 13 last Charahan led a raid on the offices of the company at 85 Devonshire street in which books and papers were removed to the federal building. Attorney J. P. Feeney for the defendants contended today that the witness had taken the books and papers unlawfully and therefore was not entitled to testify regarding the seizure.

United States District Attorney French said that the witness had acted in accordance with law and produced a subpoena issued by United States Commissioner Hayes directing G. B. Graff, secretary of the company, to bring before the court all the books and papers belonging to the defendant company. Witness testified that the writ was served on Graff by Deputy United States Marshal James Ruhl and that in consequence of a conversation with Graff afterward the books and papers were carried over to the federal building for Graff.

Mr. Feeney argued that Graff had no authority in the matter. Subject to reservations from Mr. Feeney, the testimony of the witness was permitted to stand.

Of the three defendants, the Rev. Norman Plass, former president, Charles H. Brooks, manager, and John Traphagen, assistant secretary, witness testified that Brooks was arrested by Deputy Marshal Ruhl on Oct. 15. Traphagen was arrested in December after he had been indicted with the other two on charges of using the mails in a scheme to defraud.

Witness identified a big card index which Marion Macdonald, the stenographer, had previously testified was the mailing list, the books of the company and a number of vouchers as property found by him at the offices of the company.

One voucher dated September, 1910, stated that $525.30 had been received by Traphagen, of which $3.00 was "withdrawn on account of Norman Plass difficulty."

Kenwood's Faithful Constable Arrests Alleged Deserter

A Slick Job of Bridge Work

Took Him Bodily From a Potato Patch With the Aid of a Shot Gun, Revolver, Handcuffs, Boat and a Constable's Badge

NEW RAILROAD BRIDGE OVER GORHAM STREET.

Structure of Iron and Reinforced Concrete That Will Endure a Lifetime Successfully Constructed Without Delay to Traffic or Accident

Not since old Wannanauit and his braves piled the Merrimack in their war-canoes looking for scalps and hard cider has there been anything so warlike floating over the placid surface of the bustling river in the world, as was noted in the vicinity of Kenwood late yesterday afternoon when amid the raindrops that tattooed the aforesaid placid surface there suddenly shot forth from under the cover of an overhanging willow tree an odd-looking craft, the like of which had never been seen before even by the oldest inhabitant. To some it looked like a miniature warship, others thought it was a young revenue cutter that had come upstream looking for the mer who smuggled the amendments into the new city charter. It was propelled by hand, a gaunt-looking gentleman almost hidden behind a huge rickety badge bearing the ominous word, "Constable," pulling like all possessed toward the opposite shore, where in the gleaming could be seen a young man industriously digging away at a potato patch. Protruding over the prow of the boat was a huge double barreled shotgun which to the plain farmer-folks of Kenwood resembled the Long Tom of some great dreadnought. Then for lesser arms there was a revolver loaded in every chamber. The man in the boat kept the bow and the shotgun headed toward the young man in the potato patch until the shore was reached and then the boatman stealthily landed and without a sound grasped his trusty shotgun and proceeded up the bank unobserved by his quarry, who was hilling his pomme d'arrache blissfully unconscious of his impending fate.

Desperate Desmond in his most desperate moment never had anything on the silent boatman in getting to that potato patch and its lone occupant unobserved. When he had come within gunshot, the boatman took a firm stand and grasping his revolver tightly around the throat with his left, he elevated with his right his trusty shotgun until each barrel was squarely pointed at the head of the man with the hoe.

In a voice that fairly sized with authority, the boatman exclaimed: "Querein, you are my prisoner!"

The young man turned, got a bird's-eye view of the arsenal in front of him and elevated both hands to heaven. "I am here to take you" said the man with the dangerous weapons. "You will take me?"

"I will, take you."

"And who are you?"

"Foye, the constable from Kenwood, 'Gum!"

"What have I done?"

"You have deserted the service of your country and it is my simple duty as an officer of the law of the village of Kenwood in the town of Dracut to return you to that service forthwith. No deserter hailing from the town of General Vancum will ever set by while Foye is on the job."

And then approaching his prisoner the faithful constable without the formality of any neat remarks, presented the young man a pair of bracelets with which he deftly surrounded his wrists and then forward marched him down the bank to the war vessel. The return trip was without incident though the prisoner had the solemn satisfaction of witnessing the constable do all the work at the oars. Upon arrival on the Kenwood side an electric car was taken to Lowell where Guerin was locked up for the night in the police station. This morning Constable Foye took him to Boston and quiet release in Kenwood once more. At Boston it will be decided whether the prisoner is the man wanted for desertion and whether he is guilty of the charge on which he was arrested.

HELD IN $900

Man Ordered to Appear Before the Grand Jury

Wells P. Kelly, who was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court yesterday morning on complaints charging him with felonious assault on Annie Fine, aged 18 years, and adultery with the same person, appeared in court this morning for a hearing and the fine girl, who was arrested yesterday, occupied a seat in front of the cage. She was charged with fornication. The court after hearing the girl's testimony found Kelly probably guilty on the complaint of felonious assault and held him under $900 for the grand jury. The girl after being ordered to appear next Tuesday morning to answer to the complaint of fornication was turned over to the care of Miss Emily Shilton.

Case Placed On File

Howard H. Hattikony pleaded guilty to a complaint charging him with the larceny of a pool ball and after it was explained to the court that the act was an unintentional one the court placed the case on file. J. Joseph Hennessy appeared for the defendant.

Rather Novel Charge

Andrew Shannon was charged with the larceny of 100 feet of gas valued at $24 cents, the property of the Lowell Gas Light Co. By agreement of counsel the case was continued until Saturday morning. Shannon lives in Salem street and it is alleged that he connected a pipe on each side of the gas meter so that the greater part of the gas which entered the house would not pass through the meter and be registered.

Non-Support Case

Perciles George was arraigned on a complaint charging him with non-support. He admitted his guilt and promised to do better in the future. "Turn over your earnings to your wife and then she in turn can give you enough to gamble with," said Judge Hadley with a smile.

Placed on Probation

Bernard Speckart, charged with neglect of his wife, entered a plea of guilty. She said that he was in the habit of drinking. She did not want him sent to jail but wanted him to stop drinking and support the family. Bernard said that he would stop drinking and go to work. Judge Hadley explained the new law relative to a person who neglects his wife being sent to jail and being made do hard labor for which the wife is to receive 50 cents per day for the work performed by the husband while confined. The court placed Speckart in the custody of the probation officer until June 17th.

Drunken Offenders

Thomas Carr denied that he was drunk but admitted that he had taken two glasses of beer and two glasses of ginger ale yesterday. Whether or not the mixture was too much is not known, but Patrolman Kilroy said he found the man staggering through Middlesex street shortly before six o'clock last night and placed him under arrest. Thomas escaped with a fine of $6.

Thomas H. Higgins will spend the next 30 days in jail and Susan E. Waldron will make her residence in Thorndike street for two months. Joseph Pella and John J. McNally were fined $6 each, and six simple drinks were released.

Assault and Battery

Euthimos Zavaras and Theodoros Seris were charged with assault and battery on Thomas A. Novos on May 12. It appears that the affair took place during a meeting of the Greek community. The complaint said that the two defendants struck him, while the other hand the defendants claimed that Novos was trying to raise a disturbance and tried to break up the meeting. The court found that the assault was a trivial one and found Zavaras guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $3. The other defendant was found not guilty and discharged.

WM. R. WITHERHEAD

Former Lowell Man in Accident at Los Angeles, Cal.

In a recent issue of the Los Angeles Examiner the following article, in addition to a cut on her forehead and bruises on many portions of her body, she is said to have received internal injuries.

Her husband, Howard Hunter, 25, a contractor, received abrasions on right forearm and slight bruises on right leg. Mildred Smith, 11 years old, a school girl living at No. 1912 Ocean View avenue, had her left hand slightly bruised and cut. A. K. Walker, 23 years old, conductor of the car, fainted after passengers were safely out of the car. He was taken to the Crocker Street hospital but no serious injuries were found. W. R. Witherhead, 49 years old, motorman, had his left knee and right leg badly bruised.

The motorman, W. R. Witherhead, who is so highly complimented, is a former resident of this city. He resided at 50 Manchester street. He left Lowell about eight months ago and has since resided in Los Angeles, Cal. He was for many years employed as a motorman on the Boston & Northern road here, during which time he made many friends. He is a popular member of the local Aerie of Eagles and his host of friends will undoubtedly be glad to hear that he has made such an excellent impression in his new field and that he will soon recover from the injuries received in the accident.

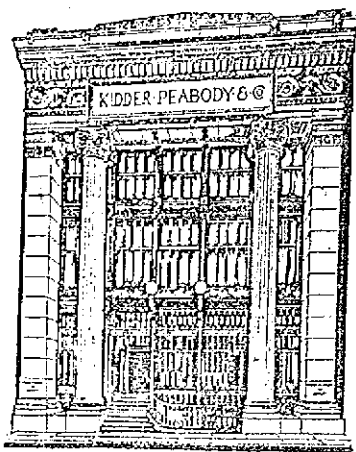

Three passengers and the motorman and conductor were but slightly injured. That it was no worse is credited to the coolness of the motorman, W. R. Witherhead, who stuck at his post until the shock hurled him from the car. The front vestibule of the coach was crushed in and the cement and stucco steps of the art school were crushed and pulverized.

The accident happened within sight of hundreds of people who were seated in Westlake park. In slipping down the South Alvarado street hill toward the curve, the car made a roaring sound that could be heard for blocks around. Had it been crowded, it is thought that many would have been killed, but as but three passengers were aboard, they had both time and space in which to prepare themselves for the shock. With one exception, they escaped with slight cuts and bruises.

Mrs. Howard Hunter, 18 years old, living at No. 218 North Fremont

DIAMOND NOTES

No game here until Friday.

The ball player stepped aside yesterday and gave the farmer a chance. At Worcester today, weather permitting.

Some of the managers are red hot after Durkett and Worcester for violating the salary limit rule.

The rain was too much for Tim Murnane, and the Lowell-Lynn struggle is still unsettled.

Pitcher Maybom, formerly with Lawrence and more recently with Brockton, will be seen in a Lowell uniform.

Some of us still have faith in Warwick. If he'll warm up good before he starts we think he'll do something.

Come on, Jake! Get up with the 300 fellows again.

Henrickson of Brockton up to Saturday made 59 hits and he has played in 36 of the 37 games played by that team. "Hen" appears to be always on the job.

Because he gets only $400 per month Jesse Burkett plays only half of right field and makes Crum play the other half. At the last game in Lowell Crum went on strike and Jesse couldn't coax or threaten him into leaving straight centre field.

"Rad" Graham, the genial baseball authority, who has charge of the automobile race at Spaulding park, has been given the additional duty of taking in the "Dull" on rainy days.

Now the heavy hitters of the Lowell team can keep supplied on good headgear, for J. L. Chaffoux, to encourage good batting, offers a new hat to every player making a home run at Spaulding park, for which the players say, "Hats off to J. L."

Gives Lowell credit for victory of Lynn on Memorial day morning.

BIG YEAR'S WORK

CAME NEAR DYINGReviewed by Board of Trade
Last EveningHARVEY B. GREENE,
President Board of Trade.JOHN H. MURPHY, Secretary.Annual Meeting Showed Great Strides by the Organization
During Past Year—Harvey B.
Greene Re-elected President

The most important business year in the history of the board of trade was reviewed last evening at the annual meeting of that organization, which plans were outlined for the coming year.

President Harvey B. Greene was re-elected, and in accepting the office declared that he accepted it only with the belief that he would receive the cordial support of the members as during the past year, and that the board would continue to work to make Lowell not only a busier city industrially, but also a better place to live in and to do business in.

The growth and achievements of the organization were ably set forth by Secretary John H. Murphy in his annual report and during the resulting discussion. The report showed 806 members, a gain of 231 during the year.

This year's committee reports were included in one general report by the secretary, though several special reports were made.

Pres. Greene's Remarks

Pres. Greene stated that another thing that induced him to continue as president was the fact that there were a number of important matters of business which were as yet unfinished, which he wished to see to a conclusion. Among them the chief item was the city charter, which he declared to be more important to the growing city than any other one thing. He would not except the Boston & Maine shops located near here as being of greater civic importance to the citizens than the securing of a modern municipal method of government.

Rep. Charles T. Kilpatrick was present and criticized a local paper for stating that the members of the local delegation were lukewarm toward the new charter. He stated that he worked for the charter.

The treasury report showed a balance of $1500 on hand.

The Officers Elected

President, Harvey B. Greene; first vice-president, George M. Harrigan; second vice-president, Frederick A. Fisher; third vice-president, Robert F. Madden; treasurer, Edward B. Coney; auditor, William F. Ellis; clerk, William Cogger.

The directors chosen were: Daniel F. Carroll, Milo D. Clay, C. Marshall Forrest, Arthur L. Gray, J. H. Guillet, Walter E. Guyette, George D. Hawley, James E. O'Donnell, Patrick O'Hara, Dr. George M. Randall, Frank Rickard, Bartholomew Scovell, Jr., Daniel W. Shanahan, Edmund T. Simpson, George W. Trull, John J. Mahoney, John Rogers, Dr. Charles H. Stowell, George H. Taylor, George E. King, Harford N.

Elliot, George Nash, E. J. Gilmore, James O'Sullivan and Dr. Joseph A. Lamoureux.

President Greene announced the executive committee of the board with no changes from the past year. The committee consists of President Greene, Secretary Murphy, Jesse H. Shepard, John A. Hunsnewell and Fred C. Garrett.

Mr. E. M. de Almeida, the Portuguese vice consul, presented the board a set of cable code books to be kept in the office for the use of anyone receiving foreign messages.

More New Members

The new members reported and elected last night were Daniel J. Corcoran, Dr. Assadour H. Kluifian, A. M. Champney, Alex Jancovich, John J. Cole, Benjamin Holt and John Feeley.

George M. Harrigan offered a report of the work of the postal affairs committee. The other committees were reported as follows: legislation, by James E. O'Donnell; municipal affairs by Henry A. Smith; membership by Walter E. Guyette; transportation, Fred C. Garrett; executive committee, by Sec. John H. Murphy; city beautiful committee by Pres. Harvey B. Greene.

Removing the Billboards

These reports were extremely favorable, showing results of unusual work. President Greene's report on the city beautiful work referred to the successful efforts to secure the removal of the unsightly billboards in the city, and in this he said the committee accomplished much. He referred to the prevention of the establishment of an immense billboard at the corner, which he believed would have been the most unsightly of any in the city.

The use of the canal banks for billboards was the next matter for this committee to study, he said, and the committee hopes to secure the removal of the billboards from these places. Pres. Greene said that Lowell has not surpassed opportunity for the development of its beauty spots and that in many places billboards now occupy spots where green grass and water views could be had in their place.

The board referred to the legislative committee a resolution urged by the Boston chamber of commerce, favoring Gov. Foss' plan for taxation changes.

Secretary Complimented

Sec. Murphy's faithful service was not forgotten and his report was not only accepted, but a unanimous vote of approval was passed, commending him for his diligent work during the past year.

"When my boy was about three months old, his head broke out with a rash which was very itchy and ran a watery fluid. We tried everything we could but he got worse all the time. It spread to his arms, legs and then to his entire body. He got so bad that he would scratch till the blood ran and a thin yellowish crust would be all over his skin in the morning. I had to put mittens on his hands to prevent him tearing his skin. He was so weak and run down that he took fitting spells as if he were dying. He was almost a skeleton and his little hands were like claws."

"It was about eight months when we tried Cuticura Remedies. I had not told him down in his cradle in the daytime for a long while. I washed him with Cuticura Soap and put on one application of Cuticura Ointment and he was so soothed that he could sleep. You don't know how glad I was he felt better. It took one box of Cuticura Ointment and pretty near one cake of Cuticura Soap to cure him. I think our boy would have died but for the Cuticura Remedies and I shall always remain a faithful friend of them. He was cured more than twenty years ago, and there has been no return of the trouble. I shall be glad to have you publish this true statement of his cure." (Signed) Mrs. M. C. Mailand, Jasper, Ontario, May 27, 1910.

Cuticura Remedies afford the most economical treatment for affections of the skin and scalp. A cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment are often sufficient. Sold everywhere. terized the development of Lowell for our business year 1910-1911.

Our factories and workshops, representing many and different industries, were with few exceptions busy and in full operation during the year.

The advantage of a city with diversified industries in times of business depression is realized and appreciated as any temporary depression in a certain line is not sufficient to cause serious illness or retard the general business activity.

During the year the larger industries of our city have expended more than $2,500,000 improving their equipment and plants. Other corporations have in view improvements which will mean the expenditure of large sums of money which in turn will provide labor and increase business.

The increase of the business of our local industries is in a large measure the cause of our splendid growth, but we must not be content with a normal growth, we must secure new industries that will add to our capital and business and will induce people to seek permanent homes here.

A comparative summary of the recent development of Lowell is as follows: Lowell is the fourth city of Massachusetts and the forty-fifth city of the United States.

The year 1910 has been a period of activity for the Lowell board of trade. During the year a great and increasing interest was manifested by the general public in the work of the Lowell board of trade.

A citizen's movement should be inaugurated for the purpose of booming things. Progress is retarded by the lack of co-operation. Our city has advantages that are nearly equalled and with a little energy spent in the right direction we could place Lowell in the column of cities with a population of 200,000. A campaign to advance the claims of our city and enlist the services of all as "boosters" should be put in operation.

Cities all over the United States are endeavoring to attract new industries. A vast amount of money is being spent exploiting the advantages of their resources and locations. Lowell is to be able to compete in this struggle more encouragement must be given the board of trade and the men who will profit by the growth of the city must share a part of the expense.

With the aid of the necessary finances the board by a well worked out plan could place Lowell in a position to demand recognition and to secure more industries.

and the variety of our products is such as to convince prospective manufacturers that our city would make an ideal business location.

It is almost impossible to adequately present the results accomplished by the board during the year. An attempt will be made to embody the principal events and the items of interest and importance and to furnish some statistics in this report.

It is not our intention to claim wonderful achievements but to present a resume of the activity of the board for the judgment of the members and the people of our city, that they may determine whether or not our board has done good work, is doing good work, and will continue to do good work.

The workings of the board have been reduced to a system. Suggestions offered during the year have been referred to the various committees and through this medium of committee work much has been accomplished. Co-operation is the keynote of success and the amount of work accomplished depends entirely upon the number of our members and their enthusiasm.

The efficient co-operation of the officers, members of committees and the membership at large is entirely responsible for whatever has been accomplished, and your secretary at this time wishes to emphasize his hearty thanks and appreciation to all who have aided in this work during the year; by their promptness in attending committee meetings; by their counsel, by their enthusiasm, by their time and their services. To our president, Mr. Harvey B. Greene, great praise is due for his splendid work. He was always willing to assist and has given freely of his time and energy to all matters concerning the work of the board and the achievements of the year are a memorial to his unselfish and energetic work.

The work of the board from an industrial point of view can be realized by the fact that 75 corporations, firms or individuals were written or interviewed in regard to locating in Lowell. In every case a summary of the advantages of our city was set forth and in most every instance appreciation of our work was expressed.

Many firms that were investigated desired free factory sites, housing, exemption from taxes or desired to lease of large subscriptions of their stock.

It has been the contention of the board that the advantages of our city, such as our splendid railroad facilities, our fair taxes, the abundance of skilled and unskilled labor, and the low cost of commodities and housing for the residents were sufficient inducements to attract manufacturers.

Competition among cities for securing new industries is keen, but the idea of offering bonuses is no longer practised by live up-to-date cities as the results show that industries secured in this way are not desirable from an industrial standpoint.

The board takes justifiable pride in the work of securing new industries during the year. The following concerns have located in Lowell which will provide employment for about 1500 people and amount to about $14,600 yearly wages.

Thibault Loom Company—Loom Attachments.

Lowell Felt Company—Felt Products.

Merwin-Hughes Company—Paper Boxes & Printing Novelties.

Robinson-Parrell Company—Shoe Manufacturers.

Farm Company—Shoe Manufacturers.

Field-Lumbert Company—Shoe Manufacturers.

There have also been 31 firms incorporated during the year representing a capital of $653,000.

Boston & Maine Repair Shops

The work of the board in securing the mammoth locomotive car and repair shops of the Boston & Maine railroad was highly commended by all citizens. The accomplishments of the men representing the board and the many intricate situations in connection with securing the site were handled in a masterly way and were the subject of complimentary approval from all railroad authorities. A separate detailed report of the project is being prepared as a matter of record for the board covering the entire matter in its many phases.

The plant to be located in Billerica, it is estimated, will cost about $3,000,000 and provide employment for about 2000 hands. The magnitude of the project can hardly be realized. The selection of the site by the railroad is another indication of our location for manufacturing purposes. It is an evidence of our advantage in furnishing labor, both skilled and unskilled, and it will have a tendency to induce other industries to locate here.

The report then takes up in review the following subjects: Meetings, Annual Meetings, Oration, January meeting, Dedication of New Quarters, Annual Banquet and Shoe Night, and then continues in part as follows:

Demurrage Hearing

A general meeting of the shippers and receivers of the city was held at the rooms of the board, Sept. 20, 1910 for the purpose of considering the new demurrage rules to be put in effect by the railroads of New England reducing the free loading and unloading time from four days to two days. Resolutions were adopted requesting the Interstate Commerce commission to grant a hearing to the petitioners and to stay the execution of the new rules until such time as a hearing and investigation might be held. The petition was granted and a hearing held in Boston at which the agents with the result that the express companies would deliver to all receivers.

Express Delivery

A public mass meeting of citizens was held June 28, 1910, at the board of trade rooms in the interests of a proposed extension and improvement of the local express delivery.

For years the express companies maintained a delivery limit and people residing outside the limit were compelled to call for their express or pay extra charges for the delivery. Considerable advertising was done and special notices of the proposed hearing appeared in the local papers. The agents of all the express companies were notified of the hearing and invited to be present.

Arrangements were completed whereby people residing outside the delivery limit would present data showing the number of times they were compelled to call for express matter and the amount of the excessive charges was discussed. The hearing was very well attended and many persons expressed themselves as dissatisfied with the service.

The British house of lords has practically decided to pass the bill curtailing its own powers, but not until after the coronation.

The local board of trade can claim a great part of the credit of bringing the Boston and Maine repair shops to our doors. Had it accomplished nothing more that would suffice for one year, but it has done much more for which the people of Lowell are or should be duly grateful.

THE LORIMER CASE

The United States senate has decided to have another investigation of Lorimer. The only proper solution of the Lorimer case is to vote him out. Some of the senators who have to sit or vote on his case may have secured their own seat by the same methods. That is why they are not inclined to vote him out.

THE LOWELL CHARTER

The legislature is at least giving the friends of the charter time enough to shout their protests at the committee on cities. Senator Hibbard will fight for substitution of the bill with some amendments which will be discussed tomorrow. The charter should be submitted to the people. If there are amendments they should also be submitted as alternative propositions, leaving the voters to decide whether the amendment or the original form shall be adopted.

IMPORTANT TAX CASE IN LAWRENCE

The Essex Company of Lawrence has entered suit against the city for an abatement of taxes on $1,020,000. The Essex Company contends that it has been assessed for this amount in excess of what it should have been assessed. The company has been taxed for the dam and the north and south canals. The tax was levied for the first time in 1909 and paid under protest. The land under the canals and along the north canal was assessed for $360,000, and this the company claims should be exempt from taxation. The case brings up a new question of taxation in the city of Lawrence, and one that is of interest in this city, inasmuch as it has not been the custom to tax the land occupied by the canals of this city.

NEW LAW FOR NON-SUPPORT CASES

On the 17th of this month will take effect in this state a law that will tame some of the husbands and fathers who refuse to support their wives and families. It will compel them to work hard in prison, on condition that for each day's labor by a husband so confined his family will receive fifty cents from the prison. Some law of this kind has been greatly needed, because the judges of police courts are frequently left but a choice of two evils, either to let the husband continue on his erring course or injure his family still more by taking away whatever support he gives in sending him to prison. It is safe to say that under this new law there will be less hesitation in sending the non-supporting husbands to jail so that they may be compelled to contribute something to their families.

TUBERCULOSIS CASES NEGLECTED

The time will soon come when the city of Lowell will be obliged to build a tuberculosis hospital. The state will care only for its own cases, as required by law and those that may in one way or another be provided for in the state sanatoriums. Similarly each city is practically responsible for its own cases. There is no means of providing any proper treatment for local cases at the Chelmsford Street hospital, and hence it may as well be acknowledged that there is at present no provision made for the treatment of tuberculosis cases in Lowell with the exception of the summer camps of the Lowell General hospital. It is plain, therefore, that this state of affairs must be remedied in the near future and that the incipient cases of tuberculosis must be taken care of as well as those that have passed the curative stage.

While a supposed fight is made against tuberculosis by educational and hygienic methods, the fact remains that this work is greatly discounted by the lack of hospital treatment. The city of Lawrence is ahead of us in this respect, having recently built a fine tuberculosis hospital.

THE PUBLIC BATH QUESTION

It is refreshing to find that some effort is being made to revive the agitation for public baths in this city. A special committee of the city council has had a conference with the park board on this matter, and judging from the trend of the discussion, it would seem that not only the committee but the park board sees the feasibility of establishing a system of public baths at a very moderate expense. As Judge Pickman remarked, it is not to the credit of a city having so many water ways as we have, not to have a system of public baths. In a factory city where there will always be a great number of tuberculosis cases public baths are a great necessity. It would be a benefit to the public health and a source of comfort and happiness to the toilers who have not the luxury of a bath room in their homes. Very few wealthy people realize how many thousands in this city live in lodging houses or in other places where there is no available means of taking a bath. For their benefit and to save the lives of those who take chances in the rivers and canals, it would indeed be a great boon to the city if a system of public baths were placed within reach of the people.

The subject has been talked of so much that we believe the people in general are tired listening to it. It is time that something were done, but, of course, our city government cannot undertake all the necessary reforms at the same time. Mayor Meahan has urged the erection of a public hall and a contagious hospital as forcibly as he could, and there is a prospect that the hospital at least will be built. The public hall seems to be held up by a deadlock between the commission and the city council, and unless this matter of a site be settled in the near future, it would be as well to discharge the commission and begin all over again.

This is no place for "Timely Hints to Housewives" or anything of that sort, but for the benefit of several persons we passed on the street yesterday we will merely say that a pig driven into the center of their shoe soles will stop the squeak. No charge, gentlemen; our cobbler frequently falls down.

"Times have changed."
"You bet they have. Used to be no man's-sized man would let his friends see him at a soda fountain drinking a lemon phosphate."

BUY, BROTHERS, BUY!
You never miss the water
Till the well runs dry;
You never miss the screening
Till June brings the fly.

THE BOOSTER
I'd rather be a booster than a knocker any day.
I'd rather sing with hope than doubt the words I have to say.
I'd rather miss my guess
On another man's success Than to view his bitter struggle and prophecy his fall.
I would rather say "he's coming"
Than "he's going," when I'm summing Up the labors of my brothers. I would rather boost them all.

I would rather speak the kind things than the mean things any day.
I'd rather swing a baton than a hammer, let me say.
I would rather sing my rhyme
In a sort of twofold time Than to let it drag in dirges in a gloomy, heavy style.
I would rather say "God bless you!"
And with words of cheer impress
you,
Than to preach about your follies all the while.

I would rather be a booster than a knocker any day.
I'd rather praise than criticize in what I have to say;
I'd rather not be wise,
At the cost of others' sighs,
I would rather see the good things than the evil that men do;
I would rather far be wrong
When I boast a man alone Than be perfect in my judgment, but make everybody blue.

MOST COMMON SKIN DISEASE

A great medical authority says that eczema is the most important, most annoying and most common of all skin troubles; that one-third of all skin diseases are eczema in some form, and that proper treatment will always relieve and cure it. Sometimes it is called salt rheum, moist tetter and various other names. The best known treatment is to first stop the itching, and then proceed to heal up the sore. That is exactly what Cadum, the new remedy does, and it acts so quickly that relief is felt as soon as it is applied. Try a 10-cent box, and if you trouble is eczema, Cadum will help you immediately. It is also good for redness, pimples, blotches, rash, scaly skin, roughness, chafings, acne, sores, ulcers, eruptions, bites, tetter, itch, herpes, psoriasis, ringworm, etc.

A BIG SUCCESS

FROM THE START

Our CIRCULATING LIBRARY was started on such a liberal basis, that it has met with the approval of all who have visited it. The freshness of the stock and the large selection of BOOKS, such as was never before seen in the Merrimack Square theatre, has added to all this excellence the new parade with its 1000 charms, a bright new opening spectacle in the main exhibition tent and a menagerie such as was never before seen in the Merrimack Square theatre. At the head are Tiny Tom, the smallest elephant in the world, Annie, an elephant 24 years old, and a colony of animal babies.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Mortimer Snow and Miss Lillian Lee Anderson, who are engaged in the presentation of that popular comedy drama, "In the North," at the Merrimack Square theatre this week, will hold a reception on the stage at the conclusion of the afternoon performance Thursday. No doubt a large number of friends and admirers of the pair will be on hand to meet them. A cordial invitation is extended to all who attend the afternoon performance tomorrow to call upon Mr. Snow and Miss Anderson at the conclusion of the show.

Clarence Wilbur, a Lowell's own comedian, continues to amuse the patrons of this playhouse. His work is high-class and most entertaining. He has been warmly received at all performances.

Prof. Dodd and his wonderful performing dog is another one of the good

association, to Principal Cyrus A. Durgin, teachers of the Normal school, the school committee of this city, and to all others who have shown interest in the welfare of the association. The report was accepted and placed on record.

Resolutions were read expressing the regret of the organization at the deaths of Miss Josephine Coburn and Miss Flora I. Moffat.

The report of the treasurer was interesting and showed that the association has a balance with all bills paid. A report of the activities of the legislative committee was listened to with great interest as it contained a review of the work done in regard to the teachers' retirement bill, which would permit a teacher to retire on half pay after 25 years of service. Miss Stillings' report was accepted and placed on file. The educational, publicity, program and social committees also presented reports which were accepted. Amendments were added to the constitution, permitting any person who has at any time served the city in the capacity of teacher in the public schools to become an associate member of the association without the voting privilege, on signing the constitution and paying the sum of $1, and permitting any person to become an honorary member, on recommendation of the executive committee and providing they receive a two-thirds vote of the members present at any meeting.

The report of the nominating committee was read and it was voted to accept the report of the nominations made, and to elect the officers who served during the past year. The officers last year and those who will serve during the ensuing year are as follows:

President, Miss Belle B. Batchelder; vice president, Miss Anna W. Devereaux; second vice president, Miss Debra T. Brady; treasurer, Miss Elizabeth C. Kennedy; secretary, Miss Katharine Kelley. The board of directors to serve for three years consists of the Misses Mary A. Webster, Bertha M. Rowlandson, Abbie Woodward, Jennie Fay and Mary C. Walker; director to serve out an unexpired term, Miss Mary E. Tobin.

LOWELL GIRL

TOOK PART IN RECITAL AT N. E. CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

Many Lowell people attended the recital of the pupils of the vocal normal classes of the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston yesterday. The affair was held at the recital hall of the conservatory and proved to be a real musical treat.

The third number on the program was Godard's "Chanson de Florian," sung by Miss Anna E. Bourassa of this city. Miss Bourassa, who possesses a rich soprano voice, was a favorite at the concert, for she rendered this difficult piece of music as only an artist could. She is well known in this city having lived here all her life, and her many friends will be pleased to hear of her success.

FAMOUS BONSETTIS

ITALIAN ACROBATS NOW MAKING FIRST TOUR OF AMERICA

At last the Bonsettis family, the world's greatest circus performers, have been induced to leave Italy for their first tour of America, and they will be seen here with Ringling Brothers' World's Greatest Shows on Thursday, June 15.

The Bonsettis present a novelty in acrobatics never seen before. It is creating a sensation wherever the show appears. In touring Europe, travelers have gone many miles out of their way to see this wonderful family at work. In St. Petersburg last winter they first produced the novel performance which they are now presenting here. A foreign agent of the Ringlings, stationed in that city, engaged the family after seeing their first night's reception.

There are no less than seven families of acrobats with the big circus, not to mention the individual performers of this class and the teams of two and three. At one time during the performance there are more than thirty acrobats appear in one big number. When they walk into the rings, and onto the stages, stepping in time to the music, the mere picture of the entrance of the great company is inspiring.

In riding features the circus was never so fortunate as now. Some of the equestrian stars are Emma Stuckey, Josephine Clark, Daisy Hoadwin, the Cottrell-Powells, the Dutton family, the Clark brothers, Emma Douvan, Lola Mitchell, Amy Milvo, Florence Harris, Ida Delno, Inez Bell, Cecile Fortuna and the famous Crocker family of wild gypsies.

Chief among the aerialists are the Alex troupe, acknowledged leaders of the art; the Klarkians, greatest aerial double somersaulters in the world; the Flying Vards, the Aerial Smiths, the five Georges and the Delno family.

There are no less than fifty big specialties with the show. The Ringlings never feature any particular act. Every specialty on the program is a head-liner and the general excellence of the show is its feature. However, special mention should be made of the Schuman performing horses, from Germany; Loyal's equestrian dog, the telephoning elephants, Emory's troupe of baby elephants, and Mijarez, the Mexican high-wire wizard.

These are acts no other show in America could afford to engage. Never before in circus affairs has there been seen such an array of talent as is present in this company. In all there are 375 artists. Over 200 are the representatives of talent from Europe and Asia. Added to all this excellence is the new parade with its 1000 charms, a bright new opening spectacle in the main exhibition tent and a menagerie such as was never before seen in the Merrimack Square theatre. At the head are Tiny Tom, the smallest elephant in the world, Annie, an elephant 24 years old, and a colony of animal babies.

An excellent concert program was given last night at the Chelmsford Central Congregational church vestry under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society. The attendance was large, and the selections greatly enjoyed. There was a table for the sale of cake and ice cream that was well patronized.

Mrs. Barton served as accompanist.

Clarence Wilbur, a Lowell's own comedian, continues to amuse the patrons of this playhouse. His work is high-class and most entertaining. He has been warmly received at all performances.

Prof. Dodd and his wonderful performing dog is another one of the good

association, to Principal Cyrus A. Durgin, teachers of the Normal school, the school committee of this city, and to all others who have shown interest in the welfare of the association. The report was accepted and placed on record.

Resolutions were read expressing the regret of the organization at the deaths of Miss Josephine Coburn and Miss Flora I. Moffat.

The report of the treasurer was interesting and showed that the association has a balance with all bills paid. A report of the activities of the legislative committee was listened to with great interest as it contained a review of the work done in regard to the teachers' retirement bill, which would permit a teacher to retire on half pay after 25 years of service. Miss Stillings' report was accepted and placed on file. The educational, publicity, program and social committees also presented reports which were accepted. Amendments were added to the constitution, permitting any person who has at any time served the city in the capacity of teacher in the public schools to become an associate member of the association without the voting privilege, on signing the constitution and paying the sum of $1, and permitting any person to become an honorary member, on recommendation of the executive committee and providing they receive a two-thirds vote of the members present at any meeting.

The report of the nominating committee was read and it was voted to accept the report of the nominations made, and to elect the officers who served during the past year. The officers last year and those who will serve during the ensuing year are as follows:

President, Miss Belle B. Batchelder; vice president, Miss Anna W. Devereaux; second vice president, Miss Debra T. Brady; treasurer, Miss Elizabeth C. Kennedy; secretary, Miss Katharine Kelley. The board of directors to serve for three years consists of the Misses Mary A. Webster, Bertha M. Rowlandson, Abbie Woodward, Jennie Fay and Mary C. Walker; director to serve out an unexpired term, Miss Mary E. Tobin.

THE ALDERMEN

Vote to Return to Charity Board Land for New Hospital

George C. Evans Agreed Upon
for Registrar of Voters—Number of Street and Sidewalk
Petitions Acted Upon—The
Common Council Did Not Ballot for City Officials

Both branches of the city government met in special session last evening, and it was after midnight before they adjourned.

The board voted to rescind the action of the aldermen of 1910 in transferring certain land at the Chelmsford Street hospital from the board of
charities to the contagious hospital commission, and if the common council concurs the contagious hospital commission will find itself without a site upon which to build the new hospital.

A great deal of time in the earlier portion of the evening was taken up with the hearing of remonstrants to several pole locations asked for by the N. E. Telephone Co. For some reason or other there were no representatives present from either the telephone company or the Electric Light company, which caused severe criticism of the aldermen to severely criticize the public service corporations. The Postal Tel-graph Co. also came in for a little knock, and their petition for leave to lay a conduit in the following streets, from Lawrence street, at a point opposite North street, to Church, to George, to Hurd, to Central, to Middle to their office, 27 Middle street, was laid on the table.

At this point a recess was ordered to the call of the chair. Then followed a lengthy caucus, held in the mayor's reception room, at which the mayor was present. At the caucus it was agreed to confirm the appointment of George C. Evans for registrar of voters, and the assistant engineers
of the fire department. But the aldermen were too tired before this line of business was taken up, and hence no
confirmation is yet in sight.

The meeting was called to order at 8:45 o'clock and the roll call showed all the members present.

Petitions for locations of poles by
the New England Tel. & Tel. Co., on Ludlam, Sutherland, Humphrey, Ellis-worth, Olive, Mill and Ames streets, and Cumberland road were read and a hearing was opened.

Nobody appeared for petitioners and
a letter was read from John Doherty, stating an objection to a pole in Cumberland road. Alderman Daly resisted an objection from Jas. O'Hearn to the location of a pole on Ellsworth street. Dr. James J. McCarthy objected to poles being erected on Ames and Mill streets. James F. Norton remonstrated to a pole location in Ames street. He said nobody else on the street desires a telephone. He couldn't understand why the telephone company's representatives were not present. Mary Mulqueen and James H.

Murray objected to poles being erected on Olney street. A letter of remonstrance was also read from Lizzie Drain. Several Goodwins protested a pole location on Cumberland road.
Rev. N. W. Matthews protested against poles on Ellsworth street, representing the Gorham Street Methodist church,
and Capt. Charles D. Foley.

Alderman Daly said that the telephone company was either indifferent
to matters, or else felt assured that it would get the pole locations without difficulty, inasmuch as no representative of the company was present at the meeting. Mr. Daly moved, and it was voted, to ask a representative of the company to be present at the next meeting of the board.

Mr. Connors thought the company's representative should appear before the committee on wires.

A hearing was held on the petition of the Postal Telegraph company for permission to lay conduits in portions
of Lawrence, Church, George, Hurd,
Central and Middle streets. Charles
Goggin appeared for the company.

Mr. Connors said that Hassan paving would have to be torn up. It had been down but a short time. Questioned by Mr. Daly, Mr. Goggin knew very little about the plans of the company he represented, except that the company wanted to get lines through to the offices at 20 Middle street. Mr.
Barrett and Mr. Connors also asked questions.

"Your company acts curiously in this matter," said Mr. Barrett. "It asks permission to tear up a street that cost between $50,000 and $75,000 to build. Your company says it will put the street in satisfactory condition.
We have had enough experience with the way companies put the streets in condition."

Mr. Daly moved that the petition be laid on the table. Mr. Barrett moved an amendment, that the petition be given leave to withdraw. Mr. Connors thought the matter should be laid over until such a time as a proper hearing can be held on the matter. He wanted somebody higher in authority than Mr.
Goggin to speak on the matter. Mr.
Daly thought as a matter of courtesy to the committee on wires the petition should be laid on the table. Mr. Barrett would not withdraw his amendment. The order as amended was put and defeated. Alderman Daly's original motion was put and carried.

A hearing on petition of the Lowell
Electric Light company for pole locations on Barker and Bye streets was next in order. Neither petitioners or remonstrants appeared. The petition was referred to the committee on Washington street and Elmer and Aiken avenues were opened. Neither petitioners or remonstrants appeared.
The same corporation petitioned for pole locations on Walker and West
Adams streets and hearings were opened. The petitioners were referred to the committee on wires.

Petitions to keep and store gasoline
by A. G. Foster, 241 Wilson street; A.
G. Beharrel; A. E. Lind, 257 Appleton street; A. T. Richardson, 241 Beacon street; Lafayette Deaks, 154 Eleventh street, and F. B. Dugdale, 12 Victoria street, were referred to the committee on licenses, after brief hearings.

Petitions for police signal boxes in various locations were referred to the committee on streets.

Petitions for street work were referred to the committee on streets.
A petition for an electric light at the corner of Keene and Cedar streets was referred to the committee on lighting.
A petition of Alphonse Bibeault to keep gasoline on Wilder street was read and a hearing was ordered for June 20.

At 9:40 o'clock a recess was taken to enable the committee on licenses to meet. At 10 o'clock, as the board was about to come into session, a caucus was taken.

The board reconvened at 10:55 o'clock. The report of the committee on licenses was read and accepted. The various licenses aforementioned were granted and the board voted the licenses asked.

petitioned for compensation for injuries, and Thomas Williston petitioned for compensation for damages to his automobile. The petitions were referred to the committee on claims.

A joint order to repeal the transfer of land from the charity department to the contagious hospital commission was read. This order contemplated a check to the work of the contagious hospital commission.

Mr. Connors, who introduced the original order in 1910 to transfer the land, spoke on the order. He said that residents of the section are filled with fear at the possible location of a contagious hospital there. They also claim that there will be a depreciation of property values there.

He said that he was in favor of a contagious hospital, but he did not want it on that site.

The question of adopting the order came up, and it was voted to turn back the land to the charity board.
Mr. Toupin's was the only dissenting voice.

A joint order requesting an opinion
from the city engineer as to the safety of the Aiken street bridge for street
cars was adopted.

The Boston & Northern petition for location of a diamond turnout near the junction of Broadway and Dutton streets was read. A hearing on the petition was granted for the night of June 20.

An ordinance creating a commission to acquire a site and rebuild Huntington hall, intended as a reading building to take the place of Huntington hall and to constitute a headquarters of the police department,
police court ambulance department,
was referred to the committee on ordinances and legislation.

The mayor's appointments of Cor-nellius F. Cronin as constable; John F.
Roche, as weigher of hay and other articles, and of G. W. McLaughlin as a measurer of lumber were confirmed.

A joint order appropriating $135 for a new fire alarm box at the corner of Vernon and Durant streets, was read.
Mr. Barrett asked if there is $135 in the general treasury fund. Chairman Gallagher said there is over $300. It was voted to recommit the order to the committee on fire department in concurrence.

An ordinance creating a "city cop-pied fund" was referred to the committee on bills in second reading, in concurrence.

A resolution granting permission to Henry Brothers to erect an awning,
was adopted.

A resolution to lay a sewer in Wilson street from Chelmsford street, was adopted.

The city solicitor's opinion on the powers and duties of the appropriations committee, which has already been published in The Sun, was read
and ordered on file.

The opinion of the city solicitor as to the status of the assistant engineers of the fire department, was read and ordered on file.

Mr. Flanagan said that the chief of the fire department had said at a meeting of the fire department committee that the assistant engineers have no powers. He considered this a very broad statement, in view of the opinion rendered by the city solicitor.

A resolution to lay a sewer in Inland street was read and adopted.

The annual report of the Lowell water works for 1910 was received and ordered on file.

A resolution to lay a sewer in Aiken avenue was adopted.

At 12:05 o'clock Mr. Daly moved adjournment. It was so voted.

Common Council

The straight tips that went about town yesterday relative to the election of a superintendent of streets and inspector of buildings proved to be only dreams, as the lower branch took no action on either matter.

While the primary object of the meeting was to take action on the death of ex-Mayor Runnels, considerable routine business was transacted.

A joint order to borrow $10,000 for the continuation of work on the Sheel playground came before the council,
and on motion of its author, councilman Chapman, it was referred to the committee on appropriations.

A joint order closing the offices of city hall at 12 o'clock, on Saturday in June, July and August, introduced by Councilman Donohoe, was voted.

Councilman Coughlin of the committee on resolutions of thanks to citizens who made it possible to bring the Boston & Maine car shops
to this section made a report.

Councilman Tracey moved to lay the matter on the table, but it was not seconded and the resolutions were adopted after Councilman Achin had spoken in favor of it and in praise of the good work done by the board of trade.

Action on street matters was taken
as follows:

Deborah R. Hill et al., that Suffolk street be watered between Moody and Dodge streets. Referred to street committee.

MAYOR BARRY WINS

Nashua Voters Turn Down the Proposed New Charter

NASHUA, N. H., June 7.—The proposed new city charter was defeated
at a special election held here yesterday by 334 majority.

The result is a victory for Mayor
William H. Barry and the regular democratic organization. Opposed to them and in favor of the charter was the regular republican organization, the progressive republican organization and the opposition faction in the democratic party, headed by Ex-Mayor
Jeremiah J. Doyle and his law partner,
Senator Alvin J. Lucier, who introduced into the senate the charter bill defeated yesterday.

The lines of party and faction were not strictly drawn and the opponents of the charter had many republicans, like Ex-Mayor Seth D. Chandler, Ex-
Senator Herbert C. Lunt, Osman H.
Tilton and Representative Frederick Gaffney, with them actively. The total registration was 4902, making the total vote practically 65 per cent,
which is larger than either side predicted, and that notwithstanding the rain, which prevailed after 10 o'clock yesterday morning. The vote is about three-quarters that cast at the last election, when Mayor Barry was chosen by 501 plurality.

The anti-charter men carried every ward which Mayor Barry carried last November, except ward 7, where Messrs. Doyle and Lucier live, and where the stiffest fight was put up.
Great activity prevailed all day, and scores of automobiles were chartered for voters.

County Solicitor Patrick H. Sullivan of Manchester came to town on request of Mayor Barry to enforce the election laws, especially against bribery.
No arrests were made and little disturbance reported.

The charter defeated yesterday contained a number of radical changes
from the present city government. It abolished the common council, elected
the board of public works by the people, gave the aldermen a salary of $100 annually, brought the elections in the old numbered years and did away with party designations on the ballot.

The provision which aroused the most strenuous opposition of the democratic organization was that which appointed the first election under the

MATRIMONIAL

A double wedding reception was held yesterday afternoon and last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Vayo, 15 Garnet street, the occasion being the wedding of their daughter, Miss Dora Lucille Vayo of Bellevue Falls, Vt., who was married
yesterday afternoon to Mr. Paul Charles Exner of Mechanville, N.
Y., and also of the marriage of their son, Wilfred Paul Vayo, who was married in Chicago on April 29, to Miss Marcell of the latter place.

The Exner-Vayo marriage was performed at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon
at Notre-Dame de Lourdes church by
Rev. Fr. Lamothe, O. M. I. The young people were attended by Mr. Sylva L'Heureux, who acted as best man, while Miss Mabel Vayo, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid.

After the ceremony the couple and their witnesses repaired to the home
of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Napoleon Vayo, 15 Garnet street, where a wedding dinner was served to the immediate relatives of the contracting couple.

A large number of friends gathered at the same place in the evening to extend their best wishes to the newly wedded couple. The latter were showered with numerous useful and costly gifts. They left on the 7 o'clock train this morning for an extended honeymoon trip through the states of New York and Connecticut. They will be at home to their friends at Bellevue Falls, Vt. after June 20.

MARKHAM-SHEED

Mr. Harold S. Markham and Miss
Addie E. Sheed, both of Billerica, were married yesterday by Rev. Mr.
Harlow of Somerville. They will go to New York for their honeymoon and later will make their home in New Jersey.

BILLERICA

The Excelsior club met in regular session in the vestry of the North Billerica Baptist church Monday night
and the following interesting program
was carried out: Piano solo, Albert
Dege; Indian war dance, Gilbert Switzer, Newell Ritchie; Highland Fling,
T. H. Bateson; impersonating a Scotch Highlander; popular songs by entire club with Nyles Eaton as accompanist.

The date of the wedding of Rev.

LICENSE SUSPENDED

Hotel Keeper Admits That Liquor Was Sold After Hours

Police Officers Testify That They Saw Men in the Hotel After Hours—Fourth Class License Granted to Jas. Dolan—Hearing of Charge Against Eugene A. Shea Postponed

Hugh Ferguson, proprietor of the St. James hotel in Middlesex street, appeared before the board of police at the regular meeting held last night, in answer to a complaint charging him with committing a breach of the conditions of his license as an innholder by selling intoxicating liquors to persons between the hours of 11 o'clock at night and 6 o'clock in the morning.

The specific complaint alleged that Mr. Ferguson, personally, or his servants, had sold liquors to divers persons at about 2 o'clock on the morning of Sunday, May 28.

Mr. Ferguson entered a plea of guilty to the complaint and after stating that he knew nothing of the transaction until after it had occurred, informed the board that he was a victim of circumstances. He explained the witnesses for the government. Sergeant Gironx was the first witness called and he testified that at about 2 o'clock in the morning one week ago Sunday he and Patrolman Riley visited the hotel and going upstairs found one of the clerks coming out of a room on the second floor. The clerk had a tray on which there were five bottles. Witness and Patrolman Riley entered the room from which the clerk had come and found five men seated around a table. On the table, he said, were five empty bottles and two full bottles. The men had their hats and coats on and apparently had been drinking.

Continuing witness said: "I asked the men if they were living in the hotel and they said they were. I then asked them the numbers of the rooms which they occupied. One man, given

ing a name, said that he was stopping in room 12, another said he was registered in room 12, the third said "room 22" and two of the men said they were stopping together in room 17.

"I went down stairs and looking over the register found that two of the rooms mentioned by the men were occupied by other parties, while there was nothing on the register to indicate that the other two rooms mentioned by the men were occupied by them. The men remained in the room on the second floor where we found them until after we left the place."

Mr. Boulger Asks Questions

"Was there anything that led you to believe that there was business of this kind going on in this hotel?" asked Commissioner Boulger.

"We saw people going in on different occasions," was the answer given by Sergt. Gironx.

"Were they people who might not reside in Lowell?"

"Knew them by sight, but didn't know their names."

"After 11 o'clock at night?"

"I do not go on duty until 12 30 o'clock."

"Did men go in there and remain for a time and then go out?"

"Yes, sir; as late as 3 o'clock in the morning."

"How long has that been going on?"

"For the last four or five weeks."

Mr. Mullaney Interrogates

Chairman Mullaney asked: "Why didn't you go in before? What business did they have there at 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning?"

The witness was nonplussed and could not answer the question, but when Mr. Mullaney again asked the question Sergt. Gironx said that he did not think it necessary to make more than a memorandum of what he saw.

"What I want to know," said Mr. Mullaney, "is why you didn't go in before to get evidence?"

No answer.

"You know your duties as a sergeant of police, don't you?"

"Yes."

"Well it seems very strange that you did not report the matter and bring it to the attention of the board before this," added the chairman.

Patrolman Riley Testifies

Patrolman Riley was then called upon to testify and his testimony was practically the same as that offered by the preceding witness. He added that he had seen men enter and leave the hotel between the hours of 1 and 4 o'clock in the morning, especially on Sunday mornings.

"Don't you think that you should have gone in there previous to this occasion?" asked Chairman Mullaney.

"I notified the superintendent," was the answer.

"What were your instructions?" asked Supt. Welch.

"To go up there with the sergeant on that Sunday morning."

Commissioner Boulger asked for the officer's diary and the latter produced a piece of paper and reading from it stated that on one occasion between 1:30 and 2 a. m. he saw 17 men come out of the place while on another occasion between 3 and 3:30 o'clock he saw 20 men come out. He said that the men would go in one or two at a time, but as a general rule all would come out together.

In answer to a question put by Commissioner Hanson witness said that prior to the times testified to he had seen men go in after hours but not so frequently as of late.

Answering Commissioner Boulger he said he saw Mr. Ferguson in front of the hotel after hours but had no conversation with him relative to the traffic going on.

Mr. Ferguson Testifies.

Proprietor Ferguson after being sworn said: "I was up until one o'clock on the morning in question and then retired. After 11 o'clock the hotel office is on the second floor. I have had 30 or 40 people go in, like they would go into any other hotel. They were looking for liquor but we always refused to serve them. About two o'clock the clerk came to my room and told me what had happened. He said that the men found in the room were friends of his and he had taken advantage of my being alone and served them."

"My instructions to the clerks have been not to sell any liquor after 11 o'clock and I thought that they would carry out my instructions. The whole substance of the matter is that I am a victim of circumstances, though I know that I am responsible for the acts of my employees."

The case was taken under advisement by the board and at a later hour it was voted to suspend the license for 30 days, beginning June 8 at 11 p. m.

Dolan's License Granted

In the executive session it was voted to grant a fourth class license to James J. Dolan at 84 Concord street. This was the 105th license to be granted and there now remains but one more to be granted.

Eugene A. Shea, who has a license of the first class—that is, to sell liquors to be drunk on the premises—in Upper Broadway, was summoned before the board on a complaint that he had sold a half pint of whiskey to a person in violation of the conditions of his license. Daniel J. Donahue appeared for Mr. Shea and after explaining that he had been busily engaged and did not have a chance to look into the case in a manner as thorough as he would desire, also that Mr. Shea and his bartender were to appear in police court on Thursday morning to answer to a complaint charging them with the illegal sale of liquor, asked the board to continue the hearing for a week or ten days. Chairman Mullaney objected to any long continuance and asked counsel if the case was to be heard in police court why the hearing could not be held on Friday. Mr. Donahue, however, explained that he would be engaged on that date. Then Monday night was suggested, but one of the commissioners stated that he would be unable to be present at that time and it was finally agreed that the hearing be held on next Tuesday night.

The minor licenses were granted as follows:

Hawker and peddler: James Brown, 240 High street; David Welch, 17 Watson street; John F. Hall, 118 Sanders street; Peter Deschenes, 79 Pawtucket street.

Junk collector: Ebron Sheestair, 81 Railroad street.

Common victualer: May Conroy, 233 Dutton street.

Express: Lyons and Donnelly, by Lee L. Lyons, 36 Washington street.

Auctioneer: George L. Hubbard, 301 Wyman's exchange.

MOLLY VARNUM CHAPTER

A well attended meeting of Molly Varnum chapter, D. A. R., was held yesterday afternoon at the Spaulding house. Mrs. G. C. Brock, who was a delegate at the continental congress recently held at Washington, read a paper on the events of interest in the chapter, which was listened to with great interest. Tea was served by the hospital committee, Mrs. Charles O. Wilson, chairman, and a special hour was enjoyed.

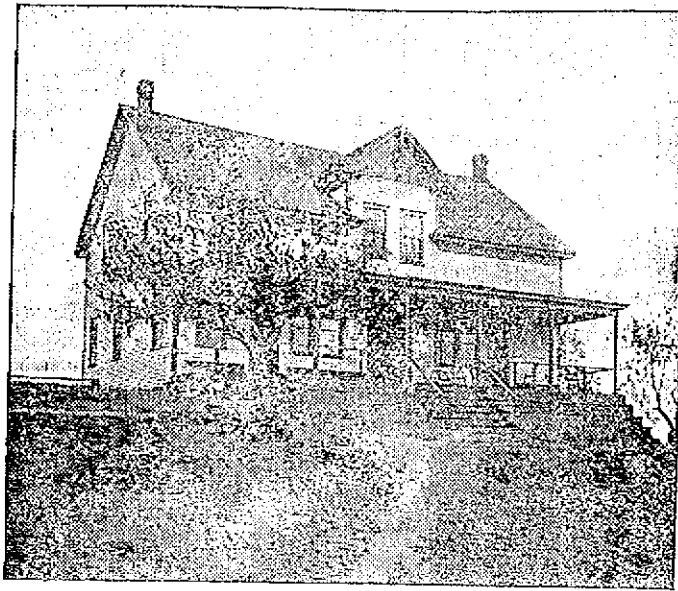

Weak Heart

Many people suffer from weak hearts. They may experience shortness of breath on exertion, pain over the heart, or dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals or their eyes become blurred, their heart is not sufficiently strong to pump blood to the extremities, and they have cold hands and feet, or poor appetite because of weakened blood supply to the stomach. A heart tonic and alterative should be taken which has no bad after-effect. Such is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which contains no dangerous narcotics nor alcohol.

The ingredients, as attested under oath, are Stone root (Coffinsonia Canadensis), Bloodroot (Sanguinaria Canadensis), Golden Seal root (Hydrastis Canadensis), Queen's root (Stillingia Syriatica), Black Cherry bark (Prunus Virginiana), Mandrake root (Podophyllum Peltatum), with triple refined glycerine, prepared in a scientific laboratory in a way that no drugist could imitate.

This tonic contains no alcohol to shrink up the red blood corpuscles; but, on the other hand, it increases their number and they become round and healthy. It helps the human system in the constant manufacture of rich, red blood. It helps the stomach to assimilate or take up the proper elements from the food, thereby helping digestion and curing dyspepsia, heart-burn and many uncomfortable symptoms, stops excessive tissue waste in convalescence from fevers; and vitalizing. Stick to this safe and sure remedy, and refuse all "just as good" medicines offered by the druggist who is looking for a larger profit. Nothing but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will do you half as much good.

U.S. BUNTING CLUB OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

THE CLUB HOUSE OF THE U. S. BUNTING CLUB

Jubilant Over Prospects of Fine New Club House

The members of the Bunting club are most enthusiastic over the prospects for the future since the purchase of the Marshall and Green estates of 25 acres in the vicinity of the present grounds which are leased by the club, the lease expiring in 1913.

At last week's meeting of the club a committee consisting of Capt. Philip McNulty, William Dickson and Thomas Wilde, was named to survey the estate and report back as to what should be cleared and put into shape as soon as possible for the purposes of the club. The committee was instructed to report back at the next meeting of the directors. The club desires if possible to have the new place in readiness by the time of the expiration of the lease of the present quarters.

Elaborate plans have been discussed for the new club home which if carried out will make the Bunting the possessor of one of the finest recreation places in New England. Six or eight acres will be cleared at once so as to get the ground in good condition when the lease expires. Then with the size of the entire lot a landscape designer will have no difficulty in planning a quarter mile track enclosing sufficient space for cricket, foot ball and base ball. The majestic woodlands with a stream running through will form a beautiful entrance to the club house and the recreation park. A rustic bridge will span the stream and it will be restocked with trout and pickerel which once were numerous in its waters. The cricket grounds will be so graded as to be flooded for skating in the winter while there will be accommodations for tennis, bowling on the green and a gymnasium.

In connection with the club house, bowling alleys are proposed. The work of clearing away the land will be begun at once and in a short time members will be able to get a good idea of the elaborateness of their new home.

ANNUAL MEETING

Of the Lowell Congregational Club

The members of the Lowell Congregational club held their annual meeting last night at the Dracut Centre church. The business meeting with the address was held in the auditorium, which was beautifully decorated with flowers. There were musical numbers by Mr. Albert Harden, vocalist; Miss Pearl Morgan, violin; with Misses Inez Beals and Julia M. Fox accompanying. The meeting was presided over by Rev. A. F. Dunne, in the absence of the president, Mr. L. A. Olney.

The report of the clerk for the year, showed that there have been 39 additions to the membership, and the total number is 178.

Rev. A. C. Ferrin, for the home work committee, reported no special activity among the churches except the fact that the pastors are working the Boy Scout idea, or, rather, the Boy Scout idea is working the pastors.

The membership committee reported, and the following officers were elected for the next year: President, Rev. A. F. Dunne; vice-president, Mr. Henry A. Smith; secretary and treasurer, Mr. Louis Alexander.

Home work committee—Rev. F. G. Alger, chairman; Rev. A. C. Ferrin, Rev. George F. Kenngott, Dr. D. E. Yarnall, Rev. James E. Gregg, Rev. E.

ALL HAIL TO THE BELMONT SUFFRAGE FARM

NO WEAK BACKS IN THIS CROWD

Latest of all Mrs. Belmont's philanthropic ideas is the "suffrage farm" on Long Island. Moved by the suffering of the shirt waist and other factory workers, Mrs. Belmont determined to give these workers who wanted to learn farming a chance to do so. This they are doing on a portion of her estates in the most scientific manner. Only a certain number of girls can be admitted, and there is a long waiting list, showing that the call of the soil is being heard enthusiastically by these tenement girls.

READING THE SUNDIAL

THE BORROWER

IS THE MOST BOTHERSOME PERSON KNOWN

Of all the maddening people in the world women who borrow things are the worst. They are the shiftless ones of the earth, those who live on others, and as long as they can borrow from others they will never take the trouble to acquire anything for themselves or to take care of or keep in order anything.

Sometimes it will be found that women borrow because they have not the means to buy. As a rule, they are poor because they are wasteful, and they will smash as readily the things they borrow as they have already destroyed their own things.

People with "hard hands" rarely amount to anything. Beware of trusting in important matters the woman who is forever smashing teacups, taking the handles off baskets, the heads off pins, scratching and cutting furniture, blotting scissors, etc. She has not the saving, preserving instinct and will not know how to look after your interests any more than she has the intimate things in her charge.

There are some that build and some that tear down in this world, and those who can take something bad and make it into something good are the ones to cling to, not vice versa.

Borrowers, as a rule, belong to the destroying class. They are shiftless and mentally lazy, so they do not like to go to the trouble of thinking beforehand as to whether they have the necessary things.

They prefer to depend on some neighbor, whose brain consequently has to work for both.

Nothing is more discouraging, indeed, than to be a good provider, an orderly person, and go to your desk or shelf or closet at a certain time expecting to find a certain article, only to find it missing because it has been borrowed, or, worse still, out of working order or broken.

Borrowers should be worse than discouraged; they should be "cut out" entirely from one's acquaintance.

that the Common street side is the nearest to the most congested district for people who have been housed up in factories during the day and that it is absolutely necessary that the seats should be placed on that side of the common. He says that the parks are for rest and enjoyment, and that it should not be expected that the aged and sick should stand and swelter while seeking to enjoy the benefits of the breathing grounds that they are taxed for.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

A very enthusiastic meeting of the members of St. John's parish was held last night in St. John's church to make arrangements for the annual gala and field day to be conducted at Nabunnetts grove on July 4th by St. John's and St. Catherine's parishes. The meeting was called to order at 7:30 by Rev. Mr. Doherty who was pleased with the attendance at the meeting despite the storm. He said that knowing that the members of the parish were so willing to come out last night made him feel that he had their full support and co-operation in all his undertakings. Fr. Doherty is general manager of the affair and he is to be assisted by a committee of five from St. John's parish and a like committee from St. Catherine's parish. These committees to be appointed at a meeting to be held in Graniteville tomorrow night. The committee from St. John's parish is William J. Quigley, Michael Scelan, John McQuaid, Mary Tobin and Floretta Ward, who will appoint all the sub-committees from the parish. It is the intention of the committee to make this affair a grand success socially as well as financially and an event that will be anticipated each year by the people of St. John's and St. Catherine's parishes. The affair will start in the morning and continue throughout the day with dancing in the afternoon and evening.

CARDINAL GIBBONS

Is Highly Honored by the Nation's Leaders

Pres. Taft Paid High Tribute to His Virtues — 15,000 Persons Present at the Reception — Gov. Crothers Was the Presiding Officer

BALTIMORE, June 7—Cardinal Gibbons missed his afternoon walk yesterday for the first time in years, one of the very few in the 25 years that he has been the only prince of the Catholic church in the United States.

Instead of an afternoon stroll over the streets of Baltimore, listening to the troubles of "his people," he sat on a temporary throne in the 5th regiment armory and listened to the great men of the nation speak in eulogy of him.

President Taft, Vice-President Sherman, Chief Justice White, former President Roosevelt, Ambassador Bryce of Great Britain, Speaker Clark, Senator Root of New York, Gov. Crothers of Maryland, former Speaker Cannon and Mayor Preston of Baltimore sat with the cardinal and all of them, except the chief justice, spoke in praise of him. Among the 600 guests seated on the platform behind the president, the cardinal and the other speakers, were more than a score of senators and members of the house of representatives. The armory holds 15,000 people, and it was crowded.

President Escorts Cardinal

The cardinal sat in a red plush chair in the center of the stage. To his right was President Taft; then came former President Roosevelt and Chief Justice White. On the cardinal's left were Gov. Crothers of Maryland, Ambassador Bryce, Speaker Clark and Representative Cannon. The ovation that greeted Col. Roosevelt as he came up the steps with Chief Justice White was remarkable, but the one which greeted the cardinal as he climbed the stairs with President Taft was far more remarkable.

The cardinal wore the red robe, the skull cap of red and the deep green ring of office. Through all the speeches he sat smiling, every changing expression of his wrinkled and kindly face and his bright eyes attesting the pleasure that the tribute afforded him. He smiled like a boy when President Taft introduced him to Colonel Roosevelt. He laughed with glee when the chief justice shook his hand, and the chest of a grin flickered over his face when Speaker Clark, mixing for a moment politics with religion, declared that he had been a potent force for good "among both Catholics and republicans."

The President's Encomiums
Following Governor Crothers, who presided, President Taft spoke, saying:

"This assembly, I venture to say, can find few counterparts in history. We are not as American citizens to congratulate the American people, one of the great churches of the world upon the 25th anniversary of his accession to the highest office in his church but one, and upon the 50th anniversary of his entering the church as one of its priests."

"We are not here as members of any denomination. We are not here in any official capacity. But we are here to recognize and honor in him his high virtues as a patriotic member of our political community and one who through his long and useful life has spared no efforts in the cause of good citizenship and the uplifting of his fellowmen."

As American citizens we are proud that his prominence in the church brought him 25 years ago the rank of cardinal. But what we are especially delighted to see confirmed in him and his life is the entire consistency which he has demonstrated between earnest and single minded patriotism and love of country, on the one hand, and sincere devotion to his church upon the other. One of the tenets of his church is respect for constituted authority, and always we have found him on the side of law and order, always in favor of peace and good-will to all men, always in favor of religious tolerance and always strong in the conviction that complete freedom in the matter of religion is the best condition under which churches may thrive.

Prelate as a Neighbor
"Nothing could more clearly show the character of the man whose jubilee we celebrate than the living testimonial that this assembly is to his value as a neighbor in the community of Baltimore. If you would find what a man is, go to his home and neighbors, and there, if everything that he does and says rings true and shows his heart-whole interest in the welfare of men and women and children near about him, you have the strongest proof of his virtues as a lover of mankind."

In spite of the burden and responsibilities of his high position in the church, he has taken part in the many great movements for the betterment of mankind and has shown himself not only a good Catholic in the church sense, but he has been broadly catholic in the secular sense of that word, so that the affection felt for him by his co-religionists has spread to all denominations and to all the people who are quick to perceive a disinterested friend.

That he may long continue active in his present high position, that he may long continue in secular movements to take the prominent place he has always had in works of usefulness, is the fervent prayer of Catholics and Protestant of Jew and Christian."

"I am here," said Vice President Sherman, to speak for the greatest legislative body in the world, and speaking for them to felicitate you upon this day and occasion and to offer to you our loyal respect and heartfelt good will."

Col. Roosevelt Predicts
When Mr. Roosevelt rose to speak the crowd cheered for half a minute while Speaker Clark held the watch.

"While the American people may differ among themselves on questions of religion, they are united on questions of good citizenship."

GREAT WELCOME

Madero's Entrance Into Mexico City Occasion for Ovation

Score of Other Trains Escorted Madero's Train to the Capital — Remarkable Demonstration in the Capital City—Big Parade in His Honor

MEXICO CITY, June 7.—Amid the wildest confusion Francisco Madero today entered the seat of the government which he overthrew.

Throngs fell in behind Madero's carriage as it passed along the street until a great noisy but friendly procession had been formed. Scores of civilian societies, political organizations, women in carriages and soldiers in parade uniform moved on to the quick step music of the military bands.

It was a spectacle stirring and unusual but amid the popular rejoicing a close observer could detect an undercurrent of resentment on the part of the unreconciled aristocracy that looked on silent, though not unmoved.

Rumors of plots against the hero of the day were rife as well as reports that secret arrests had been suddenly made. Antonio Villagencia, former chief of police, was taken into custody last night. Immunity as members of the house of deputies is said to have stayed the arm of the law against others alleged to have been implicated in a plot, the discovery of which was followed by the arrest of W. L. Dunn, an American, at Monterey, and Daniel Devillers, a former police head. These two men are accused of being at the head of the plotters.

Madero's special train was preceded to the capital by a score of other trains which went up the line yesterday to participate in the demonstrations enroute and escort the rebel general to the city. The occupants of

ST. LOUIS, June 7.—Baseball experts all over the country have been figuring only four clubs—New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and Pittsburgh—in the hunt for the pennant in the National league. Not one word has been said about the St. Louis Cardinals, yet that team has been going along lately winning games with great regularity. At the present stage of the race the Cardinals are in fifth position. Brennan's pitchers are going along very nicely, and if they can keep at it the team will open the eyes of the experts who figured them out of the hunt. Salce, the Cardinals' star southpaw, is in fine form. Knott is playing a great game at first. Ellis has shown a big improvement in his outfield playing and is battling the ball hard. Pitcher Harmon has improved over last season's form and is now one of the Cardinals' winning these trains filled the platforms of the stations where stops were made, but the general public remained outside, held in restraint through fear of a too enthusiastic demonstration on its part. Madero was greeted by Senora Serdan, one of the heroines of the rebellion, who handed him a laurel wreath. Senora Serdan is the widow of one of the first revolutionary conspirators to lose his life. His home in Puebla in preparation for the revolt was used as a storehouse for rifles and ammunition. The secret was discovered by the government and Serdan was killed in defending his home.

When the husband fell his wife and her two sisters seized rifles and continued the resistance until they were overpowered. The women were thrown into jail, where they languished for months. With the triumph of the Madero party, a Serdan society was formed here and Senora Serdan was brought to the capital to greet the man for whose cause she and her family had suffered so much. The little woman tendered the wreath without a word. What Madero said could not be heard above the din that greeted the incident.

A brief address of welcome was made by Dr. Cuthberts Hidalgo, after which a parade was formed. The various bodies participating had been at the rendezvous since daylight, and each had been assigned a position in the line, into which it fell at the proper moment.

Banners bearing Madero's likeness were everywhere mingled with the national colors and slogans of the revolution. Looming larger than all others were banners bearing the single word "Order." These were intended to influence the populace to restrain the more turbulent impulses. Shopkeepers as a rule were inclined to be on the safe side and generally the windows of their places were shuttered.

From the railroad station the procession moved through the streets to the park at the national palace and thence to the Madero home at the corner of Calles de Berlin and Calles de Liverpool.

BRIDE ARRESTED

She is Charged With Larceny

PHILADELPHIA, June 7.—As she hurried herself in the arrangement of her new home at 233 North Wanamaker street, where she has been a bride of 48 hours, Mrs. Mary White, a young woman, was arrested by Detectives Long and Clear yesterday and taken to city hall, where she was publicly accused of being a thief and was held to await the action of the Newport, R. I., authorities.

The detectives declare the young woman to be a fugitive from justice and say she is wanted at the fashionable Newport colony for the theft of thousands of dollars' worth of jewelry and valuables belonging to a wealthy resident. A string of black rosary beads, sacred with the memories of an honored ancestor, proved the nemesis which reached from a rich Newport home to a Philadelphia bridal suite and led to the arrest. Remove, it is said, over the theft of the rosary and fear that the possession of the sacred beads would bring ill-luck and disaster in her new married life, are said to have prompted the young woman to send the stolen beads back to her former employer. The postmark on the envelope returned was the clue upon which the detectives worked to bring about the arrest of the bride.

RICH MAN'S SON

Was Given a Prison Sentence

BOSTON, June 7.—Robert Schumaker, a graduate of a Chicago university and the son of Robert F. Schumaker of Chicago, a wealthy business man of that city, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Hardy in the superior criminal court, East Cambridge, to serve three to four years at hard labor at the State prison, following his plea of guilty to breaking and entering. With the exception of four days, since March of 1909 he has been confined in prison, first at the Concord Reformatory and later at the East Cambridge jail. It was not until yesterday that his real name was learned, he being arrested under the names of George Harris and Harry H. Hanson. When his case was called yesterday Schumaker, who declares that he was born in Burlington, Ill., Sept. 11, 1885, and is 24 years of age, arose in the prisoner's cage and pleaded guilty to two indictments of breaking and entering and then reviewed his life since he left the home of his father in Chicago in 1905, when he was 19 years of age.

HOTEL MEN VISIT LEXINGTON BOSTON, June 7.—Automobiles carrying scores of hotel men from all parts of the country and their families, today churned up the muddy roads over which Paul Revere galloped in 1776. It had been raining all night but when the delegates to the Hotelmen's Mutual Benefit Association convention climbed into the machines the sun suddenly broke through the clouds. A delightful summer day favored the visitors on their trip to historic Lexington.

RAISING CROPS

College Man to Teach Labrador People

BOSTON, June 7.—Huckleberries, blueberries, gooseberries and cranberries will soon be growing in Labrador if C. Martyn Spencer, an energetic young graduate of the McDonald Agricultural college in Montreal, in his experiments is successful. Spencer, who is a cousin of Dr. Wilfred Grenfell, sailed out of Boston harbor today aboard the missionary schooner Lorna Doone to devote his life to teaching the natives of Labrador how to help themselves in the matter of raising crops.

Interesting in connection with the young college man's venture is the fact that the schooner on which he sailed is making her last voyage northward. For years the Lorna Doone has been the only link between the lonely mission in Labrador and civilization. The faithful old craft is to be sold and its place taken by the George Clewett, a fine three-masted auxiliary schooner now nearing completion in New York.

DR. HUNTINGTON PRESIDES OVER COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

BOSTON, June 7.—The last Boston university commencement over which President William E. Huntington will preside was held in Tremont temple today. Dr. Huntington retires at the close of the college year. Conspicuous among the large number of graduates who received degrees today were four women from the law school. Miss Mary A. Bradbury of Saco, Me., was one of them and she was graduated with high honors. If she is successful in passing the bar examinations she intends entering practice with her father, who is a Saco lawyer. The others were Cora L. Cudworth, Sadie M. Ripner and Charlotte A. Perkins, all of greater Boston. The temple was packed to the door with relatives and friends of the graduates when Dewitt Clinton Huntington, chancellor emeritus of Nebraska Wesleyan university, offered the prayer. Hamilton Wright Marble of New York delivered the address of the day.

CLOSING DAY OF THE PLAY FOR WOMAN'S GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

NEWTON, June 7.—The third and closing day of the championship play of the Women's Eastern Golf association tournament found two Philadelphia women fighting it out for first place, while Boston for the first time since the association was formed six years ago will lose the eastern championship. Mrs. Ronald Barlow of the Merion Cricket club, Philadelphia, had only to maintain an approach to the same form she has shown in the last two days of play to come out an easy winner. Her nearest competitor is Mrs. C. F. Fox, also of the Quaker city, who showed up so well in her second 18 holes yesterday that she jumped from sixth to second place, although still ten strokes behind Mrs. Barlow for the 36 holes.

COURT CROWDED

To Hear Charges of Harvard Students

BOSTON, June 7.—An eager throng of spectators crowded into the municipal court today to hear the testimony in the case of William Crapo, an aged retired mariner, who yesterday pleaded guilty of throwing sulphuric acid at a party of Harvard students who had called at his lodging house on Massachusetts avenue. This city, for the purpose of inducing three young ladies longing there to take an automobile ride to Providence early Sunday morning. Crapo, who is 74 years old, was released yesterday on bail of $300 and was ordered to appear in court today for sentence. In the meantime the authorities at Harvard summoned four students who were said to have been implicated in the matter to the office of the dean. As a result of this conference between the dean and students three of them are said by one of their number to have been suspended for the remainder of the college year while the case of the fourth will be acted upon today.

KNABE SUSPENDED BECAUSE HE HAD TROUBLE WITH UMPIRE

BIG CONFERENCE OF CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS OPENS TONIGHT

BOSTON, June 7.—Anticipating a record attendance at the annual conference of charities and corrections, which opens in Tremont temple tonight, officials of the organization have secured seven of the city's large halls for the extensive and varied program of the coming week. Many of the more prominent workers have already arrived and today's registration showed a long list of delegates from the larger centres of the country. Permanent headquarters for the officials of the conference were established during the day in the rooms of the Boston university law school. The problem of prison labor was the subject for the first meeting of the conference tonight.

JOHN DILLON REPORTED TO BE NOT SERIOUSLY INJURED

BOSTON, June 7.—A cable message received from Dublin today by John O'Callaghan, national secretary of the United Irish league of America, from Joseph Devlin, secretary of the United Irish League in Ireland, stated that the injuries sustained by John Dillon, M. P., in an automobile accident Monday are not serious. "Dillon all right" is the message sent by Mr. Devlin.

SECY WILSON

GUEST OF THE DETROIT BOARD OF COMMERCE

DETROIT, June 7.—Secretary of Agriculture Wilson is the guest of honor on the annual cruise of the Detroit board of commerce—termed the "reciprocity cruise" this year—leaving Detroit at one o'clock this afternoon. The board of commerce members, together with Secretary Wilson, will champion the reciprocity agreement on board the steamer and at the meetings scheduled in the cities of northern Michigan. United States Senator Smith of Michigan, who opposes the reciprocity agreement, is also making the trip. The steamer will reach the Soo locks early Thursday afternoon and the first stop will be at Hancock Friday morning.

with the postal authorities arrangements were made whereby the route on the street was divided and the carriers started from the office earlier and now the mail of the business section is delivered, in some cases, before the business houses are open.

The board received a committee representing the Postal Clerk and carriers' association in regard to the closing of the delivery windows on Sunday and adopted resolutions in favor of closing the same. The Sunday closing is in no way to interfere with the delivery of special mail or box service.

Attention was called to the collection of mail from the street boxes throughout the city. In many cases the road matter was obliterated and the time of collection did not agree with the stated time.

The matter of delivering mail to people at the delivery window without being identified or signed for was called to the attention of the postmaster and assurance was given that people receiving mail at the office would sign their name and address before receiving mail in the future.

Arrangements were made whereby a collection of mail from all street boxes in the business district will be made as late as 5 p. m. so that all mail will be forwarded on the last train to Boston each night insuring early delivery the next day.

New City Charter

The initiative for the drafting of a new city charter was instituted by the Lowell board of trade. The directors in meeting assembled endorsed the movement and a committee of sixty representative men from all sections of the city was selected to discuss the matter of a new charter. The first meeting resulted in the choice of William H. Wilson as chairman and John H. Murphy as secretary, and weekly meetings were held at the rooms of the board of trade to discuss the merits of the various phases of consideration of government.

Speakers were secured from cities having the commission form of government and mass meetings were held throughout the city in an endeavor to obtain popular opinions and suggestions in regard to the final draft.

A draft was prepared by a committee of eight representative men of the committee and the matter thoroughly discussed, section by section, at the meetings of the committee.

The bill was submitted to the legislature and a public hearing held upon the matter, and if the legislature passes the bill a campaign of education will be conducted before the time for voting upon the matter.

River Bank Park

The committee appointed by the board for the purpose of securing the land between the river and the new county highway between Lowell and Lawrence has been diligently at work and has succeeded in securing a map showing the river, the land and the road.

The map has been placed in the hands of the Massachusetts Commission of Public Reservations for investigation and it is the earnest desire of the committee that the Locks and Canal Co. and the Essex Co. will allow the land to be held in trust by the public reservation commission. The secretary of the commission, Mr. John Woodbury, is highly enthused over the project and we can rest assured of his hearty co-operation in this matter.

Merrimack River Navigation

The Lowell board of trade was represented at the convention of delegates of the Merrimack Valley Waterway association held at Salisbury July 14, 1910, at which time a general discussion of the improvements of the river was held. The adverse report of Col. Burr, chief of the engineering corps in regard to the river has hampered the progress of the undertaking, but it seems possible with the right kind of agitation by the compiling of statistics showing the advantages to accrue from the use of the river that the matter could be repeated. Much could be done with the aid of the congressmen of the district in bringing the claims of the people of this valley to the attention of the authorities at Washington.

Licensing of Newsboys

A matter which received the commendation of the general public was the matter of licensing the newsboys of Lowell. A set of rules and regulations was discussed and presented to the school board with the request that it direct its attention to the licensing of newsboys.

The matter is now well regulated, boys are never seen on the street after 8 p. m., little girls are prohibited from selling papers, and the business is regulated in a first rate manner.

Industrial School

The board has taken an active part in encouraging the establishment of an industrial school in Lowell. The lecture by Charles S. Prosser of the Mass. state board of education before the sociology department of the Middlesex Women's club was widely advertised and members invited to attend, and a petition was sent to the school board and the city council asking that an investigation be made to determine the need of such a school in Lowell.

Housing Problem

The committee on public health has been charged for some time in preparing a tenement house act, which is to be presented to the city council to be enacted as an ordinance governing the location, maintenance, and alteration of buildings within the city limits.

The matter will shortly be completed.

City Beautiful

Thousands of feet of bill boards have been removed by a campaign conducted by the City Beautiful Committee. That these bill boards are a disfigurement and a menace to the community, everyone will agree, and our city is as free from this nuisance as any city of its size. The committee is advised of any new boards to be erected and would appreciate the co-operation of all property owners in refusing to allow the erection of boards in front of or on their property.

During the year the best of the boards along the property of the city were removed and many owners of private property were appealed to and boards removed.

Municipal Affairs

During the year the committee on municipal affairs has been quite active. A set of traffic regulations was drawn up, a hearing held upon the merits of the rules and they finally presented to the city government to be acted upon in the form of an ordinance.

The regulations will tend to avoid congestion in the business sections and act as a safeguard against accidents. They also tend to establish uniform driving, stopping and crossing rules.

Conventions

Many conventions have been held in Lowell during the year and the benefits accruing from these conventions are obvious.

Following is the list of organizations which have held conventions during the year:

Ancient Order of Hibernians.
State Association of Stationary Engineers.
Carpenters Union.
Bricklayers Union.
Mass. Firemen's Relief Association.
Spanish War Veterans.
Mass. Home Furnishers Association.

Lay Out of Streets

Through the initiative of the board the legislature passed a bill ordering all streets laid out within the city to be approved by the mayor, superintendent of streets and the city engineer.

The advantages of the bill are many. New streets will have to be put to grade and laid out in a direction approved by the city officers. This bill will protect the development of the city from further irregularities in the lay-out of streets.

This committee has also arranged with Mr. Freeman B. Shedd for the grant of land along Rogers street to provide for the widening thereof.

In Memoriam

During the year it has been the sad experience of the organization to lose by death three of its members and at this time it seems proper to mention the names of ex-President Charles H. Conant, George W. Field, and Simon Cavanaugh, all of whom were loyal members.

Conclusion

The general interests of the city of Lowell are represented by the board of trade. The scope of the projects considered and the results obtained are not of particular but of general advantage. The work of the board is a power for good and the influence of the organization is ever increasing.

The opportunities for the year have been great, and the results satisfactory. If Lowell is to keep pace with the growth of her sister cities the board of trade must be depended upon as a material factor in this development and must be accorded such support as is in keeping with the importance of the work.

Local Press

The board is greatly indebted to the local newspapers for the loyal support rendered to the different undertakings of the board during the year.

There have appeared in the local papers 264 columns, or space equal to a newspaper of 30 pages relative to the board.

The secretary desires at this time publicly to express his sincere thanks and appreciation to the officials and staff of the local papers for their very generous co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

John H. Murphy,

Sec'y Lowell board of trade.

A CRY FOR HELP!

dogma," Col. Roosevelt said, "they unite on what counts more than dogma, conduct. We read now and then about people complaining that the churches are growing smaller, and that they are losing their influence. But there will be no complaints in the future if that church makes as its cardinal principal the rendering of service to the people. No church will have to defend itself so long as those who are high in the church devote themselves to the people as you, Cardinal Gibbons, have devoted yourself to them."

"We will see presidents who are Catholics as well as presidents who are Protestants, and we will see presidents who are Gentiles."

"The cardinal has fought for the lovely. He has shown by his life that justice can come only through law and order. He has set an example for all of us by the things for which he has striven and the way in which he has striven."

Praised by Senator Root

"Words," said Senator Root, "however eloquent, are but feeble in expressing the meaning of such an assemblage as this. Cardinal Gibbons illustrates the union of service to the state and service to God. He is a bulwark against atheism and anarchy, a bulwark against the tearing down of morality and government upon which the foundations of our country depend."

"The affection for Cardinal Gibbons," said Speaker Clark, "is just as strong west of the great river as it is east. He has been a potent force for good among both Catholics and republicans. No man ever served in either house of congress or both as long as he, no man ever served on the supreme bench that longer only one judge has ever sat as long as Cardinal Gibbons; only one officer of the navy and no officer of the army has served that long. I wish him peace, prosperity and length of days."

Cardinal Gibbons' Address

Cardinal Gibbons said: "I am filled with emotions of gratitude by this extraordinary manifestation on the part of my fellow-citizens, without distinction of race or religion or condition of life, and I am overwhelmed with confusion by the unmerited encomiums which have been pronounced by the president of the United States, the vice-president, the chief justice of the United States, the former president, the speaker of the house of representatives, the governor of Maryland and the mayor of Baltimore."

"Gentlemen, you have portrayed your subject, not I fear as he is, but as he should be. But your portrait is so attractive that it shall be my endeavor to resemble it more and more every day of the few years that remain to me. One merit only I can truly claim, and that is an ardent love for my native country and her political institutions. Ever since I entered the sacred ministry my aim has been to make those over whom I exerted any influence not only more upright Christians, but also more loyal citizens. For the most faithful Christian makes the best citizen."

Republic Precious Heirloom

"I consider the republic of the United States one of the most precious heirlooms ever bestowed on mankind down

of a Supreme Being who created all things by His power, and whose superintending Providence watches over the affairs of nations and of men."

"When the framers of our immortal constitution were in session Benjamin Franklin complained to his colleagues of the small progress they had made after several weeks of deliberation. He used these memorable words: 'We have spent many days in fruitless discussion. We have been groping in the dark, because we have not sought light from the Father of Light to illumine our understanding. I have lived, he continued, 'for many years, and the guided by Christian ideals. It has recognized the existence of a superintending providence. This is evident from the fact that our presidents from the first to the last have almost invariably invoked the aid of our Heavenly Father in their inaugural proclamations. Both houses of congress are opened with prayer. The Christian Sabbath is recognized and observed throughout the land. The president of the United States issues an annual proclamation inviting his fellow-citizens to assemble in their respective houses of worship and thank the Almighty for the blessings vouchsafed to us as a nation."

"It is true, indeed, that there is no official union of church and state in this country. But we must not infer from this that there is any antagonism between the civil and religious authorities. Far from it—the church and state move on parallel lines. They mutually assist one another. The state holds over the spiritual rulers the aegis of its protection without interfering with the sacred and God-given rights of conscience. And the church, on her part, helps to enforce the civil laws by moral and religious sanctions."

Great Captain on Bridge

"I fear that we do not fully realize and are not duly grateful for the anxious cares by which our chief magistrates and the heads of the co-ordinate branches of the government are preoccupied in the discharge of their official duties. And these cares are the price which is paid for our domestic peace and comfort and the tranquility of the commonwealth. When the traveler in mid-ocean is buffeted by the waves he feels a sense of security, because he knows that the captain and his officers are at the post of duty. So do we securely rest on our pillows because we are conscious that our Great Captain and his associates in office are diligently steering the ship of state."

"It is the duty of us all, churchmen and laymen, to hold up the hands of our president, as Aaron and Hur stayed up the hands of Moses."

"Let us remember that our chief executive and all subordinate magistrates are the accredited agents and ministers of God, and are clothed with divine authority, and, therefore, it is our duty and should be our delight to aid them by every means in our power in guiding and controlling the destiny of our glorious republic."

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE SHOCK

BURIED IN RUINS EXTRA A MURDER CASE

Earthquake Wrecked Buildings in Mexico City--Soldiers Killed

MEXICO CITY, June 7.—An earthquake at 4 a. m. wrecked several buildings, including the artillery quarters, where 70 soldiers were buried in the ruins. The dead and wounded are estimated between 50 and 70.

Several persons were killed through the collapse of the building of the street railroad power plant. At Buena Vista the street car tracks were twisted. The quake was followed by an explosion of gas at the artillery barracks which added to the horror of the scene.

The shock was more severely felt in the western part of the city, though buildings in the central part of the capital were rocked. The only foreigner killed was a Chinese. The artillery quarters ruined by the earthquake was a long low building of ancient construction near the Belem prison used chiefly as a government arsenal. During the recent disturbance large forces of soldiers had been quartered in this building. The Belem prison is in the same locality and also houses a large number of people, its criminal inmates reaching at times as high as several thousand. Warehouses at the central station collapsed and an engineer was killed. A private boarding school was wrecked but none of the occupants was injured. The national palace had one of its walls cracked, the keystone of one of the arches was displaced. The ancient cathedral of Santi Domingo was damaged.

SUCCESSFUL SALE COMMENCEMENT AT NEW PARK

In Aid of the Humane Society

A well attended and successful sale in aid of the Lowell Humane society was held in the carriage house of Mr. Jacob Rogers in Andover street, this afternoon. It was the intention of the management to use the spacious grounds but owing to the heavy rains of yesterday and this morning the lawn was damp and it was deemed advisable to confine the affair to the carriage house. Despite this fact the attendance demonstrated that the people of this city appreciate the work which is being carried on by the organization and at the time of going to press this afternoon the place was taxed to its capacity and it was reported that the different sales tables were being well patronized.

Mrs. Frank D. Dunbar, who had general charge of the affair, worked hard in order to make it a success and undoubtedly tonight when the receipts of the different tables are counted up her hopes will be realized. The only disappointment that she felt was that the rain prevented the use of the grounds.

The feature of the affair was the fact that the public was cordially invited, no admission being charged, and this bright idea resulted in many people visiting the place and purchasing articles or enjoying a repast.

The carriage house was artistically decorated with American flags, bunting and greenery and the Germania orchestra, composed of ladies, gave a delightful concert program which was enjoyed by all present.

At different points of vantage about the spacious carriage house were sales tables, all of which were well patronized.

Mrs. Royden Pillsbury had charge of the grab table while Mrs. Joseph Smith had charge of the fancy table. The lemonade table, presided over by Mrs. George Leach, attracted many people while the ice cream table in charge of Mrs. E. E. Sawyer was well patronized. The candy table with Mrs. M. R. Jefferson at its head did a rushing business for the candy was of the choicest and there were many "sweet teeth" in attendance. Mrs. F. P. Marble had charge of the cake table and the cake like the candy was very palatable.

The success of the affair was due largely to the energetic efforts and zealous work of Mrs. Dunbar and she was ably assisted by the matrons of the different tables and the various persons who assisted on the tables.

TOMBSTONES DAMAGED

Several communications have been received at this office from Mr. W. E. The lot is opposite the Benjamin Butler monument and contains four stones. One of these stones, bearing the name of the writer's mother, is somewhat defaced, while off another a few pieces have been broken. Mr. Frye in company with his wife paid a visit to the lot some days ago and was astonished to see that such damage had been done to his property, and he expresses his hopes that the police will look into the matter and see that vagabonds are kept away entirely from the burial ground.

FUNERALS

LAUGHLIN—The funeral of Mary Laughlin took place this morning from her late home, 159 Broadway at 2 o'clock. High mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Patrick's church at 9:45 by Rev. Fr. McHugh. The choir sang the Gregorian mass, and as the body was being borne from the church the choir sang "In Paradisum." Miss Alice Murphy and Mr. Andrew McCarthy sustained the solos. Among the floral tributes were: Pillow inscribed "Sister" from sister and brother; standing cross from Thomas Ryan and family; wreath from Miss Della Carroll; sprays, Nora and Mary Riley; Miss Lizzie and Annie Hickey; Mr. John Ryan, Catherine and Delia Burke. The bearers were Daniel Martin, Thomas Foley, John Conley, and Martin Broderick. Interment was in St. Patrick's cemetery. Rev. Fr. McHugh read the committal prayers. Burial was in charge of Undertaker Peter H. Savage.

At 3 o'clock in the same rectory, Rev. Fr. Mullin united in marriage Frank Jeffers, one of Lowell's well known young men, and one of St. Peter's most charming daughters, Miss Anna Brady of Kilsman street. The best man was John J. Gallagher, brother of the groom, and the bride-maid was Adeline McCarter a sister of the bride. After the marriage ceremony the party proceeded to the home of the bride at the corner of Westford and Lane streets, where a wedding dinner was served.

AN INNOCENT MAN

Pardoned by Governor Foss After Serving 13 Years

BOSTON, June 7.—A remarkable statement obtained in Chicago from Arthur Hagan saved his "pal," John Chance, from serving out a sentence of the imprisonment for a murder for which Gov. Foss and his council had read the statement and conferred privately this afternoon, Chance was pardoned.

Hagan is now married and leading a law-abiding life in Chicago, according to Chief Inspector Dugan of the Boston police force. For years the man had written to Massachusetts governors, it is said. Each time he declared the innocence of his "pal," Governor Foss despatched Dugan on an investigation. The murder for which Chance was convicted was that of Charles L. Russell. Russell was standing behind his counter in a drug store in this city on the evening of April 4, 1898. Two men entered, and while Russell had his back turned to them he was shot dead. A coat was found which Chance admitted was his and upon this evidence he was convicted. Counsel for Hagan collapsed in court when the verdict was given and it was said at the time that he felt that his legal ability had saved his client but convicted an innocent man.

Hagan's statement to Inspector Dugan clears up the coat question and states that Chance is not guilty of the murder. Hagan does not say positively that he himself was implicated. As soon as the pardon was granted today attorneys for Chance hurried to the prison and shortly afterward Chance walked out a free man.

W. George Mullin. The best man was John J. Gallagher, brother of the groom, and the bride-maid was Adeline McCarter a sister of the bride. After the marriage ceremony the party proceeded to the home of the bride at the corner of Westford and Lane streets, where a wedding dinner was served.

Before Grand Jury at Lowell
Session Today

The grand jury had a murder case of a most unusual nature at its Lowell session this morning.

The case is that of Michael Patsalouras for the alleged murder of John Germanakos in a house in Brooks street some months ago.

The witnesses were a young girl named Mary Lucas, Mrs. Melgs and Simpson, Supt. Welch, Inspector Walsh and Interpreter John Reels. The case was taken up last, owing to the fact that Supt. Welch was detained in police court.

The alleged murder it appears grows out of a Greek custom relative to courting, the young man being obliged to have permission of the next of kin of the young woman. The Lucas girl and the murdered man kept company without the consent of the girl's cousin, Nicholas Paparos, and the latter forbade her receiving the attentions of Germanakos. On the night of the murder Paparos went to the girl's room, suspecting that Germanakos was there and demanded admittance.

Before opening the door the girl hid Germanakos in a closet where Paparos found him and a struggle ensued. While they were struggling Patsalouras entered the room and, as he claims, tried to separate the pair. Paparos, he claims, told him to hold Germanakos' arms, which he did, and while he was holding him, he stated, Paparos drew a revolver and shot Germanakos with fatal effect. Paparos made his escape but Patsalouras was caught and arrested on a charge of murder.

Six other Lowell cases were heard with one from Chelmsford and one from Billerica, and the grand jury finished its business here early in the afternoon.

The court will come in at Cambridge on Monday and the grand jury will report on Friday.

THE BULL WILL CASE

Counsel for Mrs. Vaughan Wants Letters Read in Court

ALFRED, Me., June 7.—The fourth week of the hearing of the contested will of the late Mrs. Ole Bull was begun in the probate court for York county today with Joseph Thorp, the executor and brother of Mrs. Bull, still on the stand. Mr. Whipple, counsel for Mrs. Ole Bull Vaughan, the contestant, began with an argument to secure the admission of some letters to show why Miss Margaret Noble, the most intimate friend of Mrs. Bull, left for Europe.

"Judge Hobbs asked: 'Do I understand that in order for Miss Noble to escape from being her sister's New York under an assumed name?'

Counsel for the contestant replied that she did not desire to be summoned before a special administrator. He did not know about the name she used."

Judge Hobbs inquired if the contestants desired to produce letters to show that the executors spirited Miss Noble away, to which Mr. Whipple replied that, not having read these letters, he did not like to make claims. On January 31, 1911, they apprised Mr. Thorp of what they thought Miss Noble knew and that she would be a material witness in the case.

Mr. Whipple stated that Mrs. Vaughan said to Mr. Thorp: "I believe that Miss Noble's evidence is of the greatest importance as she was my mother's most intimate friend during her last hours and should be produced." Mrs. Vaughan also said her sister, Mr. Thorp, had told her to call on him at any time and he would help her in any way to get the evidence together. Then she asked him to find Miss Noble.

To Charles K. Cobb, counsel for the will, Mr. Whipple said: "Mr. Cobb, when we read this will we said 'Produce Miss Noble' and you haven't done it."

Mr. Cobb answered that it would be important to call Miss Noble, but nothing would be gained by having these letters read.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Columbia university celebrated her 157th annual commencement today and conferred honorary degrees upon a number of notable men. Doctor of sacred theology—The Right Rev. William Lawrence, Episcopal bishop of Massachusetts.

Doctor of science—Chas. F. Stokes, 34, surgeon general of the United States navy.

Three Lowell boys were among the number to receive the degree of bachelor of science at the commencement exercises of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Paul E. Burnham of the course in civil engineering with the thesis "A Design for a System of Sewers for the Town of Topsfield, Massachusetts" and the Messrs. Ralph E. Daniels and Samuel H. Scribner of the course in civil engineering with the thesis "Joint An Investigation of the Relative Merits of Concrete, Timber and Steel Piers."

Mr. Cobb answered that it would be important to call Miss Noble, but nothing would be gained by having these letters read.

To Charles K. Cobb, counsel for the will, Mr. Whipple said: "Mr. Cobb, when we read this will we said 'Produce Miss Noble' and you haven't done it."

HUMANE SOCIETY

Report of Work Done by Agent

The members of the board of directors of the Lowell Humane society met yesterday afternoon at the office of Agent Charles F. Richardson, 71 Central street, and it was the unanimous opinion of those present that some effort should be entered into by the society to make the public understand that the society has two branches of work, namely: one for dumb animals, and the other for children, and that what and suffering are the things to be lessened.

CHARLES F. RICHARDSON, Agent.

Many people are under the impression that the superintendent of the society is paid by the city and that his expenses are also taken care of by the city, but such is not the fact, for he is engaged by the Lowell Humane society and his salary as well as the expense incurred as a result of his work are also paid by the organization.

According to the report of the agent, during the month of May, he killed 52 cats in a humane manner, put three horses out of the way, relieved the sufferings of five galled horses, 13 lame horses, two horses being beaten, four being underfed, the killing of 12 dogs and the rescuing of two dogs that had been ill-treated.

Among the children Agent Richardson cared for 21 cases of neglect, two cases of stubborn children, five cases of non-support, issued three warnings to parents, dealt with five intemperate parents and sent four children to the care of the state board.

The treasurer's report showed a small balance in the treasury where, with to meet the summer's expenditures, and it is expected that the sale today at Mrs. Dunbar's house in Anderson street will replenish the failing funds.

The agent, C. F. Richardson, was authorized to represent the society at the National Conference of Charities and Correction, to be held at Tremont temple in Boston, June 7 to 11, and also authorized any member of the society to register at the conference as a representative.

SOME DEPT. BILLS

Held Up by Accounts Committee

The committee on accounts held a very important meeting in the office of the city auditor yesterday afternoon with all the members present, Alderman Barrett and Councilmen Achin and Fulton, Clerk of Committees Dowling and City Auditor Paige were also present. For more than four hours the committee pored over the bills contracted during the month of May by the heads of the various departments and approved all but four or five, which were held up for further explanation.

The first bill held up was one from the F. B. Hill Carriage company for the sum of $85, for the furnishing of a new top, for the auto truck of the water department. The committee was of the opinion that the price is reasonable.

The water department had another bill held up by the committee, and this was a bill for fire insurance premiums from the Thomas C. Lee fire insurance company. The bill was for $150, for covering a fire insurance policy on the boulevard pumping station. The committee took it that the insurance policy ran for but one year, and it was of the opinion that the minimum premium should be obtained by having the policy written for the period of 5 years. So the bill was sent back to the water department with this suggestion from the committee.

The bill for $10 from the Locks and Canals for rent of land between Varum ave. and the Merrimack river, and Colonial avenue and the Merrimack river, was held up for further explanation on the part of the park department.

Paul Vigeant's bill for $14.51 for $165 pounds of hay furnished to the fire department was also objected to. The price of hay was questioned.

And last, but not least, comes the bill of the Rev. W. H. P. Faunce, D. D., president of Brown University for $75 for the delivery of an oration at the graduation exercises of the Lowell High school, which does not take place until June 25th. The bill was sent in by the school committee and the committee thought it was premature. It thought the goods ought to be delivered before the money is forthcoming. So the bill will go back to the school committee. It has been the custom, however, to get the money in advance in former years.

Mr. A. B. Gould, of the shoe department at the A. G. Pollard Co., is confined to his home in Chelmsford with a severe illness.

AN EARTHQUAKE

Record Shows That the Shock Lasted Ten Minutes

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Seismographs throughout the entire country were jarred at an early hour today by the most severe earthquake that has been recorded in several years. It is estimated to have occurred 4000 or 5000 miles from Washington, but in what direction could not be ascertained. Whether the disturbance was located in Alaska or in South America, scientists were unable to determine, but they declare news of its location undoubtedly would be forthcoming during the day.

Beginning shortly after six o'clock this morning the needles of the seismographs of the Georgetown university observatory began to move. The tremors steadily increased in intensity, causing the needles to record an unusual vibration. The maximum of the north and south movement was reached at 6:22:45 and lasted eight minutes, while the maximum of the east and west movement was recorded at 6:24, lasting ten minutes.

Gradually the tremors subsided and died away at 7:31 o'clock. Father Tondorf declared that it indicated the most severe earthquake that had been recorded since the establishment of the Georgetown observatory two years and a half ago.

RECORDED AT HARVARD
CAMBRIDGE, June 7.—An earthquake of the first order was recorded by the Harvard university seismograph today. The calculated distance from Cambridge to the point of origin of the shock is between 2300 and 2700 miles, but it is not possible for the Harvard scientists to give any clue whatever regarding the direction of the shock.

The earthquake began according to the instruments at Cambridge at 6:22:45 a. m. and the second preliminary motion was recorded at 6:15:45. The main wave came on at 6:25:04. A second group of main waves was recorded at 6:35:04.

The pendulums were still in motion at 8:45 a. m. when the records were changed. Although the shock recorded today was of the first order, the pendulums vibrated more severely in January at the time of the earthquake in Turkey.

MADERO GUARDED LEGAL BATTLE

Thousands of People Surrounded His Train at Ceyala and Gave Him a Great Reception—Big Banquet Was Given in His Honor

SAN JUAN DEL RIO, Mexico, June 7.—(On board Madero's special train.)—With Mexico City only 80 miles away, the special train bearing Francisco Madero and his retinue passed late last night at San Juan Del Rio so as to enter the capital at 10 o'clock today, the hour set for the event.

Senor Madero retired early somewhat fatigued and almost without voice, as a result of the speech-making of the last few days.

Soldiers guarded the eight cars of the train. A few yards ahead stood the pilot train with 100 armed men aboard. Behind was a locomotive and three cars bearing 300 more soldiers, who began trailing the party yesterday as additional protection.

It was felt aboard the train that if any of the plots rumored within the last two weeks were to be carried out the stretch of railroad over which the train must travel today would be the one chosen. Senor Madero himself has smiled at the rumors of plots and last night sat happily with his family in his private car. At Ceyala yesterday he first tasted the kind of a national capital.

Thousands of people surrounded the train and followed the rebel on foot and on horseback to the plaza where he was cheered and lauded. In a grove the most sumptuous banquet thus far tendered him was set.

Senor Madero made only a brief speech, declaring that the honors

Trial of Case Against Officers of Redeemable Investment Co. Resumed — Attorney Feeney Claimed That the Books and Papers Were Taken Unlawfully

BOSTON, June 7.—A contest between counsel over the competency of Postoffice Inspector Claraham as a witness opened today's session of the trial of the Redeemable Investment Co. case in the United States district court. On Oct. 13 last Claraham led a raid on the offices of the company at 55 Devonshire street in which books and papers were removed to the federal building. Attorney J. P. Feeney for the defendants contended today that the witness had taken the books and papers unlawfully and therefore was not entitled to testify regarding the seizure.

United States District Attorney French said that the witness had acted in accordance with law and produced a subpoena issued by United States Commissioner Hayes directing G. H. Graff, secretary of the company, to bring before the court all the books and papers belonging to the defendant company. Witness testified that the writ was served on Graff by Deputy United States Marshal James Ruhl and that in consequence of a conversation with Graff afterward the books and papers were carried over to the federal building for Graff.

Mr. Feeney argued that Graff had no authority in the matter, subject to reservations from Mr. Feeney, the testimony of the witness was permitted to stand.

Of the three defendants, the Rev. Norman Plass, former president; Charles H. Brooks, manager, and John Traphagen, assistant secretary, witness testified that Brooks was arrested by Deputy Marshal Ruhl on the first visit to the office on Dec. 13. Traphagen was arrested in December after he had been indicted with the other two on charges of using the mails in a scheme to defraud.

Witness identified a big card index which Martin MacDonald, the stenographer, had previously testified was the mailing list, the books of the company and a number of vouchers as property found by him at the offices of the company.

One voucher dated September, 1910, stated that $5258.90 had been received by Traphagen, of which $2,300 was withdrawn on account of Norman Plass' delinquency.

Strides by the Organization
During Past Year—Harvey B.
Greene Re-elected President

The most important business year in the history of the board of trade was reviewed last evening at the annual meeting of that organization, which plans were outlined for the coming year.

President Harvey B. Greene was re-elected, and in accepting the office declared that he accepted it only with the belief that he would receive the cordial support of the members as during the past year, and that the board would continue to work to make Lowell not only a better city industrially, but also a better place to live in and to do business in.

The report showed 896 members, a gain of 251 during the year.

This year's committee reports were included in one general report by the secretary, though several special reports were made.

Pres. Greene's Remarks

Pres. Greene stated that another thing that induced him to continue as president was the fact that there were a number of important matters of business which were as yet unfinished, which he wished to see to a conclusion. Among them the chief item was the city charter, which he declared to be more important to the growing city than any other one thing. He would not except the Boston & Maine shops located near here as being of greater civic importance to the citizens than the securing of a modern municipal method of government.

Rep. Charles T. Killpatrick was present and criticized a local paper for stating that the members of the local delegation were lukewarm toward the new charter. He stated that he worked for the charter.

The treasury report showed a balance of $1500 on hand.

The Officers Elected

President, Harvey B. Greene; first vice-president, George M. Harrigan; second vice-president, Frederick A. Fisher; third vice-president, Robert F. Menden; treasurer, Edward B. Carney; auditor, William F. Mills; clerk, William Cogger.

The directors chosen were: Daniel F. Carroll, Mr. D. Clay, C. Marshall Forrest, Arthur L. Gray, J. H. Gullett, Walter E. Guyette, George D. Hawley, James E. O'Donnell, Patrick O'Hearn, Dr. George M. Randall, Frank Ricard, Bartholomew Samuel, Jr., Daniel W. Shanahan, Edmund T. Simpson, George W. Trull, John J. Mahoney, John J. Rogers, Dr. Charles H. Stowell, George H. Taylor, George E. King, Herford N.

Secretary Complimented

Sec. Murphy's faithful service was not forgotten and his report was not only accepted, but a unanimous vote of approval was passed, commending him for his diligent work during the past year.

RASH SO BAD BABY
CAME NEAR DYING

Head Broke Out. Spread to Arms, Legs and Entire Body. Itched So He Would Scratch Until Blood Ran. One Box of Cuticura Ointment and Nearly One Cake of Cuticura Soap Cured Him. Has Had No Return.

"When my boy was about three months old, his head broke out with a rash which was very itchy and ran a water field. We tried everything we could but he got worse all the time. It spread to his arms, legs and then to his entire body. He got so bad that he came near dying. The rash would not be scratched off the blood ran, and a thin scab would be all over his body in the morning. I had to put mittens on his hands to prevent him tearing his skin. He was so weak and run down that he took fainting spells as if he were dying. He was almost a skeleton and his little hands were this way."

"He was bad about eight months when we tried Cuticura Remedies. I had not laid him down in his cradle in the daytime for a long while. I washed him with Cuticura Soap and put one application of Cuticura Ointment and he was so soothed that he could sleep. You don't know how glad I was to feel better. It took one box of Cuticura Ointment and pretty near one cake of Cuticura Soap to cure him. I think our boy would have died but for the Cuticura Remedies and I shall always regard a dear friend of them. He was cured more than twenty years ago, and there has been no return of the trouble. I shall be glad to have you publish this true statement of his cure." (Signed) Mrs. M. C. Matland, Jasper, Ontario, May 27, 1910.

Cuticura Remedies afford the most economical treatment for eruptions of the skin and scalp. A cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment are often sufficient. Sold everywhere. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., sole props. 139 Columbus Ave., Boston. 2¢ Mail free samples of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, with 32-p. book on skin treatment.

terized the development of Lowell for our business year 1910-1911.

Our factories and workshops, representing many and different industries, were with few exceptions busy and in full operation during the year.

The advantage of a city with diversified industries in times of business depression is realized and appreciated as any temporary depression in a certain line is not sufficient to cause serious idleness or retard the general business activity.

During the year the larger industries of our city have expended more than $2,500,000 improving their equipment and plants. Other corporations have in view improvements which will mean the expenditure of large sums of money which in turn will provide labor and increase business.

The increase of the business of our local industries is in a large measure the cause of our splendid growth, but we must not be content with a normal growth, we must secure new industries that will add to our capital and business and will induce people to seek permanent homes here.

A comparative summary of the recent development of Lowell is as follows:

Lowell is the fourth city of Massachusetts and the forty-fifth city of the United States.

The year 1910 has been a period of activity for the Lowell board of trade.

During the year a great and increasing interest was manifested by the general public in the work of the Lowell board of trade.

A citizen's movement should be inaugurated for the purpose of booming things. Progress is retarded by the lack of co-operation. Our city has advantages that are rarely equalled and with a little energy spent in the right direction we could place Lowell

in the column of cities with a population of 500,000. A campaign to advance the claims of our city and enlist the services of all as "boosters" should be put in operation.

All over the United States are endeavoring to attract new industries.

A vast amount of money is being spent exploiting the advantages of their resources and locations. If Lowell is to be able to compete in this struggle more encouragement must be given the board of trade and the men who will profit by the growth of the city must share a part of the expense.

With the aid of the necessary finances the board by a well worked out plan could place Lowell in a position to demand recognition and to secure more industries.

The products of Lowell reach every part of the world. If manufacturers would in some way label or stamp

their products as "Made in Lowell, Massachusetts," or advertise their goods as made in "Lowell, Massachusetts," much would be accomplished in the matter of publicity and the quality and the variety of our products is such as to convince prospective manufacturers that our city would make an ideal business location.

It is almost impossible to adequately present the results accomplished by the board during the year. An attempt will be made to embody the principal events and the items of interest and importance and to furnish some statistics in this report.

It is not our intention to claim wonderful achievements but to present a resume of the activity of the board for the judgment of the members and the people of our city, that they may determine whether or not our board has done good work, is doing good work, and will continue to do good work.

The work of the board has been reduced to a system. Suggestions of fact during the year have been referred to the proper committees and through this medium of committee work much has been accomplished.

Co-operation is the keynote of success and the amount of work accomplished depends entirely upon the number of our members and their enthusiasm.

The efficient co-operation of the officers, members of committees and the membership at large is entirely responsible for whatever has been accomplished, and your secretary at this time wishes to emphasize his hearty thanks and appreciation to all who have aided in this work during the year, by their promptness in attending committee meetings, by their counsel, by their enthusiasm, by their time and their services. To our president, Mr. Harvey B. Greene, great praise is due for his splendid work. He was always willing to assist and has given freely of his time and energy to all matters concerning the work of the board and the achievements of the year are a memorial to his unselfish and energetic work.

The work of the board from an industrial point of view can be realized by the fact that 75 corporations, firms or individuals were written or interviewed in regard to locating in Lowell. In every case a summary of the advantages of our city was set forth and in most cases an instance appreciation of our work was expressed.

Many firms that were investigated desired free factory sites, bonuses, exemption from taxes or desired to dispose of large subscriptions of their stock.

It has been the contention of the board that the advantages of our city, such as our splendid railroad facilities, our fair taxes, the abundance of skilled and unskilled labor, and the low cost of commodities and housing for the residents were sufficient inducements to attract manufacturers.

Competition among cities for securing new industries is keen, but the idea of offering bonuses is no longer practised by the up-to-date cities as the results show that industries secured in this way are not desirable from an industrial standpoint.

The board takes justifiable pride in the work of securing new industries during the year. The following concerns have located in Lowell which will provide employment for about 1500 people and amount to about $15,000 in weekly wages.

Thissel Loom Company—Loom Attachments.

Lowell Felt Company—Felt Products.

Merwin-Hughes Company—Paper

Boxes and Printing Novelties.

Robinson-Farrell Company—Shoe

Manufacturers.

Reedy-Adams Company—Shoe Manufacturers.

Field-Lumbert Company—Shoe

Manufacturers.

There have also been 31 firms incorporated during the year representing a capital of $683,000.

Boston & Maine Repair Shops

The work of the board in securing the mammoth locomotive car and repair shops of the Boston & Maine railroad was highly commended by all citizens. The accomplishments of the men representing the board and the many intricate situations in connection with securing the site were handled in a masterly way and were the subject of complimentary approval from the railroad authorities. A detailed report of the project is being prepared as a matter of record for the board covering the entire matter in its many phases.

The plant to be located in Billerica,

it is estimated, will cost about $3,000,

000 and provide employment for about 2000 hands. The magnitude of the project can hardly be realized.

The selection of the site by the railroad is another indication of our ideal location for manufacturing purposes.

It is an evidence of our advantage in firming labor, both skilled and unskilled, and it will have a tendency to induce other industries to locate here.

The report then takes up in review

the following subjects: Meetings, Annuual Meetings, Outing, January meeting, Dedication of New Quarters, Annuual Banquet and Shoe Night, and then continues in part as follows:

Demurrage Hearing

A general meeting of the shippers and receivers of the city was held in the rooms of the board, Sept. 20, 1910 for the purpose of considering the new demurrage rules to be put in effect by the railroad of New England reducing the free loading and unloading time from four days to two days.

Resolutions were adopted requesting the Interstate Commerce commission to grant a hearing to the shippers and to stay the execution of the new rules until such time as a hearing and investigation might be held.

The petition was granted and a hearing held in Boston at which the board was represented by about fifteen delegates with the result of a considerable concession to the shippers and receivers.

Express Delivery

A public mass meeting of citizens was held June 28, 1910, at the board of trade rooms in the interests of a proposed extension and improvement of the local express delivery.

For years the express companies maintained a delivery limit and people residing outside the limit were compelled to call for their express or pay extra charges for the delivery.

Considerable advertising was done and special notices of the proposed hearing appeared in the local papers.

The agents of all the express companies were notified of the hearing and invited to be present.

Arrangements were completed whereby people residing outside the delivery limit would present data showing the number of times they were compelled to call for express matter and the amount of the excess charges was discussed.

The hearing was very well attended and many expressed themselves as satisfied with the service.

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager and Alfred Pibotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 2, 1911. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

The British house of lords has practically decided to pass the bill curtailing its own powers, but not until after the coronation.

The local board of trade can claim a great part of the credit of bringing the Boston and Maine repair shops to our doors. Had it accomplished nothing more that would suffice for one year, but it has done much more for which the people of Lowell are or should be duly grateful.

THE LORIMER CASE

The United States senate has decided to have another investigation of Lorimer. The only proper solution of the Lorimer case is to vote him out. Some of the senators who have to sit or vote on his case may have secured their own seat by the same methods. That is why they are not inclined to vote him out.

THE LOWELL CHARTER

The legislature is at least giving the friends of the charter time enough to shout their protests at the committee on cities. Senator Hibbard will fight for substitution of the bill with some amendments which will be discussed tomorrow. The charter should be submitted to the people. If there are amendments they should also be submitted as alternative propositions, leaving the voters to decide whether the amendment or the original form shall be adopted.

IMPORTANT TAX CASE IN LAWRENCE

The Essex Company of Lawrence has entered suit against the city for an abatement of taxes on $1,020,000. The Essex Company contends that it has been assessed for this amount in excess of what it should have been assessed. The company has been taxed for the dam and the north and south canals. The tax was levied for the first time in 1909 and paid under protest. The land under the canals and along the north canal was assessed for $360,000, and this the company claims should be exempt from taxation. The case brings up a new question of taxation in the city of Lawrence, and one that is of interest in this city, inasmuch as it has not been the custom to tax the land occupied by the canals of this city.

NEW LAW FOR NON-SUPPORT CASES

On the 17th of this month will take effect in this state a law that will tame some of the husbands and fathers who refuse to support their wives and families. It will compel them to work hard in prison, on condition that for each day's labor by a husband so confined his family will receive fifty cents from the prison. Some law of this kind has been greatly needed, because the judges of police courts are frequently left but a choice of two evils, either to let the husband continue on his erring course or injure his family still more by taking away whatever support he gives in sending him to prison. It is safe to say that under this new law there will be less hesitation in sending the non-supporting husbands to jail so that they may be compelled to contribute something to their families.

TUBERCULOSIS CASES NEGLECTED

The time will soon come when the city of Lowell will be obliged to build a tuberculosis hospital. The state will care only for its own cases, as required by law and those that may in one way or another be provided for in the state sanatoriums. Similarly each city is practically responsible for its own cases. There is no means of providing any proper treatment for local cases at the Chelmsford Street hospital, and hence it may as well be acknowledged that there is at present no provision made for the treatment of tuberculosis cases in Lowell with the exception of the summer camps of the Lowell General hospital. It is plain, therefore, that this state of affairs must be remedied in the near future and that the incipient cases of tuberculosis must be taken care of as well as those that have passed the curative stage.

While a supposed fight is made against tuberculosis by educational and hygienic methods, the fact remains that this work is greatly discounted by the lack of hospital treatment. The city of Lawrence is ahead of us in this respect, having recently built a fine tuberculosis hospital.

It is refreshing to find that some effort is being made to revive the agitation for public baths in this city. A special committee of the city council has had a conference with the park board on this matter, and judging from the trend of the discussion, it would seem that not only the committee but the park board sees the feasibility of establishing a system of public baths at a very moderate expense. As Judge Pickman remarked, it is not to the credit of a city having so many water ways as we have, not to have a system of public baths. In a factory city where there will always be a great number of tuberculosis cases public baths are a great necessity. It would be a benefit to the public health and a source of comfort and happiness to the toilers who have not the luxury of a bath room in their homes. Very few wealthy people realize how many thousands in this city live in lodging houses or in other places where there is no available means of taking a bath. For their benefit and to save the lives of those who take chances in the rivers and canals, it would indeed be a great boon to the city if a system of public baths were placed within reach of the people.

The subject has been talked of so much that we believe the people in general are tired listening to it. It is time that something were done, but, of course, our city government cannot undertake all the necessary reforms at the same time. Mayor Meehan has urged the erection of a public hall and a contagious hospital as forcibly as he could, and there is a prospect that the hospital at least will be built. The public hall seems to be held up by a deadlock between the commission and the city council, and unless this matter of a site be settled in the near future, it would be as well to discharge the commission and begin all over again.

This is no place for "Timely Hints to Housewives" or anything of that sort, but for the benefit of several persons we passed on the street yesterday we will merely say that a dog driven into the center of their shoe soles will stop the squeak. No charge, gentlemen; our cobbler frequently falls down, too.

"Times have changed."

You let them have. Used to be no man-sized man would let his friends see him at a soda fountain drinking a lemon popsi-see."

BUY, BROTHERS, BUY!

You never miss the water. Till the well runs dry. You never miss the screening. Till June brings the fly.

THE BOOSTER

I'd rather be a booster than a knocker any day.

I'd rather tinge with hope than doubt the words I have to say.

I'd rather risk my guess. On another man's success. Than to view his bitter struggle and prophesy his fall.

I would rather say "he's coming" Than "he's going," when I'm summing up the labors of my brothers. I would rather boost them all.

I would rather speak the kind things than the mean things any day. I'd rather swing a baton than a hammer, let me say.

I would rather sing my rhyme in a sort of two-step time. Than to let it drag in dirges in a gloomy, heavy style.

I would rather say "God bless you!" And with words of cheer impress you.

Than to preach about your follies all the while.

I would rather be a booster than a knocker any day.

I'd rather praise than criticize in what I have to say.

I'd rather not be wise. At the cost of others' sighs. I would rather see the good things than the evil that men do.

I would rather far be wrong. When I boost a man along. Than be perfect in my judgment, but make everybody blue.

MOST COMMON SKIN DISEASE

A great medical authority says that eczema is the most important, most annoying and most common of all skin diseases and is common in some form, and that proper treatment will always relieve and cure it. Sometimes it is called salt rheum, moist tetter and various other names. The best known treatment is to first stop the itching, and then proceed to heal up the sores. That is exactly what Cadum, the new remedy does, and it acts so quickly that relief is felt as soon as it is applied. Try a 10-cent box, and if you trouble is eczema, Cadum will help you immediately. It is also good for redness, pimples, blotches, rash, scaly skin, roughness, chafings, acne, sores, ulcers, eruptions, hives, tetter, itch, herpes, psoriasis, ringworm, etc.

OFFICERS CHOSEN

By the Lowell Teachers' Association

The members of the Lowell Teachers' association met yesterday afternoon at the High School hall. During the meeting interesting reports were heard and officers were elected for the ensuing year.

Miss Belle F. Batchelder, president of the organization, called to order at 4:30 o'clock, and the first business was the reading of the report of the last meeting by the secretary, Miss Katherine Kelley. The report was accepted as read.

CYRUS A. DURGIN, Thanked by Teachers.

The annual report of the secretary was then read and it showed that the association is in an active condition and has proved to be a benefit to the city, the pupils and the teachers themselves. Thanks were expressed by the secretary, on behalf of the association.

The third number on the program was "Gods of the Florian," sung by Miss Anna E. Bourassa of this city. Miss Bourassa, who possesses a rich soprano voice, was a favorite at the concert, for she rendered this difficult piece of music as only an artist could. She is well known in this city having lived here all her life, and her many friends will be pleased to hear of her success.

Resolutions were read expressing the regret of the organization at the death of Miss Josephine Coburn and Miss Flora I. Moffatt.

The report of the treasurer was interesting and showed that the association has a balance with all bills paid. A report of the activities of the legislative committee was listened to with great interest as it contained a review of the work done in regard to the teachers' retirement bill, which would permit a teacher to retire on half pay after 35 years of service. Miss Stillings' report was accepted and placed on file. The educational, publicity, program and social committees also presented reports which were accepted. Amendments were added to the constitution, permitting any person who has at any time served the city in the capacity of teacher in the public schools to become an associate member of the association without the voting privilege, on signing the constitution and paying the sum of $1, and permitting any person to become an honorary member, on recommendation of the executive committee and providing they receive a two-thirds vote of the members present at any meeting.

The report of the nominating committee was read and it was voted to accept the report of the nominations made, and to elect the officers who served during the past year. The officers last year and those who will serve during the ensuing year are as follows:

President, Miss Belle B. Batchelder; vice president, Miss Anna W. Devaux; second vice president, Miss Della T. Brady; treasurer, Miss Elizabeth C. Kennedy; secretary, Miss Katherine Kelley. The board of directors to serve for three years consists of the Messrs. Mary A. Webster, Bertha M. Rowlandson, Abby Woodard, Jennie Fay and Mary C. Walker; director to serve out an unexpired term, Miss Mary E. Tobin.

FAMOUS BONSETTIS

ITALIAN ACROBATS NOW MAKING FIRST TOUR OF AMERICA

At last the Bonsetti family, the world's greatest circus performers, have been induced to leave Italy for their first tour of America, and they will be seen here with Ringling Brothers' World's Greatest Shows on Thursday, June 15.

The Bonsettis present a novelty in acrobatics new to Americans. It is creating a sensation wherever the show appears. In touring Europe, travelers have gone many miles out of their way to see this wonderful family at work. In St. Petersburg last winter they first produced the novel performance which they are now presenting here. A foreign agent of the Ringlings, stationed in that city, engaged the family after seeing their first night's performance.

There are no less than seven families of acrobats with the Bonsettis, not to mention the individual performers of this class and the teams of two and three. At one time during the performance no less than thirty-six acrobats appear in one big number. When they walk into the rings and on the stages, stepping in time to the music, the mere picture of the entrance of the great company is inspiring.

In riding features the circus was never so fortunate as now. Some of the equestrian stars are Emma Stickney, Josephine Clark, Daisy Hodgkin, the Cottrell-Powells, the Dutton family, the Clark brothers, Emma Dutton, Lela Mitchell, Amy Miller, Frances Harris, Ida Delno, Inez Bell, Cecile Fortuna and the famous Crocker family of wild gypsies.

Chief among the aerialists are the Alex troupe, acknowledged leaders of the art; the Kirikonians, greatest aerial double somersaulters in the world; the Flying Hards, the Aerial Smiths, the five Georges and the Delno family.

There are no less than fifty big specialties with the show. The Ringlings never feature any particular act. Every specialty on the program is a head-liner and the general excellence of the show is its feature. However, special mention should be made of the Schuman performing horses from Germany; Loyal's equestrian dog, the telephoning elephants, Emory's troupe of baby elephant actors and Mirazee, the Mexican high-wire wizard.

These are acts no other show in America can afford to engage. Never before in circus affairs has there been seen such an array of talent as is presented in this company. In all there are 375 artists. Over 200 are the representative talent of Europe and Asia, seen for the first time in this country.

Added to all this excellence is the new parade with its 1000 charms, a bright new evening spectacle in the main exhibition tent, a managerie such as was never before seen in the United States. At the head are Tiny Tom Tinkler, the smallest elephant in the world, Jennie, an elephant 24 years old, and a colony of animal babies.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Northrup Snow and Miss Lillian Lee Anderson, who are engaged in the presentation of that popular comedy drama, "In the North" at the Merrimack Square theatre this week, will hold a reception on the stage at the conclusion of the afternoon performance Thursday. No doubt a large number of friends and admirers of the pair will be on hand to meet them. A cordial invitation is extended to all who attend the afternoon performance tomorrow to call upon Mr. Snow and Mrs. Anderson at the conclusion of the show.

Clarence Wilbur, Lowell's own comedian, continues to amuse the patrons of this playhouse. His work is high-class and most entertaining. He has been warmly received at all performances.

Vote to Return to Charity Board Land for New Hospital

George C. Evans Agreed Upon
for Registrar of Voters—Num-

Petitions Acted Upon—The
Common Council Did Not

Both branches of the city government met in special session last evening, and it was after midnight before
they adjourned.

The board voted to rescind the action of the aldermen of 1910 in transferring certain land at the Chelmsford Street hospital from the board of
charities to the contagious hospital commission, and if the common council concurs the contagious hospital commission will find itself without a site upon which to build the new hospital.

A great deal of time in the earlier
portion of the evening was taken up with the hearing of remonstrants to several pole locations asked for by the N. E. Telephone Co. For some reason or other there were no representatives
present from either the telephone company or the Electric Light company, which caused several of the aldermen to severely criticize the public service corporations. The Postal Telegraph Co. also came in for a little knock, and their petition for leave to
lay a conduit in the following streets:
from Lawrence street, at a point apposite North street to Church, to George, to Hurd, to Central, to Middle,
to their office, 27 Middle street, was laid on the table.

At this point a recess was ordered to the call of the chair. Then followed a lengthy caucus held in the mayor's reception room, at which the mayor was present. At the caucus it was agreed to confirm the appointment of George C. Evans for registrar
of voters, and the assistant engineers
of the fire department. But the aldermen were too tired before this line of business was taken up, and hence no
confirmation is yet in sight.

The meeting was called to order at 8:45 o'clock and the roll call showed
all the members present.

Petitions for locations of poles by
the New England Tel. & Tel. Co., on Ludlum, Sutherland, Humphrey, Ellis-worth, Olney, Allen and Ames streets, and Cumberland road were read and a hearing was opened.

Nobody appeared for petitioners and
a letter was read from John Doherty, stating an objection to a pole in Cumberland road. Alderman Daly registered an objection from Jas. O'Hearn to the location of a pole on Elmwood street. Dr. James J. McCarthy objected to poles being erected on Ames and Mill streets. James F. Norton remonstrated to a pole location in Ames
street. He said nobody else on the street desires a telephone. He couldn't understand why the telephone company's representatives were not present. Mary Mulholland and James H.

Murray objected to poles being erected
on Olney street. A letter of remonstrance was also read from Lizzie Drain. Newell Goodrow protested a pole location on Cumberland road.
Rev. N. W. Matthews protested against poles on Elmwood street, representing the Gorham Street Methodist church,
and Capt. Charles D. Foley.

Alderman Daly said that the telephone company was either indifferent
to matters, or else felt assured that it would get the pole locations without difficulty. Inasmuch as no representative of the company was present at the meeting, Mr. Daly moved, and it was voted, to ask a representative of the company to be present at the next meeting of the board.

Mr. Connors thought the company's representative should appear before the committee on vires.

A hearing was held on the petition
of the Postal Telegraph company for permission to lay conduits in portions
of Lawrence, Church, George, Hurd,
Central and Middle streets. Charles
Goggin appeared for the company.

Mr. Connors said that Messrs. particular would have to be torn up. It had been down but a short time. Questioned by Mr. Daly, Mr. Goggin knew
very little about the plans of the company he represented, except that the company wanted to get lines through
to the offices at 20 Middle street. Mr.
Barrett and Mr. Connors also asked questions.

"Your company acts curiously in this matter," said Mr. Barrett. "It asks permission to tear up a street that cost between $50,000 and $75,000 to build. Your company says it will put
the street in satisfactory condition.
We have had enough experience with the way companies put the streets in condition."

Mr. Daly moved that the petition be laid on the table. Mr. Barrett moved an amendment, that the petitioner be given leave to withdraw. Mr. Connors thought the matter should be laid over
until such a time as a proper hearing could be held on the matter. He wanted somebody higher in authority than Mr.
Goggin to speak on the matter. Mr.
Daly thought as a matter of course to the committee on vires the petition should be laid on the table. Mr. Barrett would not withdraw his amendment. The order as amended was put
and defeated. Alderman Daly's original motion was put and carried.

A hearing on petition of the Lowell
Electric Light company for pole locations on Barker and Five streets was next in order. Neither petitioners or remonstrants appeared. The petition next in order. Neither petitioners nor the same corporations for locations on Washington street and Lilley and Aiken avenues were opened. Neither petitioners or remonstrants appeared.

The same corporation petitioned for
pole locations on Walker and West
Adams streets and hearings were opened. The petitions were referred.
Petitions to keep and store gasoline
by A. G. Foster, 241 Gilson street; A.
G. Beharrel, A. E. Lind, 257 Appleton street; Laforest Deas, 154 Eleventh street, and F. R. Dugdale, 12 Victoria street, were referred to the committee
on licenses, after brief hearings.

Petitions for police signal boxes in various locations were referred to the committee on streets.

Petitions for street work were referred to the committee on streets.

A petition for an electric light at the corner of Kene and Five streets was referred to the committee on lighting.

A petition of Alphonse Bibeault to keep gasoline on Wilder street was read and a hearing was ordered for June 20.

At 9:40 o'clock a recess was taken to enable the committee on licenses to
about to come into session, a caucus
was taken.

petitioned for compensation for injuries, and Thomas Williston petitioned
for compensation for damages to his automobile. The petitions were referred to the committee on claims.

A joint order to repeal the transfer
of land from the charity department to
the contagious hospital commission
was read. This order contemplated a check to the work of the contagious hospital commission of the contagious hospital commission.

Mr. Connors, who introduced the original order in 1910 to transfer the land, spoke on the order. He said that residents of the section are filled with fear at the possible location of a contagious hospital there. They also claim that there will be a depreciation of property values there.

He said that he was in favor of a contagious hospital, but he did not want it on that site.

The question of adopting the order came up, and it was voted to take back the land to the charity board.
Mr. Toupin was the only dissenting voice.

A joint order requesting an opinion
from the city engineer as to the safety of the Aiken street bridge for street
cars was adopted.

The Boston & Northern petition for location of a diamond turnout near the junction of Broadway and Dutton streets was read. A hearing on the petition was granted for the night of June 20.

An ordinance creating a commission to acquire a site and rebuild Huntington hall, amended so as to read, a building to take the place of Huntington hall and to constitute a
headquarters of the police department,
police court, ambulance department,
was referred to the committee on ordinances and legislation.

The mayor's appointments of Cor-nellius P. Cronin as constable; John P.
Roches, as weigher of hay and other articles, and of G. W. McLaughlin as a measurer of lumber were confirmed.

A joint order appropriating $135 for
a new fire alarm box at the corner of Verdon and Dutton streets was read.
Mr. Barrett asked if there is $135 in the general treasury fund. Chairman
Gallagher said there is over $300. It was voted to recommit the order to the committee on fire department in concurrence.

An ordinance creating a "city council fund" was referred to the committee on bills in second reading, in concurrence.

A resolution granting permission to Henry Brothers to erect an awning,
was adopted.

A resolution to lay a sewer in Wilson street from Chelmsford street, was adopted.

The city solicitor's opinion on the powers and duties of the appropriations committee, which has already been published in The Sun, was read
and ordered on file.

The opinion of the city solicitor as to the status of the assistant engineers of the fire department, was read and ordered on file.

Mr. Flanagan said that the chief of the fire department had said at a meeting of the fire department committee
that the assistant engineers have no
powers. He considered this a very broad statement, in view of the opinion
rendered by the city solicitor.

A resolution to lay a sewer in Inland
street was read and adopted.

The annual report of the Lowell water works for 1910 was received and
ordered on file.

A resolution to lay a sewer in Aiken
avenue was adopted.

At 12:05 o'clock Mr. Daly moved adjournment. It was so voted.

Common Council

The straight tips that went about
town yesterday relative to the election of a superintendent of streets and inspector of buildings proved to be only dreams, as the lower branch took
no action on either matter.

While the primary object of the meeting was to take action on the death of ex-Mayor Russell, considerable routine business was transacted.

A joint order to borrow $10,000 for the continuation of work on the Shedd playground came before the council,
and on motion of its author, Councilman Chapman, it was referred to the committee on appropriations.

A joint order closing the offices of
city hall at 12 o'clock, on Saturday in June, July and August, introduced by Councilman Donohoe, was voted.

Councilman Coughlin of the committee on resolutions of thanks to citizens who made it possible to bring the Boston & Maine car shops
to this section made a report.

Councilman Tracy moved to lay the matter on the table, but it was not seconded, and the resolutions were adopted after Councilman Achin had spoken in favor of it and in praise of the good work done by the board of trade.

Action on street matters was taken
as follows:

Deborah R. Hill et al., that Suffolk street be widened between Moody and Dodge streets. Referred to street committee.

Rev. Fr. Rosa, that a sidewalk on southerly side of Keene street be repaired. Referred to street committee.

George B. Marchand et al., that the now unnamed street running easterly from Stevens street to Bennett be named Light avenue. Referred to street committee.

Charles E. Howe et al., that Varney street be widened from School street to Fletcher street. Referred to street committee.

Robert P. Wetton et al., that Humphrey street be widened. Referred to street committee.

Nashua Voters Turn Down the Proposed New Charter

NASHUA, N. H., June 7.—The proposed new city charter was defeated
at a special election held here yesterday by 334 majority.

The result is a victory for Mayor
William H. Barry and the regular democratic organization. Opposed to them was in favor of the charter was the regular republican organization, the progressive republican organization and the opposition faction in the democratic party, headed by Ex-Mayor
Jeremiah J. Doyle and his law partner,
Senator Alvin J. Lucier, who introduced into the senate the charter bill
defeated yesterday.

The lines of party and faction were
not strictly drawn and the opponents
of the charter had many republicans, like Ex-Mayor Seth D. Chandler, Ex-
Senator Herbert C. Little, Osman B.
Tilton and Representative Frederick Gaffney, with them actively. The total registration was 4202, making the total vote practically 65 per cent,
which is larger than either side predicted, and that notwithstanding the rain, which prevailed after 10 o'clock yesterday morning. The vote is about three-quarters that cast at the last election, when Mayor Barry was chosen
by 501 plurality.

The anti-charter men carried every ward which Mayor Barry carried last November, except ward 7, where Messrs. Doyle and Lucier live, and where the stiffest fight was put up.
Great activity prevailed all day, and
scores of automobiles were chartered
for voters.

County Solicitor Patrick H. Sullivan of Concorder came to town on request of Mayor Barry to enforce the election laws, especially against bribery. No arrests were made and little disturbance reported.

The charter defeated yesterday contained a number of radical changes
from the present city government. It abolished the common council, elected
the board of public works by the people, gave the aldermen a salary of $100
annually, brought the elections in the old unaltered years and did away with party designations on the ballot.

The provision which aroused the most strenuous opposition of the democratic organization was that which appointed.

The meeting was not called to order until 15 minutes had passed.

President Elliott read a communication relative to the death of George Russell, a former mayor.

A joint order appropriating a special committee on resolutions was read, and the president named Councilmen Mildred, Coughlin and John Jacob Rogers.

MATRIMONIAL

A double wedding reception was held yesterday afternoon and last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Napolcon Vayo, 15 Garnet street, the occasion being the wedding of their daughter, Miss Dora Lucille Vayo of Bellevue Falls, Vt., who was married
yesterday afternoon to Mr. Paul Charles Exner of Mechanicsville, N.
Y., and also of the marriage of their son, Wilfred Paul Vayo, who was married in Chicago on April 23, to Miss Mabel of the latter place.

The Exner-Vayo marriage was performed at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon
at Notre-Dame de Lourdes church by
Rev. Fr. Lamothe, O. M. I. The young couple were attended by Mr. Sylvia L'Houren, who acted as best man, while Miss Mabel Vayo, a sister of the bride was bridesmaid.

After the ceremony the couple and
their witnesses repaired to the home
of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Napoleon Vayo, 15 Garnet street, where a wedding dinner was served to the immediate relatives of the contracting couple.

A large number of friends gathered at the same place in the evening to extend their best wishes to the newly wedded couple. The latter were showered with numerous useful and

costly gifts. They left on the 7 o'clock train this morning for an extended honeymoon trip through the states of
New York and Connecticut. They will be at home to their friends at Bellevue Falls, Vt. after June 20.

MARKHAM—SHEDD

Mr. Harold S. Markham and Miss
Addie E. Shedd, both of Billerica, were married yesterday by Rev. Mr.
Harlow of Somerville. They will go to New York for their honeymoon and later will make their home in New Jersey.

BILLERICA

The Excelsior club met in regular session in the vestry of the North Billerica Baptist church Monday night
and the following interesting program
was carried out: Piano solo, Albert
Dege; Indian war dance, Gilbert Swit-ter; Newell Ritchie; Highland Fling,
T. H. Bateson; Impersonating a Scotch
Highlander, popular songs by entire club with Niles Eaton as accompanist.

The date of the wedding of Rev.
Lyman V. Rutledge of Alva, Oklahoma, pastor of the Unitarian church of Billerica, and Miss Louise Fitch of Enar-ka, Kansas, is Monday, June 19.

Hotel Keeper Admits That Liquor Was Sold After Hours

Police Officers Testify That They Saw Men in the Hotel After Hours—Fourth Class License Granted to Jas. Dolan—Hearing of Charge Against Eugene A. Shea Postponed

Hugh Ferguson, proprietor of the St. James hotel in Middlesex street, appeared before the board of police at the regular meeting held last night, to answer to a complaint charging him with committing a breach of the conditions of his license as an innholder by selling intoxicating liquors to persons between the hours of 11 o'clock at night and 6 o'clock in the morning. The specific complaint alleged that Mr. Ferguson, personally, or his servants, had sold liquors to divers persons at about 2 o'clock on the morning of Sunday, May 28.

Mr. Ferguson entered a plea of guilty to the complaint and after stating that he knew nothing of the transaction until after it had occurred, informed the board that he was a victim of circumstances. He explained that he had told his clerks not to sell any liquor after hours and felt that they would do as they were told, but on the morning in question he allowed that one of his clerks had served drinks to what he termed friends of the clerk.

He stated that he was trying to live up to the conditions of his license and felt that the clerk would follow his instructions, but in this instance one of them did not.

The matter was taken under advisement and before adjournment the board after considering the case found Mr. Ferguson guilty and ordered that his license be suspended for thirty days.

Officers Testify
Sergeant William Groux and Patrolman Thomas Riley were sworn as witnesses for the government.

Sergeant Groux was the first witness called and he testified that at about 2 o'clock in the morning one week ago Sunday he and Patrolman Riley visited the hotel and going upstairs found one of the clerks coming out of a room on the second floor. The clerk had a tray on which there were five bottles. Witness and Patrolman Riley entered the room from which the clerk had come and found five men seated around a table. On the table, he said, were five empty bottles and two full bottles. The men had their hats and coats on and apparently had been drinking.

Continuing witness said: "I asked the men if they were living in the hotel and they said they were. I then asked them the numbers of the rooms which they occupied. One man, giving a name, said that he was stopping in room 7, another said he was registered in room 12, the third said 'room 22' and two of the men said they were stopping together in room 17."

"I went down stairs and looking over the register found that two of the rooms mentioned by the men were occupied by other parties, while there was nothing on the register to indicate that the other two rooms mentioned by the men were occupied by them. The men remained in the room on the second floor where we found them until after we left the place."

Mr. Boulger Asks Questions
"Was there anything that led you to believe that there was business of this kind going on in this hotel?" asked Commissioner Boulger.

"We saw people going in on different occasions," was the answer given by Sgt. Groux.

"Were there people who might not reside in Lowell?"

"Know them by sight, but didn't know their names."

"After 11 o'clock at night?"

"I do not go on duty until 12:30 o'clock."

"Did men go in there and remain for a time and then go out?"

"Yes, sir, as late as 3 o'clock in the morning."

"How long has that been going on?"

"For the last four or five weeks."

Mr. Mullaney Interrogates
Chairman Mullaney asked: "Why didn't you go in before? What business did they have there at 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning?"

The witness was nonplussed and could not answer the question, but when Mr. Mullaney again asked the question Sgt. Groux said that he did not think it necessary to make more than a memorandum of what he saw.

"What I want to know," said Mr. Mullaney, "is why you didn't go in before to get evidence?"

No answer.

"You know your duties as a sergeant of police, don't you?"

"Yes."

"Well it seems very strange that you did not report the matter and bring it to the attention of the board before this," added the chairman.

Patrolman Riley Testifies
Patrolman Riley was then called upon to testify and his testimony was practically the same as that offered by the preceding witness. He added that he had seen men enter and leave the hotel between the hours of 1 and 4 o'clock in the morning, especially on Sunday mornings.

"Don't you think that you should have gone in there previous to this occasion?" asked Chairman Mullaney.

"I notified the superintendent," was the answer.

"What were your instructions?" asked Supl. Welch.

"To go up there with the sergeant on that Sunday morning."

Commissioner Boulger asked for the officer's diary and the latter produced a piece of paper and reading from it stated that on one occasion between 1:30 and 2 a. m. he saw 17 men come out of the place while on another occasion between 3 and 3:30 o'clock he saw 20 men come out. He said that the men would go in one or two at a time, but as a general rule all would come out together.

In answer to a question put by Commissioner Hanson witness said that prior to the times testified to he had seen men go in after hours but not so frequently as of late.

Answering Commissioner Boulger he said he saw Mr. Ferguson in front of the hotel after hours but had no conversation with him relative to the traffic going on.

Mr. Ferguson Testifies.
Proprietor Ferguson after being sworn said: "I was up until one o'clock on the morning in question and then retired. After 11 o'clock the hotel office is on the second floor. I have had 30 or 40 people go in, like they would go into any other hotel. They were looking for liquor but we always refused to serve them. About two o'clock the clerk came to my room and told me what had happened. He said that the men found in the room were friends of his and he had taken advantage of my being absent and served them."

"My instructions to the clerks have been not to sell any liquor after 11 o'clock and I thought that they would carry out my instructions. The whole substance of the matter is that I am a victim of circumstances, though I know that I am responsible for the acts of my employees."

The case was taken under advisement by the board and at a later hour it was voted to suspend the license for 30 days, beginning June 8 at 11 p. m.

Dolan's License Granted
In the executive session it was voted to grant a fourth class license to James J. Dolan at 34 Concord street. This was the 105th license to be granted and there now remains but one more to be granted.

Eugene A. Shea, who has a license of the first class—that is, to sell liquors to be drunk on the premises—in upper Broadway, was summoned before the board on a complaint that he had sold a half pint of whiskey to a person in violation of the conditions of his license. Daniel J. Donahue appeared for Mr. Shea and after explaining that he had been busily engaged and did not have a chance to look into the case in a manner as thorough as he would desire, also that Mr. Shea and his bartender were to appear in police court on Thursday morning to answer to a complaint charging them with the illegal sale of liquor, asked the board to continue the hearing for a week or ten days. Chairman Mullaney objected to any long continuance and asked counsel if the case was to be heard in police court why the hearing could not be held on that date. Then Monday night was suggested, but one of the commissioners stated that he would be unable to be present at that time and it was finally agreed that the hearing be held on next Tuesday night.

The minor licenses were granted as follows:

Hawker and peddler: James Brown, 240 High street; David Welch, 17 Watson street; John P. Hall, 118 Sanders street; Peter Deschamps, 70 Pawtucket street.

Junk collector: Ebron Shoestair, 81 Railroad street.

Common victualler: May Conroy, 233 Dutton street.

Express: Lyons and Donnelly, by Leo L. Lyons, 66 Washington street.

Auctioneer: George L. Hubbard, 501 Wymann's exchange.

MOLLY VARNUM CHAPTER
A well attended meeting of Molly Varnum chapter, D. A. R. was held yesterday afternoon at the Spalding house. Mrs. G. C. Brock, who was a delegate at the continental congress recently held at Washington, read a paper on the events of interest to the chapter, which was listened to with great interest. Tea was served by the hospitality committee, Mrs. Charles O. Wilson, chairman, and a social hour was enjoyed.

Weak Heart

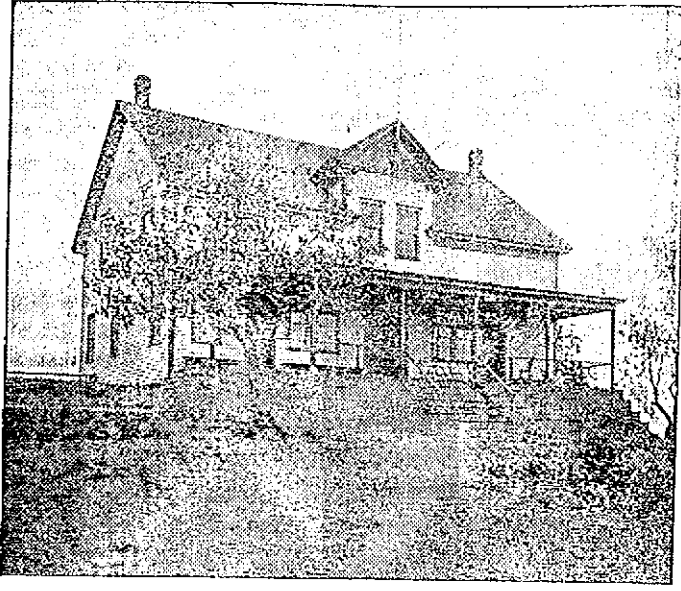

Many people suffer from weak hearts. They may experience shortness of breath on exertion, pain over the heart, or dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals or their eyes become blurred, their heart is not sufficiently strong to pump blood to the extremities, and they have cold hands and feet, or poor appetite because of weakened blood supply to the stomach. A heart tonic and alterative should be taken which has no bad after-effect. Such is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which contains no dangerous narcotics nor alcohol.

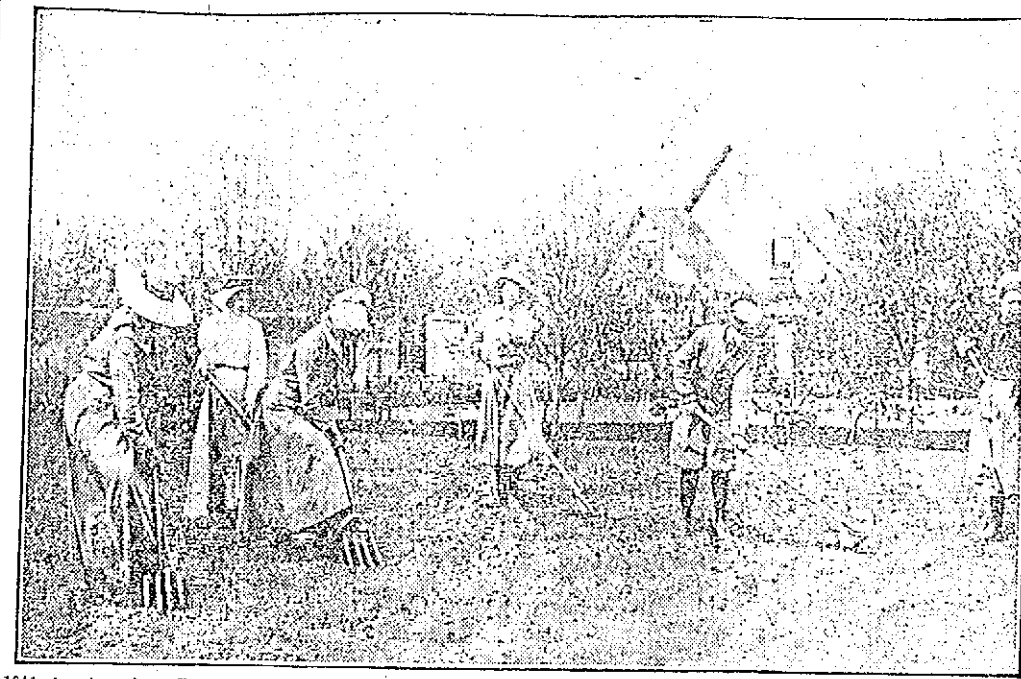

The ingredients, as attested under oath, are: Stone root (Collinsonia canadensis), Bloodroot (Sanguinaria Canadensis), Golden Seal (Hydrastis Canadensis), Queen's root (Sillipia Siliatica), Black Cherrybark (Prunus Virginiana), Mandrake root (Podophyllum peltatum), with triple refined glycerine, prepared in a scientific laboratory in a way that no drug will imitate.

This tonic contains no alcohol to shrink up the red blood corpuscles; but, on the other hand, it increases their number and they become round and healthy. It helps the human system in the constant manufacture of rich, red blood, thereby helping digestion and curing dyspepsia, heart-burn and many uncomfortable symptoms, stops excessive tissue waste in convalescence from fever; for the run-down, anemic, thin-blooded people, the "Discovery" is refreshing and vitalizing. Sick to this safe and sane remedy, and refuse all "just as good" medicines offered by the druggist who is looking for a larger profit. Nothing but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will do you half as much good.

THE CLUB HOUSE OF THE U. S. BUNTING CLUB

NO WEAK BACKS IN THIS CROWD

Latest of all Mrs. Belmont's philanthropic ideas is the "suffrage farm" on Long Island. Moved by the suffering of the shirt waist and other factory workers, Mrs. Belmont determined to give these workers who wanted to learn farming a chance to do so. This they are doing on a portion of her estates in the most scientific manner. Only a certain number of girls can be admitted, and there is a long waiting list, showing that the call of the soil is being heard enthusiastically by these tenement girls.

Jubilant Over Prospects of Fine New Club House

The members of the Bunting club are most enthusiastic over the prospects for the future since the purchase of the Marshall and Green estates of 25 acres in the vicinity of the present grounds which are leased by the club, the lease expiring in 1913.

At last week's meeting of the club a committee consisting of Capt. Philip McNulty, William Dickson and Thomas Wilde, was named to survey the estate and report back as to what should be cleared and put into shape as soon as possible for the purposes of the club. The committee was instructed to report back at the next meeting of the directors. The club desires if possible to have the new place in readiness by the time of the expiration of the lease of the present quarters.

Elaborate plans have been discussed for the new club home which if carried out will make the Bunting the possessor of one of the finest recreation places in New England. Six or eight acres will be cleared at once so as to get the ground in good condition when the lease expires. Then with the size of the entire lot a landscape designer will have no difficulty in planning a quarter mile track enclosing sufficient space for cricket, foot ball and base ball. The majestic woodlands with a stream running through will form a beautiful entrance to the club house and the recreation park. A rustic bridge will span the stream and it will be restocked with trout and pickerel which once were numerous in its waters. The cricket grounds will be so graded as to be flooded for skating in the winter while there will be accommodations for tennis, bowling on the green and a gymnasium.

In connection with the club house, bowling alleys are proposed. The work of clearing away the land will be begun at once and in a short time members will be able to get a good idea of the elaborateness of their new home.

ANNUAL MEETING

Of the Lowell Congregational Club

The members of the Lowell Congregational club held their annual meeting last night at the Draught Centre church. The business meeting with the address was held in the auditorium, which was beautifully decorated with flowers. There were musical numbers by Mr. Albert Harden, vocalist; Miss Pearl Morgan, violin, with Misses Inez Beals and Julia M. Fox accompanying. The meeting was presided over by Rev. A. F. Dunne, in the absence of the president, Mr. L. A. Olney.

The report of the clerk for the year, showed that there have been 33 additions to the membership, and the total number is 178.

Rev. A. C. Forlin, for the home work committee, reported no special activity among the churches except the fact that the pastors are working the Boy Scout idea, or, rather, the Boy Scout idea is working the pastors.

The membership committee reported, and the following officers were elected for the next year: President, Rev. A. F. Dunne; vice-president, Mr. Henry A. Smith; secretary and treasurer, Mr. Louis Alexander.

Home work committee—Rev. F. G. Alger, chairman; Rev. A. C. Forlin, Rev. George F. Koenig, Dr. D. E. Yarnell, Rev. James E. Gregg, Rev. E.

V. Bigelow, Rev. B. A. Willmott, Rev. E. C. Barrett.

Social committee—W. H. Hoyt, chairman; Messrs. L. A. Olney, O. A. Brigham, J. A. Paulkner, Stanley E. Qua; Mrs. C. A. Richardson and Mrs. C. C. Ober.

Membership committee—Harold A. Varnum, chairman; Messrs. S. H. Thompson, Charles H. Clogston, Andrew Liddell, Caleb Smith, C. W. Hoyt, Robert Kennedy, W. H. G. Wright, Mrs. L. A. Olney.

Mr. Edwin C. Johnson, a Boston business man and a representative of the Boston chamber of commerce, was the speaker of the evening, his topic being "The Future of New England." His remarks were very interesting.

Previous to the business meeting a social hour was spent in the parlors and the ladies of the Draught church served one of the suppers for which they are justly famous.

AT WAKEFIELD

NON-COMMISSIONED OFFICERS TO HAVE SCHOOL

To make the non-commissioned officers of the Sixth regiment more effective, and to prepare them for the forthcoming war maneuvers of the state militia in July, there will be a non-commissioned officers' school established at Wakefield next Sunday. Staff officers of the Sixth and other regiments will be present, and also Lieut. Marshall, 17th infantry, U. S. A. There will be a tactical walk, and an instructive talk by Lieut. Marshall.

Lieut. Marshall, who is to be the instructing officer at Wakefield next Sunday, was camp instructor at South Framingham last summer and created a lasting impression among the officers and non-coms. Every day there was school for an hour and Lieut. Marshall in his talks was always sure of holding the interest of the men.

He is accurate in his knowledge and not only that but has the faculty of imparting this knowledge clearly and forcibly, of stating a fact and driving it home to stay in the minds of his hearers. The non-coms of the 6th will no doubt be glad of the opportunity to listen once more to this officer.

MARRIAGE ANNIVERSARY

A very pleasant musical was held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Walker, the occasion being the ninth anniversary of their marriage.

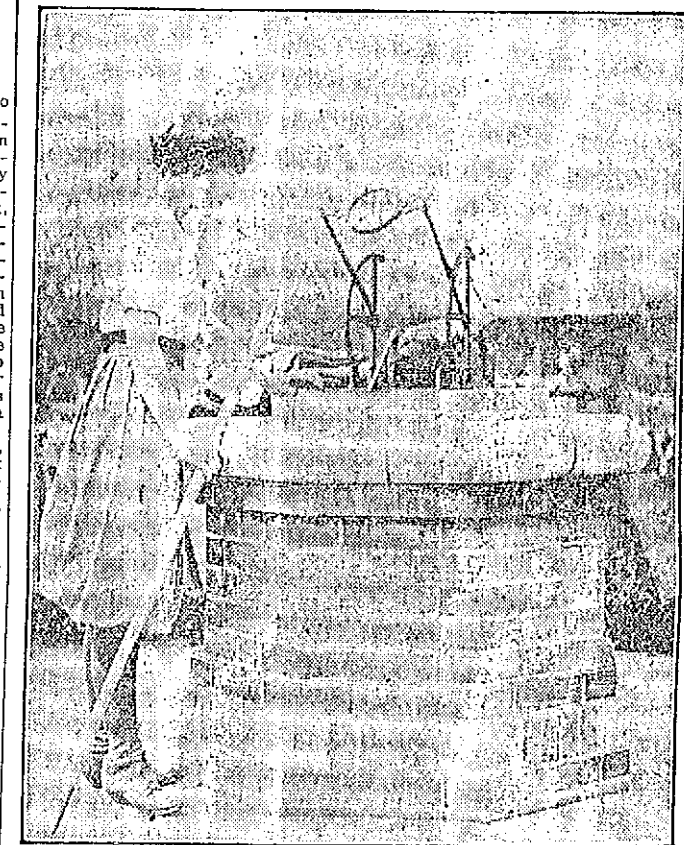

Mr. Collins gave a soprano solo, Mrs. Blanche Greenwood played violin selections assisted by Miss Finnegan as pianist. Miss K. Reddy played with solos, and little Glenn Walker sang a pretty lullaby song and "Dremland."

Refreshments were served.

THE BORROWER

IS THE MOST BOTHERSOME PERSON KNOWN

Of all the maddening people in the world women who borrow things are the worst. They are the shiftless ones of the earth, those who live on others, and as long as they can borrow from others they will never take the trouble to acquire anything for themselves or to take care of or keep in order anything.

Sometimes it will be found that women borrow because they have not the means to buy. As a rule, they are poor because they are wasteful, and they will smash as readily the things they borrow as they have already destroyed their own things.

People with "bird hands" rarely amount to anything. Beware of trusting in important matters the woman who is forever smashing teacups, taking the handles off baskets, the heads off pins, scratching and cutting furniture, blunting scissors, etc. She has not the saving, preserving instinct and will not know how to look after your interests any more than she has the inanimate things in her charge.

There are some that build and some that tear down in this world, and those who can take something had and make it into something good are the ones to cling to, not vice versa.

Borrowers, as a rule, belong to the destroying class. They are shiftless and mentally lazy, so they do not like to go to the trouble of thinking before-hand as to whether they have the necessary things.

They prefer to depend on some neighbor, whose brain consequently has to work for both.

Nothing is more discouraging, indeed, than to be a good provider, an orderly person, and go to your desk or shelf or closet at a certain time, expecting to find a certain article, only to find it missing because it has been borrowed, or worse still, out of working order or broken.

Borrowers should be worse than discouraged; they should be "cut out" entirely from one's acquaintance.

that the Common street side is the most congested district for people who have been housed up in factories during the day and that it is absolutely necessary that the seats should be placed on that side of the common. He says that the parks are for rest and enjoyment, and that it should not be expected that the aged and sick should stand and sweeter while seeking to enjoy the benefits of the breathing grounds that they are taxed for.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

A very enthusiastic meeting of the members of St. John's parish was held last night in St. John's church to make arrangements for the annual gala and field day to be conducted at Nabnasset grove on July 4th by St. John's and St. Catherine's parishes. The meeting was called to order at 7:30 by Rev. Fr. Doherty who was pleased with the attendance at the meeting despite the storm. He said that knowing that the members of the parish were so willing to come out last night made him feel that he had their full support and co-operation in all his undertakings. Fr. Doherty is general manager of the affair and he is to be assisted by a committee of five from St. John's parish and a like committee from St. Catherine's parish. These committees to be appointed at a meeting to be held in Grantville tomorrow night. The committee from St. John's parish is William J. Quigley, Michael Scollan, John McQuaid, Mary Tobin and Loretta Ward, who will appoint all the sub-committees from the parish. It is the intention of the committee to make this affair one grand success socially as well as financially and an event that will be anticipated each year by the people of St. John's and St. Catherine's parishes. The affair will start in the morning and continue throughout the day with dancing in the afternoon and evening.

CARDINAL GIBBONS

Is Highly Honored by the Nation's Leaders

Pres. Taft Paid High Tribute to His Virtues—15,000 Persons Present at the Reception—Gov. Crothers Was the Presiding Officer

BALTIMORE, June 7.—Cardinal Gibbons missed his afternoon walk yesterday for the first time in years, one of the very few in the 25 years that he has been the only prince of the Catholic church in the United States.

Instead of an afternoon stroll over the streets of Baltimore, listening to the troubles of "his people," he sat on a temporary stage in the 5th regiment armory and listened to the great man of the nation speak in eulogy of him.

President Taft, Vice-President Sherman, Chief Justice White, former President Roosevelt, Ambassador Bryce of Great Britain, Speaker Clark, Senator Root of New York, Gov. Crothers of Maryland, former Speaker Cannon and Mayor Preston of Baltimore sat with the cardinal and all of them, except the chief justice, spoke in praise of him. Among the 600 guests seated on the platform behind the president, the cardinal and the other speakers, were more than a score of senators and members of the house of representatives. The armory holds 15,000 people, and it was crowded.

President Escorts Cardinal

The cardinal sat in a red plush chair in the center of the stage. To his right was President Taft, then came former President Roosevelt and Chief Justice White. On the cardinal's left were Gov. Crothers of Maryland, Ambassador Bryce, Speaker Clark and Representative Cannon. The ovation that greeted Col. Roosevelt as he came up the steps with Chief Justice White was remarkable, but the one which greeted the cardinal as he climbed the stairs with President Taft was far more remarkable.

The cardinal wore the red robe, the skull cap of red and the deep green ring of office. Through all the speeches he sat smiling, every changing expression of his wrinkled and kindly face and his bright eyes attesting the pleasure that the tribute afforded him.

He smiled like a boy when President Taft introduced him to Colonel Roosevelt. He laughed with glee when the chief justice shook his hand, and the glow of a grin flickered over his face when Speaker Clark, mixing for a moment politics with religion, declared that he had been a potent force for good "among both Catholics and republicans."

The President's Encomiums
Following Governor Crothers, who presided, President Taft spoke, saying:

"This assembly, I venture to say, can find few counterparts in history. We are met as American citizens to congratulate the American prime of one of the great churches of the world upon the 25th anniversary of his accession to the highest office in his church but one, and upon the 50th anniversary of his entering the church as one of its priests.

GREAT WELCOME

Madero's Entrance Into Mexico City Occasion for Ovation

Score of Other Trains Escorted Madero's Train to the Capital - Remarkable Demonstration in the Capital City - Big Parade in His Honor

MEXICO CITY, June 7.—Amid the wildest confusion Francisco Madero today entered the seat of the government which he overthrown.

Thronged in behind Madero's carriage as it passed along the street until a great noisy but friendly procession had been formed. Scores of civilian societies, political organizations, women in carriages and soldiers in parade uniform moved on to the quick step music of the military bands.

It was a spectacle stirring and unusual but amid the popular rejoicing a close observer could detect an undercurrent of resentment on the part of the unreconciled aristocracy that looked on silent, though not unmoved.

Rumors of plots against the hero of the day were rife as well as reports that secret arrests had been suddenly made. Antonio Villacencia, former chief of police, was taken into custody last night. Immunity as members of the house of deputies is said to have stayed the arm of the law against others alleged to have been implicated in a plot, the discovery of which was followed by the arrest of W. L. Dunn, an American, at Monterey, and Daniel Devilliers, a former police head. These two men are accused of being at the head of the plotters.

Madero's special train was preceded to the capital by a score of other trains which went up the line yesterday to participate in the demonstration enroute and escort the rebel general to the city. The occupants of these trains filled the platforms of the stations where stops were made, but the general public remained outside, held in restraint through fear of a too enthusiastic demonstration on its part.

Madero was greeted by Senora Serdan, one of the heroines of the rebellion, who banded him a laurel wreath. Senora Serdan is the widow of one of the first revolutionary conspirators to lose his life. His home in Pueblo in preparation for the revolt was used as a storehouse for rifles and ammunition. The secret was discovered by the government and Serdan was killed in defending his home.

When the husband told his wife and her two sisters seized rifles and continued the resistance until they were overpowered. The women were thrown into jail, where they languished for months. With the triumph of the Madero party, a Serdan society was formed here and Senora Serdan was brought to the capital to greet the man for whose cause she and her family had suffered so much. The little woman tendered the wreath without a word. What Madero said could not be heard above the din that greeted the incident.

A brief address of welcome was made by Dr. Cuatrecasas Hidalgo, after which a parade was formed. The various bodies participating had been at the rendezvous since daybreak and each had been assigned a position in the line, into which it fell at the proper moment.

Banners bearing Madero's likeness were everywhere mingled with the rational colors and slogans of the revolution. Looming larger than all others were banners bearing the single word "Order." These were intended to influence the populace to restrain the more turbulent impulses. Shopkeepers as a rule were inclined to be on the safe side and generally the windows of their places were shuttered.

From the railroad station the procession moved through the streets to the park at the national palace and held in restraint through fear of a too enthusiastic demonstration on its part.

MANAGER OF ST. LOUIS CARDINALS AND SOME OF HIS STARS

ST. LOUIS, June 7.—Baseball experts all over the country have been figuring only four clubs—New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and Pittsburgh—in the hunt for the pennant in the National league. Not one word has been said about the St. Louis Cardinals, yet that team has been going along lately winning games with great regularity. At the present stage of the race the Cardinals are in fifth place, but half a dozen games behind the leading team. Any one who thinks Roger Bresnahan's boys are out of the race has another guess coming to him. If the Cardinals play as well as they did on their recent eastern trip, when they won eleven games and lost four, it will not be long before they are right around the top rung of the ladder fighting for the main position. Bresnahan's pitchers are going along very nicely, and if they can keep at it the team will open the eyes of the experts who figured them out of the hunt. Salles, the Cardinals' star southpaw, is in fine form. Konetchy is playing a great game at first. Ellis has shown a big improvement in his outfield playing and is battling the ball hard. Pitcher Harmon has improved over last season's form and is now one of the Cardinals' winning

College Man to Teach Labrador People

BOSTON, June 7.—Huckleberries, blueberries, gooseberries and cranberries will soon be growing in Labrador if C. Martyn Spencer, an energetic young graduate of the McDonald Agricultural college in Montreal, in his experiments is successful. Spencer, who is a cousin of Dr. Wilfred Grenfell, sailed out of Boston harbor today aboard the missionary schooner Lorna Doone to devote his life to teaching the natives of Labrador how to help themselves in the matter of raising crops.

Interesting in connection with the young college man's venture is the fact that the schooner on which he sailed is making her last voyage northward. For years the Lorna Doone has been the only link between the lonely mission in Labrador and civilization. The faithful old craft is to be sold and its place taken by the George Clewett, a fine three-masted auxiliary schooner now nearing completion in New York.

DR. HUNTINGTON PRESIDES OVER COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

BOSTON, June 7.—The last Boston university commencement over which President William E. Huntington will preside was held in Tremont temple today. Dr. Huntington retires at the close of the college year.

Conspicuous among the large number of graduates who received degrees today were four women from the law school. Miss Mary A. Bradbury of Saco, Me., was one of them and she was graduated with high honors. If she is successful in passing the bar examinations she intends entering practice with her father, who is a Saco lawyer. The others were Carl L. Cudworth, Sadie M. Elmer and Charlotte A. Perkins, all of greater Boston. The temple was packed to the door with relatives and friends of the graduates when Dewitt Clinton Huntington, chancellor emeritus of Nebraska Wesleyan university, offered the prayer. Hamilton Wright Malbis of New York delivered the address of the day.

CLOSING DAY OF THE PLAY FOR WOMAN'S GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

NEWTON, June 7.—The third and closing day of the championship play of the Women's Eastern Golf association tournament found two Philadelphia women fighting it out for first place, with Boston for the first time since the association was formed six years ago will lose the eastern championship.

Mrs. Ronald Barlow of the Merion Cricket club, Philadelphia, had only to maintain an approach to the same form she has shown in the last two days of play to come out an easy winner. Her nearest competitor is Mrs. C. F. Fox, also of the Quaker city, who showed up so well in her second 18 holes yesterday that she jumped from sixth to second place, although still ten strokes behind Mrs. Barlow for the 36 holes.

COURT CROWDED To Hear Charges of Harvard Students

BOSTON, June 7.—An eager throng of spectators crowded into the municipal court today to hear the testimony in the case of William Crapo, an aged retired mariner, who yesterday pleaded guilty of throwing sulphuric acid at a party of Harvard students who had called at his lodging house on Massachusetts avenue, this city, for the purpose of inducing three young ladies looking there to take an automobile ride to Providence early Sunday morning. Crapo, who is 74 years old, was released yesterday on bail of $300 and was ordered to appear in court today for sentence.

In the meantime the authorities at Harvard summoned four students who were said to have been implicated in the matter to the office of the dean. As a result of this conference between the dean and students three of them are said by one of their number to have been suspended for the remainder of the college year while the case of the fourth will be acted upon today.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Otto Knabe, second baseman of the Philadelphia Nationals, was suspended for three days by President Lynch today for his trouble with Umpire Emalle in this game at Cincinnati yesterday.

BIG CONFERENCE OF CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS OPENS TONIGHT

BOSTON, June 7.—Anticipating a record attendance at the annual conference of charities and corrections, which opens in Tremont temple tonight, officials of the organization have secured seven of the city's large halls for the extensive and varied program of the coming week. Many of the more prominent workers have already arrived and today's registration showed a long list of delegates from the larger centres of the country. Permanent headquarters for the officials of the conference were established during the day in the rooms of the Boston university law school.

The problem of prison labor was the subject for the first meeting of the conference tonight.

JOHN DILLON REPORTED TO BE NOT SERIOUSLY INJURED

BOSTON, June 7.—A cable message received from Dublin today by John O'Callaghan, national secretary of the United Irish league of America, from Joseph Devlin, secretary of the United Irish league in Ireland, stated that the injuries sustained by John Dillon, M. P., in his automobile accident Monday are not serious. "Dillon all right" is the message sent by Mr. Devlin.

WM. R. WITHERHEAD

Former Lowell Man in Accident at Los Angeles, Cal.

In a recent issue of the Los Angeles Examiner the following article, relative to a serious electric car accident appeared:

"Thundering down hill like a sled on an icy slope yesterday afternoon, Car No. 117 of the First and Sixth street loop struck the curve at Sixth and Alvarado streets, leaped like a kangaroo twenty feet through the air and crashed straight through the concrete walls of the Los Angeles School of Art and Design.

Three passengers and the motorist and conductor were but slightly injured. That it was no worse is credited to the coolness of the motorist, W. R. Witherhead, who stuck at his post until the shock hurled him from the car. The front vestibule of the coach was crushed in and the cement and stucco steps in the art school were crushed and pulverized.

The accident happened within sight of hundreds of people who were seated in Westlake park. In slipping down the South Alvarado street hill toward the curve, the car made a roaring sound that could be heard far blocks around. Had it been crowded, it is thought that many would have been killed, but as but three passengers were aboard, they had both time and space in which to prepare themselves for the shock. With one exception, they escaped with slight cuts and bruises.

Mrs. Howard Hunter, 18 years old, living at No. 218 North Fremont street, was the most seriously injured. In addition to a cut on her forehead and bruises on many portions of her body, she is said to have received internal injuries.

Her husband, Howard Hunter, 25, a contractor, received abrasions on right forearm and slight bruises on right leg. Mildred Smith, 11 years old, a school girl living at No. 1812 Ocean View avenue, had her left hand slightly bruised and cut. A. K. Walker, 22 years old, conductor of the car, fainted after passengers were safely out of the car. He was taken to the Crocker Street hospital but no serious injuries were found. W. R. Witherhead, 39 years old, motorist, had his left knee and right hip badly bruised.

The motorist, W. R. Witherhead, who is so highly complimented, is a former resident of this city. He resided at 80 Manchester street. He left Lowell about eight months ago and has since resided in Los Angeles, Cal. He was for many years employed as a motorist on the Boston & Northern road here, during which time he made many friends. He is a popular member of the local Aerie of Eagles and his host of friends will undoubtedly

FINAL SESSION

Of St. Vincent de Paul Convention

BOSTON, June 7.—The final session of the annual convention of the society of St. Vincent de Paul, the international charitable organization, was continued into the afternoon in order to carry out the concluding business of the convention. The delegates listened to an address by Richard C. Gannon, president of the particular council of Chicago, on "The spiritual side of the society," after which the meeting was thrown open for general discussion. Mr. Gannon considered "The spiritual advantages of membership in the society."

"Members who have a vocation for real charitable endeavor find extraordinary opportunities of widening the scope of the Vincentian effort," said the speaker. "Thus, if members have acquired an abiding consciousness of the primary object of the society, if they persevere in the resolutions taken at the time of entering the ranks, their opportunities of learning and doing good works will prove to be almost endless. Today there are social problems, the equitable solution of which require the sympathy and spirit of Vincentians. There is an urgent need of an increase in the number of members—members who possess not alone the sturdy virtues of the pioneers, but who are also universally blessed with the means of helping the poor. Men of this type have an almost unlimited field to work for God and neighbor."

HOTEL MEN VISIT LEXINGTON

BOSTON, June 7.—Automobiles carrying scores of hotel men from all parts of the country and their families, today clumped up the muddy roads over which Paul Revere galloped in 1776. It had been raining all night but when the delegates to the Hotelmen's Mutual Benefit Association convention climbed into the machines the sun suddenly broke through the clouds. A delightful summer day favored the visitors on their trip to historic Lexington.

BRIDE ARRESTED

She is Charged With Larceny

PHILADELPHIA, June 7.—As she buried herself in the arrangement of her new home at 223 North Wanamaker street, where she has been a bride of 48 hours, Mrs. Mary White, a young woman, was arrested by Detective Long and Clear yesterday and taken to city hall, where she was publicly accused of being a thief and was held to await the action of the Newport, R. I., authorities.

The detectives declare the young woman to be a fugitive from justice and say she is wanted at the fashionable Newport colony for the theft of thousands of dollars' worth of jewelry and valuables belonging to a wealthy resident.

A string of black money beads, sacred with the memories of an honored ancestor, proved the remnants, which reached from a rich Newport home to a Philadelphia bridal suite and led to the arrest.

Remorse, it is said, over the theft of the rosary and fear that the possession of the sacred beads would bring ill-luck and disaster in her new married life, are said to have prompted the young woman to send the stolen beads back to her former employer.

The postmark on the envelope returned was the clue upon which the detectives worked to bring about the arrest of the bride.

RICH MAN'S SON

Was Given a Prison Sentence

BOSTON, June 7.—Robert Schumaker, a graduate of a Chicago university and the son of Robert F. Schumaker of Chicago, a wealthy business man of that city, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Hardy in the superior criminal court, East Cambridge, to serve three to four years at hard labor at the State prison, following his plea of guilty to breaking and entering.

COLONEL ROOSEVELT

Will Support President Taft for Renomination

WASHINGTON, June 7.—President Taft, in his candidacy for the presidential nomination in 1912, will receive the unqualified endorsement of ex-President Theodore Roosevelt, which will be uttered just as cordially as it was prior to the campaign of 1908.

This is the best political news Mr. Taft has received in many months, and it comes to him in a manner that leaves no doubt as to its authenticity. The information that Col. Roosevelt, under no circumstances, will allow his own name to be presented to the republican national convention was conveyed to the White House several days ago, but it did not become known until last night.

That Col. Roosevelt feels that the Taft administration should be continued was brought out partly as the result of a cordial greeting between the two men at the Cardinal Gibbons' jubilee in Baltimore yesterday.

Whether the Roosevelt approval of Mr. Taft's candidacy will go far enough to take the ex-president into the campaign as an active stump speaker is problematical, but that the force of his personality will be with the president is assured.

This fact is not expected to prove pleasing to republicans who have made no secret of their desire to bring Col. Roosevelt forward as a formidable rival for the 1912 nomination. Many of these republicans no doubt will refuse to abandon hope until Col. Roosevelt has brought out a statement announcing his position and thus breaks the silence concerning the administration which he has maintained since landing in New York on his return from his African hunt.

The information that Col. Roosevelt would be found aligned with the president, rather than against him, was brought directly to Mr. Taft from Mr. Roosevelt, by a mutual friend high in official life, who was connected with both the Roosevelt and Taft administrations in a capacity that enabled him to gain and retain the confidence in fact the warm personal friendship of both men.

The meeting at Baltimore between the president and Mr. Roosevelt was only incidental to the celebration of the Cardinal Gibbons' jubilee, but it was an incident that awakened the political interest of the senators and congressmen and others in official life who saw the two men together.

JUDGE HADLEY

Calls Attention to New Law

At this morning's session of the police court, Judge Hadley called the attention of the lawyers and newspapermen to the fact that a new law relative to the neglect of wife or minor child or children would go into effect on June 17th whereby if in the discretion of the judge the offender was sentenced to a jail or other institution he could be put to work and a sum equal to 50 cents per day be paid over to the probation officer at the end of each week, that money to be used for the care of the wife or minor child or children in case that either or all are in destitute circumstances.

Heretofore Judge Hadley in dealing with non support cases, while having the power to send the man to jail, deemed it advisable to place the offender in the custody of the probation officer, for in the event of the man being sent to jail his wife and family would suffer. In many cases the offender after being placed on probation has left town or refused to contribute support.

New, however, if there is any doubt that the offender will not work he can be sent to jail and the wife is sure of securing $3 per week.

INVESTIGATING WHEAT "CORNER"

CHICAGO, June 7.—The recent "corner" in May wheat is under investigation by United States District Attorney Sims, according to a report circulated among brokerage offices yesterday. Mr. Sims is non-committal in regard to the matter.

ALLEGED BURGLAR CAUGHT

BOSTON, June 7.—When Max Kalish awoke today and saw a man rummaging about his room in the South End he said nothing. But when the man crept out of the window Max hurriedly pulled on some clothes and gave chase, shouting for the police as he went. It was raining hard. The robber was outfooting Kalish when Patrolman Clemenson turned a street corner and joined the pursuit. The man saw he was soon to be overtaken and he pulled out a revolver as he slowed his pace. Clemenson kept right on. Before the burglar could pull the trigger he was rolling in the muddy street locked in the bluecoat's arms. When Kalish arrived the robber was being led toward a patrol box. He was booked at the police station as George Diab, 26, who has just finished serving a long term in prison.

EX-JUDGE GARY A WITNESS

WASHINGTON, June 7.—E. H. Gary, head of the United States steel corporation, was a witness again today before the Stanley Steel trust investigating committee of the house. Mr. Gary was interrogated further by Rep. Littleton on the absorption of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Co. by the steel corporation.

6000 ON STRIKE

CLEVELAND, O., June 7.—Six thousand union garment workers went out on a strike at 10 o'clock today. The strike is an exact duplicate, it is said, of the one in New York a year ago, not so much a question of dollars and cents as a demand for recognition of the union.

ANNUAL OUTINGS

Of the Clerks' Benefit Associations

The members of the A. G. Pollard Mutual Benefit association are now talking about their annual excursion or outing which is to take place soon. The association is in a very good financial condition. Its officers are: Robert Young, president; Lawrence Jordan, vice president; Lee Taylor, secretary; Miss Marie Jutras, collector; Miss Bertha Harshorn and Mr. Napoleon Lozeau, auditors.

The officers of this association are: H. Worth, president; J. McNabb, vice president; Miss Rohan, secretary; J. T. Henry, treasurer; Miss White, auditor.

with the postal authorities arrangements were made whereby the route on the street was divided and the carriers started from the office earlier and now the mail of the business section is delivered in some cases, before the business houses are open.

The board received a committee representing the Postal Clerks and Carriers' association in regard to the closing of the delivery windows on Sunday and proposed resolutions in favor of closing the same. The Sunday closing is in no way to interfere with the delivery of special mail or box service.

Attention was called to the collection cards on the street boxes throughout the city. In many cases the routing matter was obliterated and the time of collection did not agree with the stated time.

The matter of delivering mail to people at the delivery windows without being identified or signed for was called to the attention of the postmaster and assurance was given that people receiving mail at the office would sign their name and address before receiving mail in the future.

Arrangements were made whereby a collection of mail from all street boxes in the business district will be made as late as 9 p. m. so that all mail will be forwarded on the last train to Boston each night insuring early delivery the next day.

SUNDAY TRAINS

The initiative for the drafting of a new city charter was instituted by the Lowell board of trade. The directors in meeting assembled endorsed the movement and a committee of sixty representative men from all sections of the city was selected to discuss the matter of a new charter. The first meeting resulted in the choice of William H. Wilson as chairman and John H. Murphy as secretary, and weekly meetings were held at the rooms of the board of trade to discuss the merits of the various phases of commission form of government.

Speakers were secured from cities having the commission form of government and mass meetings were held throughout the city in an endeavor to obtain popular opinions and suggestions in regard to the final draft.

A draft was prepared by a committee of eight representative men of the committee and the matter thoroughly discussed, section by section, at the meetings of the committee.

The bill was submitted to the legislature and a public hearing held upon the matter, and if the legislature passes the bill a campaign of education will be conducted before the time for voting upon the matter.

River Bank Park

The committee appointed by the board for the purpose of securing the land between the river and the new county highway between Lowell and Lawrence has been diligently at work and has succeeded in securing a map showing the river, the land and the road.

A map has been placed in the hands of the Massachusetts Commission of Public Reservations for investigation and it is the earnest desire of the committee that the Lowell and Lawrence Co. and the Essex Co. will allow the land to be held in trust by the public reservation commission. The secretary of the commission, Mr. John Woodbury, is highly enthusiastic over the project and we can rest assured that his hearty co-operation in this matter.

Merrimack River Navigation

The Lowell board of trade was represented at the convention of delegates of the Merrimack Valley Waterway association held at Salisbury July 14, 1910, at which time a general discussion of the improvements of the river was held. The adverse report of Col. Burr, chief of the engineering corps in regard to the river has hampered the progress of the undertaking, but it seems possible with the right kind of agitation, by the compiling of certain statistics showing the advantages to accrue from the use of the river that the matter could be reopened. Much could be done with the aid of the congressmen of the district, in bringing the claims of the people of this valley to the attention of the authorities at Washington.

Licensing of Newsboys

A matter which received the commendation of the general public, was the matter of licensing the newsboys of Lowell. A set of rules and regulations was discussed and presented to the school board with the request that it direct its attention to the licensing of newsboys.

The matter is now well regulated, boys are never seen on the street after 8 p. m., little girls are prohibited from selling papers, and the business is regulated in a first rate manner.

Industrial School

The board has taken an active part in encouraging the establishment of an industrial school in Lowell. The lecture by Charles S. Prosser, of the Mass. state board of education before the sociology department of the Middlesex Women's club was widely advertised and members invited to attend, and a petition was sent to the school board and the city council asking that an investigation be made to determine the need of such a school in Lowell.

Housing Problem

The committee on public health has been engaged for some time in procuring a tenement house act, which shall be presented to the city council to be enacted as an ordinance governing the erection, maintenance, and alteration of buildings within the city limits.

The matter will shortly be completed.

City Beautiful

Thousands of feet of bill boards have been removed by a campaign conducted by the City Beautiful Committee. That these bill boards are a disfigurement and a menace to the community, everyone will agree, and our city is as free from this nuisance as any city of its size. The committee is advised of any new boards to be erected and would appreciate the co-operation of all property owners in refusing to allow the erection of boards in front of or on their property.

During the year the last of the boards along the property of the city were removed and many owners of private property were appealed to and boards removed.

Municipal Affairs

During the year the committee on municipal affairs has been quite active. A set of traffic regulations was drawn up, a hearing held upon the merits of the rules and they finally presented to the city government to be acted upon in the form of an ordinance.

The regulations will tend to avoid congestion in the business sections and act as a safeguard against accidents. They also tend to establish uniform driving, stopping and crossing rules.

Conventions

Many conventions have been held in Lowell during the year and the benefits accruing from these conventions are obvious.

Following is the list of organizations which have held conventions during the year:

Ancient Order of Hibernians.
State Association of Stationary Engineers.
Carpenters Union.
Bricklayers Union.
Mass. Firemen's Relief Association.
Spanish War Veterans.
Mass. Home Furnishers Association.

Lay Out of Streets

Through the initiative of the board the legislature passed a bill ordering all streets laid out within the city to be approved by the mayor, superintendent of streets and the city engineer.

The advantages of the bill are many. New streets will have to be put to grade and laid out in a direction approved by the city officers. This bill will protect the development of the city from further irregularities in the lay-out of streets.

The committee has also arranged with Mr. Freeman E. Shedd for the grant of land along Rogers street to provide for the widening thereof.

In Memoriam

During the year it has been the sad experience of the organization to lose by death three of its members and at this time it seems proper to mention the names of President Charles H. Conant, George W. Fildford, and Simon Cavanaugh, all of whom were loyal members.

Conclusion

The general interests of the city of Lowell are represented by the board of trade. The scope of the projects considered is broad, and unselfishly directed, and the results obtained are of particular but of general advantage. The work of the board is a power for good and the influence of the organization is ever increasing.

The opportunities for the year have been great, and the results satisfactory. If Lowell is to keep pace with the growth of her sister cities the board of trade must be depended upon as a material factor in this development and must be accorded such support as is in keeping with the importance of the work.

Respectfully submitted,
John H. Murphy,
Sec'y Lowell board of trade.

A CRY FOR HELP!

dogma," Col. Roosevelt said, "they unite on what counts more than dogma, conduct. We read news and then about people complaining that the churches are growing smaller, and that they are losing their influence. But there will be no complaints in the future if that church makes as its cardinal principle the rendering of service to the people. No church will have to defend itself so long as those who are high in that church devote themselves to the people as you, Cardinal Gibbons, have devoted yourself to them."

"We will see presidents who are Catholics as well as presidents who are Protestants, and we will see presidents who are Gentiles."

"The cardinal has fought for the lowly. He has shown by his life that justice can come only through law and order. He has set an example for all of us by the things for which he has striven and the way in which he has striven."

Praised by Senator Root

"Words," said Senator Root, "however eloquent, are but feeble in expressing the meaning of such an assemblage as this. Cardinal Gibbons illustrates the union or service to the state and service to God. He is a bulwark against atheism and anarchy, a bulwark against the tearing down of morality and government upon which the foundations of our country depend."

"The affection for Cardinal Gibbons," said Speaker Clark, "is just as strong west of the great river as it is east. He has been a potent force for good among both Catholics and republicans. No man ever served in either house of congress or both as long as he; no man ever served on the supreme bench that long; only one judge has ever sat as long as Cardinal Gibbons; only one officer of the navy and no officer of the army has served that long. I wish him peace, prosperity and length of days."

Cardinal Gibbons' Address

Cardinal Gibbons said: "I am filled with emotions of gratitude by this extraordinary manifestation on the part of my fellow-citizens, without distinction of race or religion or condition of life, and I am overwhelmed with confusion by the unmerited encomiums which have been pronounced by the president of the United States, the vice-president, the chief justice of the United States, the former president, the speaker of the house of representatives, the governor of Maryland and the mayor of Baltimore."

"Gentlemen, you have portrayed your subject, not, I fear as he is, but as he should be. But your portrait is so attractive that it shall be my endeavor to resemble it more and more, every day of the few years that remain to me. One merit only I can truly claim, and that is an ardent love for my native country and her political institutions. Ever since I entered the sacred ministry my aim has been to make those over whom I exerted any influence not only more upright Christians, but also more loyal citizens. For the most faithful Christian makes the best citizen."

Republic Precious Heirloom

"I consider the republic of the United States one of the most precious heirlooms ever bestowed on mankind down

of a Supreme Being who created all things by His power, and whose superintending Providence watches over the affairs of nations and of men."

"When the framers of our immortal constitution were in session Benjamin Franklin complained to his colleagues of the small progress they had made after several weeks of deliberation. He used these memorable words: 'We have spent many days in fruitless discussion. We have been groping in the dark, because we have not sought light from the Father of Light to illumine our understanding. I have lived, he continued, for many years, and the

"It is true, indeed, that there is no official union of church and state in this country. But we must not infer from this that there is any antagonism between the civil and religious authorities. Far from it—the church and state move on parallel lines. They mutually assist one another. The state holds over the spiritual rulers the aegis of its protection without interfering with the sacred and God-given rights of conscience. And the church, on her part, helps to enforce the civil laws by moral and religious sanctions."

Great Captain on Bridge

"I fear that we do not fully realize and are not duly grateful for the anxious cares by which our chief magistrates and the heads of the co-ordinate branches of the government are preoccupied in the discharge of their official duties. And these cares are the price which is paid for our domestic peace and comfort and the tranquillity of the commonwealth. When the traveler in mid-ocean is buffeted by the waves he feels a sense of security, because he knows that the captain and his officers are at the post of duty. So do we securely rest on our pillows because we are conscious that our Great Captain and his associates in office are diligently steering the ship of state."

"It is the duty of us all, churchmen and laymen, to hold up the hands of our president, as Aaron and Hur stayed up the hands of Moses."

"Let us remember that our chief executive, and all subordinate magistrates are the accredited agents and ministers of God, and are clothed with divine authority, and, therefore, it is our duty and should be our delight to aid them by every means in our power in guiding and controlling the destiny of our glorious republic."
